

The Florida Association of Public Purchasing Officers (FAPPO) is the premier public purchasing association in the country. Since 1968, FAPPO has been one of the most established and widely recognized professional state-wide organizations.

FAPPO's membership consists of approximately 1,100 procurement professionals representing over 300 agencies throughout the State of Florida. FAPPO is comprised of many different types of local government agencies to include municipalities, counties, state, special districts and authorities, universities and colleges, public utilities and sheriff offices.

FAPPO has become one of the best resources for:

- ✓ Fostering and promoting advancement in the public purchasing profession through diverse education, certification and networking.
- ✓ Providing forums for the exchange of procurement information.
- ✓ Developing and promoting best practices for public agencies.
- ✓ Providing resources for electronic access of public agencies' procurement documents.
