JEFFERSON ACADEMY,

53 Bourbon street, New Orleans,

CONDUCTED BY J. G. LORD.

THE plan of this Institution comprises a general and extensive system of education. Pupils are admitted at six or seven years of age, and can continue till their education is complete, or till they are prepared for their future pursuits in life.

They are distributed into classes according to their talents and advancement.

The premises are perhaps the best to be found in the city, with ample space for exercise and recreation, every necessary convenience is combined for an institution of learning on a large scale.

The Professors are gentlemen of talents, chosen with care. Good order reigns in the establishment, and strict attention is paid to the moral conduct and improvement of the pupils.

Day and Boarding School for Young Ladies.

Founded in 1836, by Madame Leiris, and conducted since 1840, by MADAME DESRAYAUX, Boulevard between Casa Calvo House and Bienville streets, New Orleans.

MME. DESRAYAUX, formerly in Rampart street, having removed the Institution upwards of a year ago, to more extensive accommodations, assure parents and guardians of youth, that their new building in Burgundy st. has met their expectations, and supplies one great and almost indispensable requisite—viz. ample accommodations, adapted to the object they had in view. It is scarcely necessary to state, that the building which they erected, is supplied with all the modern improvements, and is in every respect convenient for domestic life, and for educational purposes. The apartments are spacious, airy, well lighted, and perfectly healthy. The large and well shaded garden in the rear of the building, purchased for the accommodation of the pupils, is found to be attended with many advantages, as regards health, exercise and amusement—in short, every arrangement has been made, and no small expense, to increase the facilities of education, to guard the health of the pupils, and to procure their comfort and happiness.

The Institution provides thorough and substantial instruction in every branch and department of education. It possesses great facilities for the acquirement of the French language, and for the cultivation of Music and Drawing. It is sufficient to say, that no efforts will be wanting to sustain the reputation which the School has already acquired in these departments.

DR. MACAULAY, who has taught in the Institution for upwards of five years, and who divides his time equally between it and the Mont Medical, takes the entire charge of the department of Intellectual Literature, including Natural and Moral Philosophy and Mathematics, not only the outlines, but enough of Mathematics, Chemistry, Geology and Astronomy, as to enable young ladies to understand all the most important phenomena which are constantly presenting themselves to their observation.

For further information, the proprietors of the Institution respectfully refer parents to their prospectus, to be obtained in pamphlet form, to be found at the book store and at the Institution. n26—1y
