FOR GOVERNOR: J. B. DAWSON.

We are requested to announce M. W. Hoffman, J. F. Canonge, John N. Dancan, and Louis Allard, as capdilates for the legislature at the ensuing election.

The mail, from alobite, failed yesterday. We should like the steamboats to be somewhat more of vehicles of intelligence, and desert "laboratories of salt."

After long expectation, foreign intelligence is daily pros-sing upon us in rapid succession. On Wodnesday, we had Paris papers of the Sth; and Thursday, Havre of the 14th of January. Yesterday, we received our files of Mexican papers from the 2d of January, to the 14th of February inclusive. They; however, contain nothing particula:

From Mexico.—The candidates, to the presidential chair of the Mexican republic, supported by the federal party, are general anna, of the state of Vera Cruz; Valentine Gomez Fana, of Jalisco: Juan Pablo Anana, of the same Gomez Fara of Jalisco; Juan Pablo Anapa, of the same state, Jose Sale do, of Michoscan; Louis Cortazar, of Guanajua@and Jose Joaquin Herrera, of Vera Cruz. From Mexico Phora of the 9th, we learn that elections are carpublic The Columna de la Federacion, from authorities in the possess of the editors, expresses a sanguine hope in the same president with the president with the president with the president with the founders of the federal system, and a determined and successful opposer of the law ess administra-And of the usurper at Zacatecas.

All repeaking, with these cheering accounts, we meet with an article in the Fanal de Toluca, which speaks of a very spirited official communication, between the authorist touching the convention of Zacadeba, the execution of which is demanded by the general government, in spite of the opposition of Zacadeba, the execution of the oppos In conclusion, with these cheering accounts, we

a career of usefulness, which he was pursuing in behalf of the best interests of Mexico.

General Santa Anna, who now goes by the exclusive ap pollation of the liberator, reached Vera Cruz, his native city, on the 2d of February. The commander of the state, a committee of the ayuntamiento, together with a concourse of citizens, went out to Vera Cruz to meet his approach The reception of this eminent personage was truly in accordance with the noble behaviour which characterized him in the late contest between freedom and usurpation. Millitary honors and popular rejoicings have marked his entrance in the keroic city. .

Not by our own exchanges—for we received but one Charleston paper of the 19th, the day before yesterday but from the columns of our cotemporaries, we lea n that a fusion of principles has taken place between Henry Clay and John C. Culhoun—that they have excrificed perty ambition at the altar of public good. We hail this as a foreto ken of returning peace, and concord in this happy country. It is but right that those, who have been the projectors and shettors of means of discontent, should step forward in the hour of danger-abjure personal considerations-and bind back the fast dissolving fasces of this our glorious confederacy. It is the more to be prayed for, as the liberal nations of Europe have fastened their attention upon us-some it melancholy contemplation of our feuds-others in joyful speciancy of our dismemberment.

McDuffie and Carson.—Without pretending to justify the spirit, at such a moment as this, when the passions of our public men are no highly inflamed, and so easily excited to the commission of imprudent acts, dictated Mr. Vinten's remarks, we are nevertheless glad that the course of Mr. McDuffie met with the response which it received—the hisses of the House. It appears to us that that gentleman a laways eager to trample upon the feelings and rights of isembers, whose education and early associations have taught them to look upon the Southern mode of adjusting quarrels, as but little better than murder; and who from that of some other cause, permit their noses to be twenked, and quarrels, as but little better than murder; and who from that of some other cause, permit their noses to be tweaked, and their feelings to be outraged, without resenting it promptly and decisively. He ought, however to blot from the re-cords the history of his running fight with Col. Cumming.

PROM THE PENNSTLYANIAN.

Commonwielth, vs. John J. Branden; before the Mayor of Philadelphia.—A case of some interest was heard on Monday and Tuesday before his honor the Mayor. The above named defendant is a young German, and by profession a little grapher. In the department of writing upon stone, he possesses eminent skill in this branch of his art, he is perhaps without an equal in this country. For some months prior to December last, he had been engaged in the establishment of Measirs. Child and Inman of this sity. In December he left them, and has since been employed extensively in the city of Washington. Mr. Ghilds having occasionally missed sundry articles of value from his establishment, deemed himself authorized, after Mr. Brandon had left him, te make an affidavit before the Recorder, charging Mr. B. with having stolen various articles, among had left him, to make an affidavit before the Recorder, charging Mr. B. with having stolen various articles, among them a pen-knife, an oil stone, and some impressions of prints. This affidavit was forwarded to the governor of Pennsylvania, with a request that he would make a demand on the chief executive magistrate of the District of Columbia, for the street of Brandon, and his surrender to an agent from Pennsylvania. Mr. High constable Blay-ney secondingly protected to Washington, and finding Ma Brandon surrounded by respectable friends, and ready to rectum instantly to Philadelphia, came back with him without obtaining process to arrest him in Washington, where it appeared the accusation had been previously made before a anagic trate where Mr. Brandon was under bail before a magistrate where Mr. Brandon was under bail.before a snagit trate where Mr. Brandon was under bail.—
On Monday moraing the hearing was commenced before a the Mayor of Philadelphia and was continued on Tuesday and after a full and careful investigation, the Mayor declared, that though under the poculiar circumstances of the case, he thought Mr. Childs was so far justified in his susperions as to authorise him to institute a thorough investigation; yet the examination had satisfied him (the Mayor) that the defendant was innocent on the matters charged, and that there was no ground to bind him over to the Mayor's Court for trial. He was accordingly at once discharged, ed.

Li appeared, during the investigation, that sundry articles had been really missed from time to time out of Mr. Child's establishment, the possession of which, after they so make the sundry articles one new was attributable to day, individual. In two cases, however, in which articles one sunsing were found, and the mystery explained, no case missing were found, and the mystery explained, no case make a stributable to day. Brandon's case one results in the most of the house by Mr. Brandon's case of the stablishment. The further investigation of the following is described by the stablishment. The further investigation of the found has a first of the following the second which are the sunsy improvant to be conducted as might be found insect. BORROWING.

There is no class of people more annoying in a community than those who are eternally in the habit of borrowing—who through extreme parsimony neglect to provide themselves with the various articles which are considered in the penalshe in a well regulated family, and subsist almost entirely at the expense of their neighbors. But it is a notorious f ct, which we dare say many of our readers will bear witness to, that there are many families, who seem to make it the chief business of their lives to borrow.

"My dear," said Mirs, Green to her husband one morning, "the meal which we borrowed from Mr. Black a few days ago, is almost out, and we must bake to-morrow."

Well? said her suchased from the first sames of bonds of the state in the bank of Louisfinal General Juckson—I sm too much hungry and pairwer rmy evening in the month of February when his family was about retiring for the night to their respective spart-ments, a loud rap was heard at the door, which on being opened there entered a little uncin, who said his mammy, who lived but a few paces distant, had sent her respects, and wished to borrow a warming-nan to warm her bed, as the wished to borrow a warming-pan to warm her bed, as the nig t was cold, and they had none in the house. The medicant, who humbly solicits alms at your gate tells you that he is the child of poverty; and his squalled features and fifthy rags confirm the tale. You cheerfully render him all the assistance in your power, conscious that virtue sometimes dwe'ls beneath a tattered garb. The highwayman, who knocks you down and then summons you to stand, gives you as convincing, though rather unwelcome proof, that however degraded the wretch may be from the presence of write, yet courage still ennobles his heart.
