LIVERPOOL, Jan. 1, 1836.

Annexed we beg to wait on you with annual report of our market. The stock of Cotton has proved rather more than was naticipated, but from the reduced stock in the hands of the trade, we feel satisfied that the consumption has again been more than equal to the supply—in America cottons decidedly so.

The President's Message is considered here as pacific, and has had a favourable effect on the fundation, and has had a favourable effect on the fundations of the week were 28000 bales, of which 3500 American and 2000 Egyptian on speculation, with some little improvement in prices. The rade in the interior is very encouraging.

Yesterday we received the Philidelphia, Baltimore Yesterday we received the runtucipina, Balinds and Washington journals of the 13th inst; and Charleston of the 17th; but none east of Philadelphia.

There had been an arrival at New York and at Charleston of packets from Liverpool of the 1st ult; the intelligence by which had been received here pre-viously, with the exception of the markets, which are extracted; and the information that the president slast annual message had been received in England, and gave so much sutisfaction that the money rose in consequence, while the produce market experienced a reduction in prices. This is however but temporary.

We are unfortunately compelled to omit some items, which we would fain give to our readers, in consestruct the communes of the sample and report on the expediency of opening a communication of the Mississippi river with the gulf of Mexice, immediately oppracticable, and it would be essentially useful.

It is earnestly to be hoped that some measure of this nature will soon be adopted, to prevent the total obcommerce of New Orleans.

Were the bill for the division of the city, like that proposed by Mr Davidson, we would strenhously oppose it; but as it is only for separate municipalities under a comnot technics of sectional hostitutes between the minor-palities, we carnestly call on the members of both houses to give it their cordial support: and in doing so, we trust and think that we utter the sentiments of four-fifths of the citizens of New Orleans.

Mr Hoa again advocated the speedy passage of the bill as it is one of the utmost importance to the efficient administration of justice—one celled for by the majority of his constituents—one which can easily be understood, without requiring delay. He has learned not to postpone till to-morrow what can be done to day; and thinks no time can be more apportune than the present for passing this bill. It should have been done seen for passing this bill. It should have been done to the remark that a similar bill has been cejected in the house, it can have no avail with him: for he thinks and acts for himself, as a sense of duty declares for the welfare of his constituents. The members of the members of the legislature should recollect that there will be a general election in July hext; & the people will be mede acquainted with their vote on a question of such vital importance to the interest of the State—If at that pariod they can answer to their constituents so much the better; but they should refelect in time.

The following letter was received from the major Mayoralty of New Orleans, Feb 24.

To the president and members of the city council. To the president and members of the city council.

Gentlemen,
As the council seems to have resolved to provide for the support of the night watch of the 5th district, I thought it would be proper to return to your farther consideration the resolution of the 17th inst, by which you make a new provision of three theusand dollars for the support of said guard; because such provisions reiterated at such short periods, would, be more burthensome to the city than if you were at once to resolve to take the whole of that guard into the pay of the corportion, and allow to each of the members of said guard, the same salary paid to the members of the city guard. Buch a measure would not hinder you from keeping this corps organised as it is, if you think it is necessary or useful. I take the liberty to submit this suggestion for you to set upen as you may think proper.

rose suggestion for you to act upon as you may think proper.
It is with a heartfelt satisfaction that I transmit to you a letter of My Webster from Washington, dated the 9th inst, informing us that the suit pending between the United State a and the corporation for certain properties situated between the old from of the city, and the lavee, has been adjudged by the supreme court in favor of the corporation. As soon as the decree of the court is fully made known to see, I shall lose no time to lay it before you.

To the president and members of the city council.

Gentlemen,
Since writing you my last letter under same date, I have received a letter from Mr Livingston in which is inclosed a copy of the judgment rendered by the supreme court in favor of the corporation. For your infornation I transmit to you these two documents.—You will see that Mr Livingston expecting a salary of twenty seven thousand dollars for professional services rendered to the corporation, has thought proper in advance, to have his claim discounted for twenty five thousand dollars in one of the northern banks. The drafts of said bank has been presented to me by the Cashier of the Commercial bank of New Orleans, for acceptance, but I cid not think proper to do it without your agreement. Therefore I wish you would resolve on that subject, so that I may know how to act.

Respectfully gentlement.

A late English writer complains of the quantity of instrumentation introduced into orchestral accommiment in modern times. He says if the exuberance in this respect of Yon Webster were to be applied to Mozatl's harmonies it would completely drown them. Rossini is considered by the writer as very capable in this practice, of whom he says rather snappishly.—

The human tympanum can bear nothing but the seating of drums and the braying of trumpets and trompones introduced by the followers of the Rossini school; and temporary vogue of a fashion of consposing which is a mere cloak for ignorance and incapacity, appears passing away.

"Resolution concerning Thomas Curry, reporter of the decisions of the supreme court."

"Resolution concerning Thomas Carry, reporter of the decisions of the supreme count."

"An act to amend an act to incorporate the New Orleans and Carroliton railroad company."

"Resolution authorizing the governor to pay the expenses of the volunteers under del Leonard." And "An act to amend an act to incorporate the New Orleans improvement company."

Mr Bossier, on part of the joint committee appointed to examine the affairs of the Carroliton railroad and banking company presented the following report:

The committee appointed to examine into the affairs of the Carroliton bank respectfully report:

Your committee have performed the duty you assigned to them, and lay before you a statument of the affairs of the Carroliton bank respectfully report:

Your committee have performed the duty you assigned to them, and lay before you a statument of the affairs of the bank, from which it appears, your committee laving made itself certain of the fact, that the bank is in the most prosperous condition; and if it be considered that the bank only commenced operations in November last, there is ground to hope that, if the board continues to act with the same prudence and discernment the institution will offer to its stockladders as great advantages, and to the public as many guarantees as other matitutions antecedently established.

Your committee can but give credit to the readiness with which the board of directors have furnished them with all desirable information; even anticipating the questions of your committee.

It appears from the statement accompanying their report, that out of a capital of three millions, only twenty-five per cent have been paid in, which, together with the portion of the old stock paid up in full, makes 3933,175, from which must be ideuted 5351,786.76

Already employed in the Carroliton railroad, its several branches, and in the purchase of property and in intilding thereon. The bank has in sums on deposite, for which the bank pays an interest.

The bank has leaned on pledge of stock only $25,450, a fact which your committee has noticed with the more satisfaction as it was feared that this institution was only the speculation of a few individuals who intended to borrow from the bank to pay up their shares.

The exchange operations of the bank appear to have proved very advantageous, since, in so short a time, the profits therefrom have already augmented to the sum of $13,192 72. These transactions, being made entirely on the credits procured by the bank in the north and in Europe, have not deprived the public in any manner of the benefits of discounts.

The specie on hand amounting to $83,228 82 is more than sufficient for the amount of circulation which does not exceed $141,700; and the confidence this institution inspires, even in its infancy, is attested by the amount of deposites, which are $249,570 22.

To conclude, your committee are of opinion that if the charter of this bank was amended, dispensing them To conclude, your committee are of opinion that if the charter of this bank was amended, dispensing them from making the road to Bayou Sura, and the balance of the capital called in, at such times as the direction may deem proper, the country would sajoy the advantages which the bank now affords to the city by the castaltisalment of the different branches, with a capital of 1,400,000, which, it might be observed, leave too large a proportion to the capital of the mother bank of 1,400,000, which, it might be considered, its large a proportion to the capital of the mother bank.—All of which is respectfully submitted.
P. E. BOSSIER,

Chairman of the senate.
