

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED (DAILY) BY J. BAYON, DELAUF & Co. CORNER OF CHARITRES & ST. LOUIS STREETS, OPPOSITE THE EXCHANGE.

TERMS: Subscription dollars per annum, payable half yearly in advance. No subscription will be stopped unless the arrears be paid; and the person wishing to stop his subscription, shall have given notice thereof, in writing, at the Office of THE LITTLE BEAR, a week before the expiration of the half year.

Comb & Variety Store, No. 10, Chartres street, near Canal. RAZORS, SCISSORS, and other grooming items.

NEW MUSIC. SAVOIRNEUR DELISH, by E. Knight. Are you angry mother, by H. R. Bishop. Hark! the signal of meeting, by G. A. Hodson.

TO THE PUBLIC. PROFESSOR B. TRONCHIN, in this paper, for the satisfaction of the inhabitants of this city, to submit the following certificates and letters to their consideration.

ENGLISH, FRENCH & SPANISH LANGUAGES.—The undersigned (a Frenchman by birth recently arrived from the north,) begs leave respectfully to inform the citizens of New-Orleans that he has opened in St. Pierre street, No. 146, between Dauphine and Bourgoyne streets, a DAY and EVENING SCHOOL, for the English, French and Spanish Languages.

CHIGÉ, BOOT MAKER. HAS the honor to inform the public, that he has removed from Toulouse to Chartres street, between Toulouse and St. Louis streets, in the house of Dr. Thomas. He also informs his customers that he has received by the Bullvar, an assortment of LEATHER, from one of the most reputed manufacturers of Paris.

MAIL FROM NEW-ORLEANS BY MOBILE TO WASHINGTON CITY. THE STEAM BOATS LONG BRANCH & MOUNT VERNON. CHARLES WALKER & JNO. QUEEN, Masters. WILL leave the city three times a week with the Mail for Mobile, (Monday, Wednesday and Friday), at 6 o'clock a. m. and thence by Post Coaches to the Atlantic States.

THE Subscriber has received, and is now opening a large assortment of Articles in his line, consisting in part of carved top Tortoise Combs; high top Tortoise do. and Quill top do; Tortoise Shell curl, side and Ring Combs; Tortoise Pocket and dressing do.; splendid rich patterns of Brazilian Tuck Combs, comprising the latest fashions; Brazilian tuck long curl and side Combs; dressing pocket ridding and fine Ivory Combs; flowered top and gilt tuck Combs. Also, gilt Looking Glasses, of various sizes; toilet and swing Glasses; German toilet and pocket Glasses; Imperial American, French and Spanish Playing Cards; Backgammon Boards; Chess do.; Dice Boxes and Billiard Balls; Spanish and Melic Silk Macerata, Rappee and Scotch Shawls; cotton and worsted Suspensorys; Lavender and Cologne Water, with a large assortment of every article in the Perfumery Line; Vegetable Cerate and the Balm of Columbin; Emmerson's, Morgan's and DuRoi's Razor Straps; Shaving Boxes, plain and with glasses; sweeping counter, hearse and crum Brushes; Shoe Brushes, tooth, hair, print and cloth do.; flesh, nail and polishing Brushes; Shaving, do. and Ground Bright and Sash Tools; Hair Powders; Face Bleaching, and Hair Brushes; common and plain Belovos; Walking Sticks and swords; cut glass, carded and wax Beads; Snuff Boxes, and Gentlemen's Dressing Cases; fine Penknives, Razors and Scissors; Concave Mirrors; Ink Powder; Dominos and Maccassar and Bear's Oil; Cork Inkstands; Lead, Crayon's, and hooks and eyes, pearl, vest, shirt and suspend Buttons; Pocket Books; Wallets and Port Folios; Needles and Pins—with a great number of other articles, which will be sold by wholesale and retail, at reduced prices, for cash or city acceptances.

VIENNA PIANO FORTES. THE subscriber has just received per brig William Henry and other late arrivals from Philadelphia and New-York, an elegant assortment of cabinet and square Piano Fortes of superior tone and workmanship, all of which are warranted. Also, FLUTES of every description, VIOLINS, VIOLONCELLOS, GUITARS, CLARINETTS, BASSOONS, HORNS, BASS HORN'S, TRUMPETS, BUGLES, DRUMS, FIFES, STRINGS, REIMS and every article of musical merchandise, wholesale and retail on reasonable terms.

THE undersigned Merchants, Lawyers, and Clergymen, of Hagerstown, Md., do cheerfully concur in opinion with the trustees of the Hagerstown Academy, who have signed the above certificate in favor of Professor B. Tronchin.—G. Hager, Jacob Kauser, W. C. Drury, Edward Fitzpatrick, J. W. Randall, A. Johnson, R. M. Tidball, Parker Blood, Robert B. Drane, Wm. M. Marshall.

At the end of the second section, he will have acquired syntax, with all the exceptions to the general rules of the declinable parts of speech, understand well all that he reads, and be able to translate the language he studies into his own.

REMOVAL. Spencer, Lloyd & Co. Have removed from their old stand, No. 75, Chartres street to No. 77, between Customhouse and Canal streets, where they offer for sale, received by the Margard, Ohio and other recent arrivals a large assortment of BOOTS, SHOES, BROGANS & C. Country merchants are invited to call.

FOR VICKSBURG, NATCHEZ, And Intermediate Landings. The steam-boat FEEICIANA, Capt. Ederton, will be at the levee on Wednesday the 16th inst. ready to receive freight for the above places, and will be on board, on the 23d. FOSTER & HUTTON. THE FEEICIANA will run regularly through the season to Vicksburg and Natchez, and will stop at all intermediate places for freight and passengers.

COLLEGE OF SPRING-HILL. Under the direction of the Rt. Rev. Dr. FORTIER, BISHOP OF MOBILE. THE Institution which will be opened between the 1st and the 15th of November next, under the appellation of the College of Spring-Hill, is situated on the great mail route from Washington City to New-Orleans, and seven miles West of the City of Mobile. It is elevated situation, overlooking the surrounding country, and commanding a distant view of the Bay of Mobile—the happy choice which has been made for its location—the numerous Springs and the purity of the water, which surround it, together with its other physical advantages, all concur to render it a collegiate residence, not less healthy than agreeable.

THE subscriber has just received per brig William Henry and other late arrivals from Philadelphia and New-York, an elegant assortment of cabinet and square Piano Fortes of superior tone and workmanship, all of which are warranted.

DEAR SIR—Allow me to introduce to you the bearer of this letter, Professor Tronchin, of Philadelphia, who has been appointed in that city as teacher of the English, French and Spanish languages, as the patronage here in these studies is found hardly sufficient to give him a suitable salary.

At the end of the third section, he will have acquired correct phraseology, will write and speak well, and understand those who speak with much rapidity, and translate cleanly 1 in his own language into the one he studies.

New-York Clothing. BOOT, SHOE, HAT STORE. No. 60, Levee-st., opposite the Ferry. THE subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public generally, that he has just received by the latest arrivals from New-York and other northern port a GENERAL ASSORTMENT of the above named articles, which with his former stock comprise a complete assortment of every article in his line, among which are: Gentlemen's superior blue cloth dress coats, do. do. black do. do. do. do. mixed do. do. do. Do green, steel mixed, and gray cloth coats. Do dark mixed Navy blue and gray suit do. Do superior blue cloth round jackets. With a great variety of the inferior qualities do. Gentlemen's pantaloons of superior blue and black cloth and Casemere, steel and gray do. Bangor cord and a variety of Vests of superior blue and black cloth and Casemere; super black colored silk vests; black and fancy colored silk super white and colored Marseilles; Br. and fancy colored Valencia, &c. &c. Linen shirts, cravats and handkerchiefs. And also, on hand a variety of summer clothing, consisting of gentlemen's frock coats, coats, pantaloons, vests, jackets, &c. &c. of every description.

FOR BAYOU TUNICA. Bayou, Sarak, Bayou Rouge, Bayou Rouge and all Intermediate Landings. The steamer COOSA, O. P. Cramer, Master, will be at the levee on Wednesday the 16th inst. ready to receive freight for the above places, and will be on board, on the 23d. FOSTER & HUTTON.

Two Professors of the English language, two of the French, two of the Latin and one of the Spanish, a Professor of Mathematics and a Director General of Studies, constitute the Faculty or council of the College under the Direction of the founder, Dret. Portier, or the President, his Vicar General, to whom is also assigned the duties of the Greek professorship.

THE subscribers have on hand and offer for sale on accommodating terms at No. 39 Levee Street. 200 Cases assorted earthenware, 200 quarter casals, do. for the Mexican market, 150 Packages cut and plain assorted glass ware, 100 Boxes St. Louis cut glass 4 5 & 6 in the pt. 50 do. Monk & Dip Tallow candles 4 5 & 6 in the pt. 50 do. Pullon's New-York No. 1 & 2 Chocolate, 900 do. Milledbergers & Fays do. N. Y. soap, 50 Cases shaving soap, 300 boxes Myers' Casby's & other Richmond 150 kgs brand's manufactured tobacco, 10 packages cut chewing Tobacco, 50 dozen bottled Snuff, 10 chests of 80 lbs. each Hysop Skin Tea, 75 boxes of 13 lbs each Imperial & Young Hysop 100 kgs superior Goshen butter, 100 cases Goshen Cheese, 250 barrels loaf sugar various qualities, 20 boxes New-York Mustard in glass, 30 dozen Watson's axes, 30 fire proof Iron Safes "Delano's" patent, 5 cases "Whittemore's" No. 10 cotton cards, 22 mats pint and quart English wine bottles, 20 boxes window glass 8 & 10, 34 packages sail baling, half twine & shoe thread 5 bales 1 domestic Denims, 3 packages Philadelphia sheet paste backing, 240 yards hard, art, wrapping & printing paper, 25 packages assorted cast & post paper, 2 packages of bannet nutbin, 3 ceroon's float Indigo, 24 pipes and half pipes cognac, 3 pipes old London doak, 5 pipes domestic first proof, 18 pipes Holland Gin, 12 puncheons of Jamaica Rum, 1 hhd Irish Whiskey, 21 pipes Catalonia wine "Cognac" brand, 21 pipes fine & quater casals "Batlay's" Port wine, 45 pipes, half pipes, quarter casals and half quarter casals Madeira wine, direct importation, 53 pipes & quarter casals "Cognac's" Canary wine, 30 quarter casals slerry wine entitled draw-Jack, 50 cases Madeira, canary, tulip, port, malaise & canary wine, pts. & qts. 1 to 3 doz. in a case, 150 cases assorted cordials "Angus" make, 40 cases of various clothing, 40 barrels shell armour, cherry brandy & bounce, Anizette blanche, and peppermint cordials, 35 barrels northern vinegars, 60 barrels cider, 40 barrels "Mousses" double ale, 90 barrels, dozes & hids, appermacetti, refined white and taners oil, 18 cases rum rais, 60 packages mats, boys' & negroes kip, calf, Russel and wax programs and boots, 24 packages of various clothing, 21 pipes & common red ploughs no. 126 & 4, 25 kgs muscatel wine, entitled to draw-back, 650 cents and quarter boxes spanish segars, Nov. 15th. THOMSON & GRANT.

Previous to our inviting Mr. Tronchin to this Academy, I conferred with Professor Value and Professor Fay, of New York, on the subject of his qualifications to teach the modern languages. Professor Value assured me that he was better qualified to teach the French language than any other instructor he was acquainted with in New York; and Professor Fay gave me an account quite as satisfactory of his ability to teach the Spanish language. Besides these recommendations, Mr. Tronchin produced to our Board of Trustees, the most satisfactory testimonials from other competent judges, of his ability to teach the languages he professes. I mention these facts to give you a knowledge of the testimony we had of Mr. Tronchin's qualifications well and in a high degree of his industry; and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some other situation. His manners as you will perceive, are those of a gentleman, and dignified; and I feel much obliged to him for his services to our seminary, and I can cheerfully add, that the success of the pupils at our seminary who have been under his instruction, has entirely justified the high opinion of those who know him best in New York. I regret very much to part with him from our institution; but from the cause I have mentioned it is likely he may embrace some