BENTON AND FORTÉE.

In the absence of all the details relative to the infamous outrage upon the dignity of the United States Senate, committed on the 17th instant, we will not very easily or decidedly commit it to paper; but that Senate, we presume, will record its name in history, and we do not anticipate that it will be left in any quietus, though it may be as far removed as possible from our knowledge.

Mr. Morris has received a letter from Mr.
Adams, and has referred it to his Committee, and before the meeting of the Legislature, will make known his opinion thereon.

Mr. Morris, on the 16th instant, advised his Committee that he had received a letter from Mr. Adams, in which he says, "That you have no right to demand a recall of Benton and Fortée, unless you can prove that they have been guilty of a high offense."

It is the opinion of Mr. Morris, that Benton and Fortée, should be called in, and if they are guilty, should be recalled.

Mr. Morris has also, in his opinion, that the Senate, in calling them back, will be guilty of a high offense.

Mr. Morris has advised his Committee to call Benton and Fortée to appear before them on the 20th instant.

Mr. Morris has, also, advised his Committee, to call Benton and Fortée, before the Legislature, on the 23d instant.
