specialized weapons training in Afghanistan (AF) and subsequently fought for the Taliban. He resided in known Al-Qaida / Taliban guesthouses and interacted with known Al-Qaida / Taliban members. He participated in hostilities against coalition forces and was present at the uprising in Mazar-E-Sharif, AF. He may have attended training under Al-Qaida poisons and chemical trainer Abu Khabab Al-Masri. It is assessed this detainee is a HIGH risk, as he is likely to pose a threat to the US, its interests and allies. JTF GTMO determined this detainee is of LOW intelligence value.

4. (S//NF) Detainee Background Summary:

The following section is based, unless otherwise indicated, on detainee's own account. These statements are included without consideration of veracity, accuracy, or reliability.

a. (S//NF) Prior History: Detainee's family lived in Mecca, SA, until his parents died. After their deaths, the family moved to Ta'if, SA, where detainee's brother, Abdul Rahman Abdullah Nur (variant: Noor), was attending school.¹ (Analyst Note: Detainee's brother Abdul Rahman Abdullah Nur, was a known Taliban member and assessed Al-Qaida recruiter Abu Outhman aka Abu Musab.) Until detainee traveled to Afghanistan, he attended religious science courses at Kulliyet Al-Mu'allimin (The College of Teachers) in Ta'if.²

b. (S//NF) Recruitment and Travel: In late 2000, Abdul Rahman convinced detainee to travel to Afghanistan to receive weapons training at the Malek Center in Kabul, AF.³ (Analyst Note: Malek Center was an Al-Qaida training facility providing anti-aircraft artillery, artillery, heavy artillery, and surface-to-air missile instruction.) Abdul Rahman gave detainee 5000 Saudi riyals, a passport obtained from the passport agency in Jeddah, SA, plane tickets, and travel instructions. (Analyst Note: 5000 Saudi riyals is approximately $1250 US.) Detainee traveled from Jeddah to Qatar (QA) and then to Karachi, Pakistan (PK). Once in Karachi, he stayed at the Al Medina Hotel where Ali Al Pakistani met him one day later. Ali took detainee to his home where detainee remained for six weeks before contacting Abdul Rahman. When Abdul Rahman arrived in Karachi, Ali arranged for Abdul Rahman and detainee's travel to a safe house in Quetta, PK. Upon crossing the border, they were taken to an unknown Taliban guesthouse in Kandahar, AF. Detainee and Abdul Rahman stayed at this location for less than a week before traveling to the Malek Center in

Abdul Rahman was killed in the uprising at Qala-I-Jenki prison in Mazar-e-Sharif, Afghanistan (AF), in 2001. Kabul.⁴ Detainee stated that he was at Malek Center for less than a year.⁵ In early 2001, Abdul Rahman spoke with the leader of Malek Center, Amir Shehab, about allowing detainee to discontinue weapons training to attend the Hajj. Amir Shehab approved the request. Detainee and Abdul Rahman departed Malek Center en route to an unidentified Taliban guesthouse in Kabul. Without Abdul Rahman, detainee then traveled to Kandahar where he stayed in another unidentified Taliban guesthouse for approximately one week and arranged to be taken to Quetta. In Quetta, detainee stayed a week at an unidentified Taliban guesthouse and then traveled to Karachi where Saad Al Zahrani met him at the Al Medina Hotel. (Analyst Note: Saad Al Zahrani is former Arab Brigade member Sadi Ibrahim Ramzi Al-Zahrani, US9SA-000204DP (SA-204).) Detainee and SA-204 then traveled to Saudi Arabia via Manama, Bahrain (BA). While en route, the pair was stopped by Bahraini customs officials, but released.⁶ Regularly attending the Ali Shok Mosque in Taif, SA, the detainee was inspired by a prayer sessions where jihad and pro-Taliban topics were discussed.⁷ In March 2001, detainee returned to Afghanistan with the advice and assistance from Abdul Rahman. Detainee requested 5000 Saudi riyals of his inheritance, and then went to a travel agency and procured plane tickets to Karachi. After ten days at the El Harem Hotel in Karachi, detainee went to the Daftar Taliban in Quetta.⁸ (Analyst Note: The Daftar Taliban was a Taliban guesthouse frequented by individuals entering Afghanistan for jihad and / or training.) In Quetta, detainee informed a Taliban representative that he was going to "the front line" in Kabul.⁹ Detainee then traveled from Quetta to Kandahar, where he stayed one night at Nur Mohammed's house before flying to Kabul.¹⁰ (Analyst Note: Nur Mohammed was a known Taliban member.)¹¹

c. (S//NF) Training and Activities: Once in Kabul, AF, detainee went to the Dar Al Aman Guesthouse. (Analyst Note: The Taliban used the Dar Al Aman Guesthouse as a safe house to process and lodge Arabs traveling to Afghanistan for jihad.) One day later, two Afghan males took him to the "secondary line," in the area of Kabul, where he was reunited with Abdul Rahman.¹² The two returned to the Dar Al Aman Guesthouse to await transportation to Khwaja Ghar, AF.¹³ While in the guesthouse, Abdul Rahman gave detainee training on hand grenades.¹⁴ Detainee and Abdul Rahman were then taken to a “waiting building” in Kabul run by Abu Ahmed where they stayed for a day before returning to Dar Al Aman.¹⁵ Periodically for three weeks, detainee and Abdul Rahman went to an unidentified airport and attempted to obtain a flight north. They finally obtained a flight to Konduz, AF. Upon arrival, detainee gave his passport and money to Abdul Rahman. Detainee, Abdul Rahman, and three other Arabs then drove to Taloqan, AF, where they spent one night in a safe house before being driven to the front line at Khwaja Ghar.¹⁶ While at Sa'id Station, detainee received grenade and Kalashnikov training. Detainee served in a Taliban support role at the Tameem Center security post on the front line for six months.¹⁷ During this period, detainee rotated between his foxhole and the Bilal Center.¹⁸ (Analyst Note: The Bilal Center is probably the Markez Bilal Safe house which was one of four safe houses established for Taliban fighters in Khwaja Ghar.)¹⁹ Detainee and Abdul Rahman were at Bilal Center when the coalition bombing campaign began. They decided to depart Afghanistan. Abu Al Salam informed detainee that the borders were closed.²⁰ (Analyst Note: Detainee claimed that Abu Al Salam was the leader of approximately 200 Arabs on the front line north of Konduz, AF.²¹ It is probable that Abu Al Salam is Abd Al-Salam Al-Hadrami, an Arab Brigade subunit commander.) After Abu Al Salam died, the group was told to withdraw²² by Gharib Al-Sunai (variant: Ghareeb) who assumed leadership after Abu Salam's death.²³ The group traveled to Konduz.²⁴

5. (S//NF) Capture Information:

- a. (S//NF) Detainee and Abdul Rahman stayed in a guesthouse in Konduz, AF, until a deal was made between the Taliban and General Dostum, for safe passage to Kandahar, AF. Dostum's men told Taliban forces to surrender their weapons and took them to the fortress in

¹⁵ IIR 6 034 1357 03, (S//NF) (Analyst Note: Detainee also refers to a Khalid Station run by an Abu Ahmed. It is probable that Khalid Station and the “waiting building” are one and the same. This location was apparently a transition point for Taliban fighters assigned to the front lines in Kabul. IIR 6 034 1329 04)

¹⁶ IIR 6 034 1357 03, (S//NF) (Analyst Note: Detainee identifies a safe house known as the Sa'id Station in Khwaja Ghar which acted as a transition point for Taliban fighters assigned to the Tameem Center, located a short distance from the front lines and used as a lodging area for fighters advancing to the front line. It is probable that the safe house he stayed in, prior to being driven to the front line, was the Sa'id Station.)

Mazar-E-Sharif, AF. Detainee was wounded in the stomach during the uprising.²⁵ Detainee was taken from the prison in Sheberghan, AF, and transferred to US custody in late November 2001.²⁶

b. (S) Property Held:

- No pocket litter held.

c. (S) Transferred to JTF GTMO: 20 January 2002

d. (S//NF) Reasons for Transfer to JTF GTMO: To provide information on the following:

- Abd Al-Salam Al-Hadrami – a former senior ranking Arab fighter supporting the Taliban and senior Arab officer who commanded over 150 fighters
- Gharib Al-Sunai – a senior ranking Arab fighter supporting the Taliban who assumed command of the Arab element after Al-Hadrami's death
- Abdul Rahman Khalil Abdullah Nur – A known recruiter and suspected trainer of Arab fighters supporting the Taliban
- Combat operations involving his Arab element of the Taliban

6. (S//NF) Evaluation Of Detainee's Account: Detainee's account of his timeline is inconsistent, disjointed, and appears to be intentionally misleading. He provides ample information linking him to Al-Qaida. However, he does so in a manner that would not allow a complete insight into his activities in Afghanistan. Detainee's brother was a known recruiter and detainee worked with several known Al-Qaida members, but detainee claims he was unaware of his ultimate purpose in traveling to Afghanistan in early 2001. Detainee admitted attending Malek Center; however, he mentions no other training (with the exception of ad hoc grenade and small arms training at a Sa'id Center). Detainee provides no explanation for his name appearing in Al-Qaida associated documents.

7. (S//NF) Detainee Threat:

a. (S) Assessment: It is assessed the detainee poses a HIGH risk, as he is likely to pose a threat to the US, its interests and allies.

²⁵ IIR 6 034 1358 03, (S//NF) (Analyst Note: The fortress referred to is probably Qala-I-Jenki prison and the massacre is probably the uprising that occurred at the prison.)

- (S//NF) Unidentified safe house in Taloqan, AF: According to detainee it served as lodging for Taliban fighters assigned to the Tameem Center in Khwaja Ghar, AF.³⁶ (Analyst Note: Detainee referred to this safe house as unidentified; however, it is probable, based on the similarity in mission, that this safe house was Sa'id Station.)

 - (S//NF) Detainee provided the names of the commanders at the Tameem Center.⁴²
- (U//FOUO) Detainee possibly attended advanced IED or poison training at an Al-Qaida camp, possibly the Derunta camp.
 - (S//NF) In a February 2000 letter to Abu Khabab written by Abu Muhammad Al Misri, an individual by the name of Abu Ruwahah was being sent to attend a "manufacturing training course."⁴³ (Analyst Note: Abu Ruwahah is a variant of one of detainee's aliases and is possibly the detainee. - (S//NF) Detainee's name and / or alias (or variants thereof) were located among Al-Qaida associated documents.
 - (S//NF) A variant of detainee's name, Yousef Khaleel Noor, was found in a document listing 324 Arabic names, aliases, and nationalities, recovered from raids on safe houses associated with suspected Al-Qaida in Karachi, PK. Detainee's name was associated with the alias Rawwaha al Arabi, safe deposit box numbers, and the statement "has possession of Saudi passport and ticket."⁴⁷
 - (S//NF) A variant of detainee's alias, Rawwaha al Arabi, was listed under the title "Martyrs and Missing from Mazar-e-Sharif; Jenki Fort." This listing was included in a recovered document containing lists of people killed in Tora Bora, Kandahar, Northern Afghanistan, and Mazar-e-Sharif. (Analyst Note: The purpose, date, and author of these lists are unknown.)⁴⁸
 - (S//NF) On 18 November 2002, the Irish National Police (Garda) arrested and questioned Libyan extremist and document forger, Ibrahim Mohammed Mustafa, aka Abu Hafs. A search of his residence revealed fifty-six pages of typed and hand-written documents in Arabic and English. A variant of detainee's alias, Abu Rawwaha (LNU), associated with the phone number 7949871375, was found listed among the people / numbers associated with the United Kingdom (UK).⁴⁹ (Analyst Note: It is possible that this is a reference to detainee.)
- (S//NF) Several known and assessed Al-Qaida associated individuals identified detainee as a front-line fighter.
 - (S//NF) SA-204 identified detainee as Rawaha al-Arabi and claimed he was in SA-204's group of twenty or twenty-two men on the front line, though SA-204 and detainee did not share a bunker.⁵⁰
 - (S//NF) SA-204 also reported that Rawaha al-Arabi was in the Kandahar, AF, training camp.⁵¹ (Analyst Note: It is assessed that SA-204 referred to Al-Farouq, which was located in Kandahar prior to 11 September 2001.)

c. (FOUO) Detainee's Conduct: Detainee is assessed as a MEDIUM threat from a detention perspective. Detainee's overall behavior has recently been somewhat compliant and non-hostile to the guard force and staff. Detainee currently has 18 reports of disciplinary infractions, with the last occurring on 18 July 2005 when he failed to comply with guard instructions to return to his bay in W Block because he wanted to be moved to another camp. Other incidents for which detainee has been disciplined include assault (major and minor), making threats, taking part in/inciting disturbances, destruction of US property, possessing contraband (food etc), and cross block talking. Detainee has been generally well behaved in 2005, but did provide moderate support to the 2005 voluntary total fast by refusing 33 meals in August, as well as 9 meals in September. Additionally, he participated in the W Block CODEL disturbance in mid-July. During his time at Camp Delta, detainee has, on occasion, been noted preaching to the entire block. On 6 May 2004, he preached to F Block that it is their duty to kill non-Muslims. As recently as 10 August 2005 he was noted speaking to the entire block, with all the other detainees listening intently, and one detainee refusing a movement until the speech was finished. The last hostile action directed at a guard was on 16 January 2004 when detainee incited a disturbance and threw water and bodily fluids.

8. (S//NF) Detainee Intelligence Value Assessment:

- a. (S) Assessment: JTF GTMO determined this detainee is of LOW intelligence value.
- b. (S//NF) Placement and Access: Detainee's brother was a Taliban member and known Al-Qaida recruiter. Detainee admits spending a significant amount of time at Malek Center, an Al-Qaida weapons training facility. He stayed at multiple Al-Qaida and Taliban safe houses. Detainee spent several months on the front lines fighting against the coalition. He probably served as a member of UBL's former 55th Arab Brigade. Detainee was present during the Qala-I-Jenki prison uprising. Detainee may have trained at the Derunta camp.

c. (S//NF) Intelligence Assessment: Despite the detail contained in detainee's account, considerable gaps remain in the understanding of the nature of his activities during his two trips to Afghanistan. It is not known what training he received at the Malek center. It is also unclear if he was the individual who trained under chemical and poisons trainer Abu Khabab at Derunta. If he received advanced training at either of these locations, his intelligence value and threat are significantly enhanced. His close familial ties to an Al-Qaida recruiter also raise questions about additional areas for further exploitation.

d. (S//NF) Areas of Potential Exploitation:

- Malek Center
- Al-Qaida recruiters, including his brother, and recruitment processes
- Detainees at Guantanamo Bay
- Uprising in Mazar-e-Sharif
- Guesthouses, safe houses, facilitators

9. (S) EC Status: Detainee's enemy combatant status was reassessed on 23 October 2004, and he remains an enemy combatant.
