Ro-bisson, Mr King of Alabama, Mr King, of Georgia, United States Senators, and Mr. Cave Johnson mem-ber of Congress from Tennessee. The number at preodingany would make that friends and mes were disappointed at the draining of the lat section between 8t Charde street and the Bayou; for there was no filtration through the embankment, and the draining was successful; but it was plain that no profits were ing was successful; but it was plain that no profits were to be gained, on the contrary, it is now beyond doubt, if the company submit to the apprelements which have been made of the lands, and should continue its operations on that footing, that a heavy loss would be the result. As matters now stand the operations of the company are, we suppose, to be suspedied until it settles its difficulties with the land owners. Of the lat section, by having the any siscements legally annulled or amended, or by a compromise made in some way or other. How long the delay consequent on this will lest it would not be easy to say. A law suit may grow out of it—and could the company these get into the hands of the lawyers, we fear that the duration of the charter will be taken up in littlestion; and thus it runs charter will be taken up in litigation; and thus it runs the risk of being soon so 'scompes' as to make it necessary to 'drain' its coffers in order to 'clear up' the section,' not of find, but of the law.

It is possible, however, that the matter will not be settled with regard to the first section, without some litigation. But by all means we advise the company not to precede one step towards the draining of an another section, before its interests are made secure, and a proper remuneration gratranteed to the stock.

and a proper remuneration guaranteed to the stock-holdens for the sum to be invested. But can this be done under the present system is laid-down in the charter of the company? We think not. Is it not see plain, from the test of experience, that the adopted mode of making two appraisments, (one before and the other after draining), and dividing the gain above exticipated, to nearly as much as it will bring when drained. Then what will be the gain of the company? Nothing! for the difference between the first and the rounds: for the difference between the first and the second appraisance will be trifling historic. The appraisance cannot be expected to difference where of the reality, as it at present exists, and proceed the macine in the same situation as if the charter had never been passed. This would require a power of mental abstrac-tion, and a moiety of tact and calculation of which, per-the last, on the rate of appraisement; and some of them even consider the appraisements too low. Will the company mend its affairs by plunging into law suits? Certainly not. What then is to be done? In our opinion there is but one remedy-an amendment of the Charter of the Company. Let an enactment be produced to this effect: that as fast as a section is drained, an estimate shall be made, by legally tion is drained, an estimate shall be made, by legally appointed inspectors, of the expense of the company in reclaiming the section; then, when a sale of the land is effected, the expenses of the company shall be paid out of the proceeds of the sale, with a premium of ten or twelve per cent on said expenses, till refunded to the company: and that the owners of property should be free to buy; it in, giving their notes for their necessity of the sale with the company. proportion of the expenses and premium. The cause of Democrace in Vermont is in a very flourishing condition. The homination of Mr Bradley for Governor is very popular, and the utmost confidence in his election. The Burlington Sentinel gives the most cheering accounts. In addition to the Spartan bard who have shood by the cause of Democracy through all its vicitudes in this state, a large number who have kept sloof from it, from various causes, are now earolling themselves under its banner. This is particularly the case in Windham county, where modern whighery seems to have been almost descripted.—

CERTIFICATES.

New Yoar, Oct 29, 1823.

I certify that I have this day superintended a triaf of a Fire Engine of Rogers' patent, made by Win-Platt & Co., at Waterford, Saratoga county, N. Yark, with one of the best engines belonging to the corporation of the ckyl of New York. The trial was made in the corporation yard; and from the experiment. I suppersuaded that the engine of Rogers' patent will throw more water, and at a greater distance, with the splitation of less power, then our corporation angines.

I further certify, that if o fire engine has ever been exhibited in the city which could compete with the New York Engines, or which would answer our purpose, except togers' patent us exceedingly simple; and I see no reason why it should mit go into general nee. Besides, it has snother advantage—it can be furnished at much less cost.

Chief engineer of the N. Y. Fire Department.

I most cheerfully comply with a request from Wintham of the component of the patent, manufactured by them at Waterford, Baratoga county.
