DEDICATION OF THE LOG CABIN.
Saturday last was a glorious day for the whige of New Orleans. It was the day of the dedication of our ou Casin to the gallant Hero of Tippecanne and th ciple, was completed by the stont-hearted and strong armed Harrison boys of New Orleans—the genuin summit, and yielded its folds to the breeze, the air was filled with the glad huzzas sent forth from the assem-

FOR THE NEW-ORLEANS BEE. T PLAIN STATEMENT OF FACTS, SY AN EYE WITHESS,

On Friday night, a considerable number of per sended a meeting at the St. Charles Hotel, havin or its object the nomination of the honorable G. S. GUIN, as a candidate for congress, in apposition to morable R. D. WHITE.

After the organization of the meeting, Dr. McFan-LANE, (the editor of the Native American,) stated, that a gentleman present, had in his possession a letter which he wished to read to the meeting. T. H. Mc Calle, erq., then came forward, and, after a few pre-fatory remarks, in which he stated that he held in his hand a letter from the honorable Judge Guion, addrestetter had been sent to the efficie of the American for publication on Thursday; and from some reason or other, which, no doubt, Dr. McFarlane could satisother, which, no doubt, Dr. McFarlane could satisficate the following passage will furnish a very satisfication; that it was impossible for him Judge Gunon) to become the cambidate of the Repeal Party for congress, in opposition to the honorable E. D. White, the regularly nominated candidate of the subig party, a party, to use his own language, "the success of which I look upon as essential to the well being and future prosperity of our country." He declined in foreible and emphatic language, the honor which the Repeal Party wished to confer upon him; and declared that his conseat to the nomination "would cause discord among the whige and bod out to a third party the hope of an easy victory."

After the reading of the letter, and after the cheering had subsided, Dr. McFarlane introduced a resolution, the purport of which was the non-acceptance solution, the purport of which was the non-acceptance solution, the purport of which was the non-acceptance. other, which, no course, are many name in the paper of fectority account for, it did not appear in the paper of Friday; Mr. McCauss then proceeded to read the letter; it stated in most emphatic language, that it

He stated in defence of the resolution, "that while this meet. ng entertains the most profound respect and feelings of sympathy for Judge Tuton, they cannot consent to the acceptance of the letter or having any action whatever upon it—that he knew that Judge Guton held the principles of the Repeal Party paramount to all others—that this letter had been forced from him all others—that this letter had been forced from him by circumstances, which, when explained to this meeting, would fally convince it that Judge Guvon could still be induced to become the candidate of the meeting, would fally convince it that Judge Guvon could still be induced to become the candidate of the Repeal Party—that of course we co ld properly appreciate the delicate position he was piacred in from the circumstance of his being a member of the whige party, and from the fear (in the event of his becoming the candidate of the Repeal Party,) of dividing the whige, and that he candidate of the Repeal Party, of dividing the whige, and that he is the frank were groundless; that they had arise on in the minds of a few violent whige, and that he are in the minds of a few violent whige, and that he does assured by one hundred respectable members of the dimocratic party that they had no intention of a few violent whige, and that he does the consent of the dimocratic party that they had no intention of the dimocratic party that they had no intention of the dimocratic party that they had no intention of the dimocratic party that they had no intention of the dimocratic party that they had no intention of the dimocratic party that they had no intention of the dimocratic party that they had no intention of the dimocratic party that the possion which he entertained on this subject, and that disgrace and ignominy they would so richly deserve.

on loard steamer Lady of the Lake, Mobile Bay, Saturday, June 13th, 1840. We are within half an hour's progress from Mobile. Five or ten minutes ago we came up with the steamboat Karsas which we found knocked into a "cocked up hat." "What's the metter?" sung out our captain. "We're blosed up," was the pithy response. We were soon alongside, and speedily made arrangements to tow her up. The boilers, being overtaked perhaps, blew up yesterday a little before sun-down, and went out to spend the svening. At the time of the explosion three men were in the wheel-house, and others about the fires. The wheel-house was badly shattered, the chimnies were smarked, and all fervard is a heap of rain: yet extraordinary as it may seem, no person mes injured! nestic concerns of the states is fully exemplified in the late movement at Washington. Amos Kendali, the impiousness of whose claim to the appellation of heaven Born, is equalied only by his arrogance in supposing he can turn back the tide of indignation, which threatens to hurl the usurpers from power, has assumed the direction of the Globe and issued a circular to the Post Masters throughout the Union, requiring them to busy themselves in procuring subscribers to the paper and in disseminating the principles it asserts. The Globe is the official new/paper. It speaks the sentiments and advocates the measures of the administration, whether promulgated in the is speaks the sentiments and advocates the measures of the administration, whether promulgated in the president's messages or recommended to the action of congress. The leading object of the administration is, to establish an exclusive metallic currency, and it seeks to effect that object by destroying banks and anathilating paper money of all denominations. That the states have a right to charter these institutions no one denies, for it is one of those powers which were neither eeded to the United States no problided to the states. Consequently any attempt, either directly or indirectly, to deprive the states of the exercise of that power, or to impair it, must be unconstitutional. It is well known to be a condition of the office-holders' bond, to suppor the authority which appointed them, right or wrong, and it is equally well known that they fuffil the condition to the letter. In the one, and, to them, paramount duty of supporting the doctrines of their masters, the rights of the states, which they are bound to maintain at all hazards even against the presentions of the general government, are dessaged of no moment whatever. These men are personally and urgently addiressed by Kendall, and in what enterprise are they directed to join? Not to promote the preserity or assert the rights of their own states, not to aid the administration in its legitimate daties, but to make every possible effort in private, at the hustings, at the polls, in legicaliave assemblies, to break down the banks and place the money-power of the whole country in the president's hands. They are required, indeed, to merit the infany of Benedict Arnold, by following his course.

Circulate the Globe, says the "Heaven Born."—Yes, circulate the Globe, says the "Heaven Born."—Prish credit; perish commerce; down with banks,—down with state influence and state institutions; rear up a central power to a frong for the prople and superior to the constitution stelf—these are the doctrines up to forth through the Extra Globe, and in this daring confir
