Mrs. Carrie Reems was acquitted in criminal district court Tuesday evening of the murder of Arthur Behan. The jury was out only twenty minutes. Mrs. Reems was her own strongest witness and the jury evidently believed that she acted in self-defense.

The membership of the board for the improvement of Jackson square has been increased to seven by Mayor Behrman, the names of Messrs. George Demaree and Samuel M. Weiss being added to those already appointed.

The will of the late Archbishop James H. Blenk was filed in civil district court Tuesday. The amount of his estate, after the payment of debts, will not exceed $500. He pledged a $5,000 insurance policy and devoted the proceeds to the campaign to restore the St. Louis cathedral.

Manuel Romero, aged 15, son of John Romero, bridge tender at Harvey's canal, lost his life while trying to save Sam Martino, aged 11, from drowning. Martino and two companions were playing in a boat which capsized. Romero, who was passing, plunged in and rescued one of them, then went after Martino. The latter seized him in a death grip and both were drowned.

Adjutant General McGroary is investigating reports of irregularities in the handling of exemption claims by Louisiana boards. In one case it is alleged that a man was exempted on account of politics and in another that the clerk of court charged fees for making out exemption papers.

J. L. Phillips, a wealthy Georgia lumberman, purchased the Roos lot, corner of St. Charles avenue and Eleanor street Tuesday for $30,000 and will build a fine residence thereon.

Seventy-five kilns for the drying of sweet potatoes will be completed in the state by the time the crop is gathered. Six of them will be built by the Great Southern Lumber Co. of Bogalusa.

Mayor Behrman has appointed T. P. Thompson, Andre Lafargue and H. Genereux Dufour a committee to represent this city at the Paris celebration of the founding of New Orleans in October. Preparations for the local bicentennial celebration in February are well advanced. When the committee in charge meets again September 19 it is hoped that the detailed program will be ready.

New Orleans has raised its quota of fifty cooks for the mobilization camps. Class A men will receive $125 a month, room and board and Class B men $90 a month with board and lodging. Alexander Aiciatore is to be superintendent of the cooks' division.
