The New York Gazette

WEDNESDAY, JULY 30, 1812.

An American Lady—The two American ladies, whose names are prominent in the reigning belle of Baltimore and New York, are the toast of the town. The one is the charming daughter of Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, one of the worthiest signers of the Declaration of American Independence. The other is the daughter of a wealthy merchant, who resides in Charlestown, Massachusetts. The two are often seen together, and are frequently invited to dinner parties by their hosts. They are both highly educated and well-read, and have a great deal in common. From the Baltimore Compiler.

From the Newspaper.

The future of the country is in the hands of the people. The war with England has brought about great changes, and many believe that this is the time to make the necessary reforms. The government must be reformed, and the people must be educated. The war has brought about great changes, and many believe that this is the time to make the necessary reforms. The government must be reformed, and the people must be educated. From the New York Times.

The war with England has brought about great changes, and many believe that this is the time to make the necessary reforms. The government must be reformed, and the people must be educated. The war has brought about great changes, and many believe that this is the time to make the necessary reforms. The government must be reformed, and the people must be educated. From the New York Times.

For Sale.

16,000 Pipe States for sale on application.

P. B. WOOD.

July 30.

THE LONDON Bottle.

A recent visit to Paris has revealed that the French are highly interested in American literature. Many of the leading Parisian publishers are looking to American authors for new material, and are willing to pay high prices for the rights to American books. From the New York Times.

A recent visit to Paris has revealed that the French are highly interested in American literature. Many of the leading Parisian publishers are looking to American authors for new material, and are willing to pay high prices for the rights to American books. From the New York Times.

For Sale.

16,000 Pipe States for sale on application.

P. B. WOOD.

July 30.