STATE PRINTER.

The Legislature has conferred this honor yesterday upon the Bee State Printer for the Legislature of 1852. We are grateful for this evidence of confidence in our humble efforts in behalf of our native state, and shall endeavor to merit a continuance of the favor.

LEGISLATIVE DOINGS.

During some of the sessions of the two Houses of the Legislature, we observed that an immense number of persons were in the habit of coming before them on various public and private matters, which were commendable. As the Legislature is only 60 days, and will be much occupied with the consideration of important subjects, every moment of time is valuable, and we would suggest to obtain precedence of the Legislature by the Constitution, ought to be imposed, by which persons and parties of immediate business could be heard at specified hours, and not be kept in attendance for hours, and days, and perhaps weeks, resulting from the improvement of which the time is not regarded. In consequence of this difficulty, he not able to devote the attention to business which it would otherwise receive. A suitable arrangement, it will follow, would enable the Legislature to transact much more business in a shorter time, and with more satisfaction to all parties concerned. Many persons who have private business with Legislature, but who cannot afford to spend many days, and perhaps weeks, in attendance upon the Legislature, are compelled to leave the city without having their business attended to, which is frequently of great importance to them. The members of the Legislature, and the officers of the House, are frequently annoyed by persons who have business with them, and who are compelled to wait their leisure, which is frequently very inconvenient. We hope that some plan will be adopted by the General Assembly, which will obviate the difficulties mentioned, by compressing the business into the shortest space of time, and thereby enable the Legislature to do the business for which it was created, in the most satisfactory manner to all parties concerned. We make these suggestions in a friendly spirit, and hope that some plan will be adopted by which the business of the Legislature can be transacted in a shorter time, and with more satisfaction to all parties concerned. It is whispered on the streets that SENATOR BENJAMIN D. KENNER is to succeed HENRY CLAY. BENJAMIN D. KENNER is a native of Louisiana, and is a member of the Senate from Louisiana.

☞ The New York Journal of Commerce says that the new Cunard steamers Arabia and Persia, are said to be modelled after the steamships of the COLLINS's line. Their boilers are constructed now on a similar principle—each engine is one-fifth less, while the power is said to be much greater. The keel of the Arabia, the proposed fifth steamer of the line, has not yet been laid, and it is doubtful at present depends upon the result of the Government bid, whether it will be built.

BY MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH.

ARRIVAL OF THE AMERICA.

NEW YORK, Sunday, Jan. 25.

The Cunard steamer America has arrived from Liverpool, bringing dates from that place to the 10th instant, three days later than those brought by the Arctic. The following is a brief summary of her account:

Liverpool Markets.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 10.

There has been a fair demand in the cotton market since the departure of the Arctic on the 7th instant; but the improvement noticed in the early part of the week has been lost. This is owing, in some measure, to the rather troubled appearance of our relations with France. The total sales of the week are about 16,000 bales, of which exporters have taken 5000, and speculators 4000 bales.

The official quotations are as follows: Fair Orleans, 5¾; Middling Orleans, 4¾; Fair Uplands, 4⅞; and Middling Uplands, 4¾. [The quotations by he Asia, the steamer of the 3d instant, were: Fair Orleans, 5¼; Middling Orleans, 4⅝; Fair Uplands, 4⅞; and Middling Uplands, 4 9 16ths d. There is consequently, a decline for the week, in all descriptions, except Middling Orleans. The Arctic, of the 7th, reported Middling Orleans at 4⅝, and Middling Uplands at 4⅝; showing a decline on these grades for the at three days, or half per lb.—Eds.]

Trade in the manufacturing districts has slightly improved since the departure of the Arctic.

Flour has been in good request, at a slight improvement, and the quotations now are, for Western 24s, 25s 6d, and for Ohio superfine, 22s, 6d per bl.

Corn has also met with a good inquiry at full prices. Yellow is quoted at 29s, and white at 30s per quarter.

Rice has brought 44s 6d per cwt., with a fair demand.

Pork has been in good request, at a slight improvement, and the quotations now are, for Western 75s, and for Ohio superfine, 72s, 6d per bl.

Bacon has also met with a good inquiry at full prices. Yellow is quoted at 29s, and white at 30s per quarter.
