

THE BEE.

FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 20, 1854.

ANDREW JACKSON.
FOR PRESIDENT.

MARTIN VAN BUREN.
VICE PRESIDENT.

A. B. DAWSON.

New England has never been so divided as it is now. The North and South are at variance, and the East and West are at variance.

The Northern mail furnishes us with news from the 11th instant, containing very late European intelligence, the summary and extracts of which we copied from the Commercial Advertiser.

The republican electors of the 5th ward assembled last evening in pursuance of previous notice.

Mr. J. St. Alexander's name was stated to have been placed on the committee of vigilance.

It is stated that the Clay committee of vigilance were held, they embraced the names of nine candidates.

St. Paul's church was held, and the names of the members were read.

Pharmaceuticals. The reports are that Wells has received a majority of 300 in Northumberland county.

New Jersey Election. The Jackson vote has carried the election in Burlington, Gloucester, Salem, Cumberland and Cape May.

We copy, in another column, from the correspondent of Port Gibson, Mississippi, a brief abstract of the judicial system which has been reported by the committee.

The West Feliciana railroad, we are glad to perceive, is beginning to awaken that attention, which from the importance of the project, and the value of the stock, when the enterprise is completed, it may be justly challenged.
