THE NIAGARA'S NEWS.

The New York papers of the 23d March contain very effective despatches, embracing all the news of importance received by the steamship Niagara. The Niagara reached Halifax in the evening of the 21st inst., and probably arrived at Boston the next day.

England.

The Greek Difficulty.

The conference of Lord Palmerston in continuing the Greek difficulty, and the arrangement agreed upon by all the Powers, and which is satisfactory to all which excepting that his Lordship has made a decisive stand against Russia, his conduct was highly commended by the nation.

The Rhine in Queen's Speech was presented an energetic remonstrance against the proceedings of the Hesse Government, and public opinion is general that the Queen will give the matter the same support as the Russian took in the Mortara affair, London says.

"You will observe," says the Correspondent, "to what extent I am disposed to employ force in cases of this kind, when I tell you that Admiral Sir Charles Ogle has been ordered to the Rhine with a squadron of twenty-two-gun brigs, which is considered sufficient for the purpose, and that no more will be necessary for the purpose of protecting the independence of the Grand Monarch at Cassel."

The London Times has a copy of a Queen's speech, to be delivered on Thursday, March 21st, 1850, which is said to be the Queen's speech to Parliament on that occasion.

Reward for Sir John Franklin.

Her Majesty has authorized a publication of the Government's liberal reward for the recovery of Sir John Franklin and his companions, and which will entitle the discoverers to the sum of £20,000 sterling, or to any one of them who shall first succeed in the search.

Political and Miscellaneous.

Nothing worthy of remark has occurred in Parliament since the opening of Capitol before the Queen's speech on the 21st.

Lord Clarendon has been appointed to succeed Lord Heytesbury as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

Lord Brougham has resigned the office of Keeper of the Great Seal of Ireland, which he held for twenty years from Dr. Warre's cure to the present time. He sent the resignation to the Queen from Cannes, in the south of France, and it was accepted. Lord Brougham's successor is said to be Dr. Parkman, but Dr. Parkman gratified me without resigning it, and it is now held by Sir Edward Sugden.

Dr. Webster's trial for the murder of Dr. Parkman took place at Boston on the 19th, 20th, 21st, 22d, 23d, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th, and 31st ult., and 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th, 6th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 22d, 23d, 24th
