THE BEE.

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 13, 1838.

We have no printed banking principles concerning which to speak to our readers. We have no printed creed to which we subscribe, and which we are bound to support, whether right or wrong. We have no party to serve, no party to please, no party to reward. We are free from all party ties, and are responsible to no party for our opinions. We are the organ of no party, and shall support no party, but that which, in our opinion, is the party of the people. We shall support that party, and those men, which, in our opinion, will best promote the interests of the people, and the prosperity of the country. We shall support that party, and those men, which, in our opinion, will best promote the interests of the people, and the prosperity of the country. We shall support that party, and those men, which, in our opinion, will best promote the interests of the people, and the prosperity of the country.

Those who are in favor of the Sub-Treasury, and of the Independent Treasury, will support the party which is in favor of the Sub-Treasury, and of the Independent Treasury. Those who are in favor of the Bank of the United States, and of a National Bank, will support the party which is in favor of the Bank of the United States, and of a National Bank. Those who are in favor of a protective tariff, will support the party which is in favor of a protective tariff. Those who are in favor of a tariff for revenue only, will support the party which is in favor of a tariff for revenue only. Those who are in favor of the annexation of Texas, will support the party which is in favor of the annexation of Texas. Those who are in favor of the abolition of slavery, will support the party which is in favor of the abolition of slavery. Those who are in favor of the preservation of slavery, will support the party which is in favor of the preservation of slavery. Those who are in favor of the admission of Kansas as a free state, will support the party which is in favor of the admission of Kansas as a free state. Those who are in favor of the admission of Kansas as a slave state, will support the party which is in favor of the admission of Kansas as a slave state.

We publish the report as we have received it, without alteration or omission, and leave our readers to judge for themselves.
