NEW ORLEANS BEE

MARINE INTELLIGENCE

WASHINGTON, April 27.

An established American man of business, is at this time in the city of New Orleans, making necessary arrangements for the establishment of a Manufactory of Cotton Goods. Persons competent to perform the various branches of the manufacture, and desirous of obtaining employment in this enterprise, are requested to communicate with the agent, at 30 Royal Street, New Orleans.

For the benefit of the public, it is announced that the late President of the United States, Mr. John Adams, has been elected to the position of President of the Bank of the United States. His election, though not generally expected, has met with general approbation.

The affairs of the Bank of the United States are said to be in a prosperous condition, and the public is assured that the institution will continue to carry on its business in a successful manner.

The new Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. William H. Crawford, has been actively engaged in the management of the public affairs, and has already won the esteem and confidence of the country.

The House of Representatives has been in session for several weeks, and has made many important measures. Among these is the passage of a bill providing for the establishment of a new system of education in the United States. This measure has met with general approval, and is expected to be signed by the President.

The Senators have been equally active, and have passed several important bills. Among these is a measure providing for the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia. This measure has been opposed by many sectionalists, but has been passed by a large majority of the Senate.

The Supreme Court of the United States has been in session, and has rendered several important decisions. Among these is the case of McCulloch vs. Maryland, in which the Court declared the national bank act to be a valid law of the United States.

The military situation in the West is said to be critical, with the United States Army engaged in a number of engagements with the Confederates. The President has called for additional troops, and the situation is said to be improving.

The public is warned to be alert for any developments in the current crisis, and to support the efforts of the government in maintaining the Union.

The New Orleans Bee, April 27, 1838.

W. R. THURSTON, Printer.