THE NATIONAL GALLERY OF ART.

It is proposed to establish a National Gallery of Art in the city of New Orleans. The project is supported by a number of gentlemen who are desirous of securing a permanent place for the collection of the most valuable works of art that can be procured. The gallery is to be situated in the city of New Orleans, and is to be under the control of the State. The collection is to be composed of the most valuable works of art that can be procured, and is to be open to the public. The gallery is to be a permanent institution, and is to be a source of instruction and amusement to the people of the city.

Office, 73 Chartres street.

Referring to a statement in the New York Herald regarding the late Mr. Davis, we are informed that the same is entirely untrue. Mr. Davis was never in New Orleans, and never held any office there. The statement is a gross fabrication, and is intended to injure the reputation of the late Mr. Davis. We are sorry to see that such a statement should be published in a newspaper of the standing of the New York Herald.

Correspondence Between Gen. Davis and Charles O'Connell.

General Davis has received a letter from Charles O'Connell, in which the latter expresses his regret that he cannot be present at the funeral of the late Mr. Davis. General Davis has replied to the letter, and has expressed his sympathy for the bereaved family. He has also expressed his regret that he cannot be present at the funeral. The letter is a touching one, and is a true expression of the feelings of the bereaved family.

Dangerous Tendency of the Habit of Military Style.

The habit of military style is a dangerous one, and is one that should be discouraged. It is a habit that leads to a lack of respect for the civil authorities, and is a habit that is detrimental to the interests of the country. It is a habit that is common among the military, and is a habit that is often imitated by the civil population. It is a habit that is a source of pride and vanity, and is a habit that is a source of discord and dissension. It is a habit that is a source of danger to the country, and is a habit that should be discouraged.

COMMERCIAL.

The market for cotton is very active, and is one that is characterized by a high degree of volatility. The price of cotton has risen sharply, and is now at a high level. This is due to a number of factors, including a shortage of supply and a high demand. The market is expected to continue to be active, and is expected to remain at a high level. This is a good sign for the cotton industry, and is a sign that the market is healthy.

The Cotton Bill.

The Cotton Bill is a bill that is designed to regulate the cotton trade. It is a bill that is very important, and is one that should be carefully considered. The bill is designed to protect the interests of the cotton growers, and is designed to ensure that the cotton trade is conducted in a fair and equitable manner. The bill is a good one, and is one that should be passed.
