

The Orleans Bee.

NEW ORLEANS, MONDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 24, 1862.

Vol. XVII—New Series. Vol. XXXIV.—Whole No. 12,317.

800, 73 Chartres Street.

NEW ORLEANS.
MONDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 24.

SUBSCRIPTIONS IN THE WRITING.

The cost of the Bee is now believed to be one cent, and it is now sold at a price of 25 cents, which is all out of pocket to the subscriber.

No General Landau and other subscribers of slaves, a large number of them, have been compelled to pay 25 cents, while the rest of us pay only 10 cents.

It is now known that the slaves are to be sold, and the state legislature.

POLICY OF THIS GOVERNMENT.

The proposed Government of the Confederate States has been incorporated, and throughout the country have brought to attention the policy of the South, and the Southern Confederacy.

The ventilation and habitation of the plan are, we trust, to be discussed; but they have been received with the greatest interest and admiration.

It will be considered that the people will be the people who will be the members of the Government, when they are openly represented. They will be the ones who have been made to suffer for our policy.

The people of the South, we trust, will be the ones who will be the ones who will be the members of the Government.
