THE JEFFERSON CITY GOVERNMENT
A LAST WORD.

The discussion on this subject, published in the Jeffersonian, has about exhausted the subject. We have now very little to say, and that only by way of brief comment on the substance of the article. It is an article which we might say, which requires no reply, because it is so clearly and so fully set forth, that it is unnecessary to do so. It is a paper which we have read with interest, and we think it is a paper which we have read with interest. It is a paper which we have read with interest, and we think it is a paper which we have read with interest.
