Cost-benefit analysis is an attempt to get benefits to exceed costs. Costs always have to be paid before a benefit. Some people may decide to minimize benefits instead of maximizing them.

To make decisions that maximize benefits. To produce a spreadsheet predicting costs. Estimating prices to the nearest dollar. To judge the overall condition of a particular country's economy.

A method of calculating money spent on a project.

Correct! Inflation calculators can be used to correct!

Retail sales is only one type of economic activity.

Correct! Unemployment is a lack of work.

Correct! Imports are subtracted from exports to calculate GDP, so rising imports increase nor a decrease.

Global Incorrect Feedback

The percentage of total workers who are out of work but seeking jobs and unemployed workers willing to work and seeking work, not economic activity.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Percentage of able workers without a job; calculated as the percentage of workers who do not have a job in the labor force.

Global Incorrect Feedback

GDP.

Correct! Per capita: The average amount of something for each person.

Global Incorrect Feedback

The Consumer Price Index is a way that the U.S. government measures economic decisions without much information.

Global Incorrect Feedback

New housing construction.

Correct! Inflation calculators can be used to predict economic decisions without much information.

Global Incorrect Feedback

To measure inactivity rather than economic activity.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Consumer Price Index.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Value of all goods and services produced in a country.

Global Incorrect Feedback

The correct answer is: Consumer Price Index.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Farm income stagnates.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Which of the following economic indicators measures a specific type of economic activity?

Global Incorrect Feedback

Predicting economic decisions without much information.

Correct! Costs can also be about doing something and that must be taken into calculations of cost and benefits are different.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Which of the following economic indicators measures inactivity rather than economic activity?

Global Incorrect Feedback

Inactivity.

Correct! Unemployment is a lack of work.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Which of the following economic indicators measures inactivity rather than economic activity?

Global Incorrect Feedback

The percentage of total workers who are out of work but seeking jobs and unemployed workers willing to work and seeking work, not economic activity.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Inactivity.

Correct! Inflation calculators can be used to correct!

Global Incorrect Feedback

Which of the following economic indicators measures inactivity rather than economic activity?

Global Incorrect Feedback

To measure inactivity rather than economic activity.

Global Incorrect Feedback

The correct answers are: Per capita: The average amount of something for each person.

Correct! Inflation calculators can be used to correct!

Global Incorrect Feedback

To produce a spreadsheet predicting costs.

Correct! Calculations of cost and benefits are different.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Inflation rate.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Which of the following economic indicators measures a specific type of economic activity?

Global Incorrect Feedback

New housing construction.

Correct! Inflation calculators can be used to predict economic decisions without much information.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Costs always have to be paid before a benefit. Some people may decide to minimize benefits instead of maximizing them.

Global Incorrect Feedback

The correct answer is: They help people determine how healthy a country's economy is.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Cost-benefit analysis is an attempt to get benefits to exceed costs. Costs always have to be paid before a benefit. Some people may decide to minimize benefits instead of maximizing them.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Which of the following economic indicators measures inactivity rather than economic activity?

Global Incorrect Feedback

Inactivity.

Correct! The unemployment rate is going down.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Which of the following economic indicators measures inactivity rather than economic activity?

Global Incorrect Feedback

The percentage of total workers who are out of work but seeking jobs and unemployed workers willing to work and seeking work, not economic activity.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Inactivity.

Correct! Unemployment is a lack of work.

Global Incorrect Feedback

The percentage of total workers who are out of work but seeking jobs and unemployed workers willing to work and seeking work, not economic activity.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Unemployment rate.

Correct! The unemployment rate is going down.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Which of the following would predict economic decisions without much information.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Which of the following is true of decisions made using cost-benefit analysis?

Global Incorrect Feedback

To produce a spreadsheet predicting costs.

Correct! Costs can also be about doing something and that must be taken into calculations of cost and benefits are different.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Which of the following is true of decisions made using cost-benefit analysis?

Global Incorrect Feedback

To produce a spreadsheet predicting costs.

Correct! Calculations of cost and benefits are different.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Which of the following economic indicators measures inactivity rather than economic activity?

Global Incorrect Feedback

The percentage of total workers who are out of work but seeking jobs and unemployed workers willing to work and seeking work, not economic activity.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Inactivity.

Correct! Unemployment is a lack of work.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Which of the following economic indicators measures a specific type of economic activity?

Global Incorrect Feedback

New housing construction.

Correct! Inflation calculators can be used to predict economic decisions without much information.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Which of the following economic indicators measures inactivity rather than economic activity?

Global Incorrect Feedback

Inactivity.

Correct! Unemployment is a lack of work.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Which of the following economic indicators measures inactivity rather than economic activity?

Global Incorrect Feedback

The percentage of total workers who are out of work but seeking jobs and unemployed workers willing to work and seeking work, not economic activity.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Inactivity.

Correct! Unemployment is a lack of work.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Which of the following economic indicators measures inactivity rather than economic activity?

Global Incorrect Feedback

The percentage of total workers who are out of work but seeking jobs and unemployed workers willing to work and seeking work, not economic activity.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Inactivity.

Correct! Unemployment is a lack of work.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Which of the following economic indicators measures inactivity rather than economic activity?

Global Incorrect Feedback

The percentage of total workers who are out of work but seeking jobs and unemployed workers willing to work and seeking work, not economic activity.

Global Incorrect Feedback

Inactivity.

Correct! Unemployment is a lack of work.

Global Incorrect Feedback