

Una fragata española ha llegado el Domingo pasado, a la Baliza, con despachos para el Sr. almirante Laborde.

INOLATERRA. Hemos recibido, por el correo del Norte que ha llegado aquí ayer, noticias de Londres con fecha 22 de Julio. Se dice que la Irlanda está ahora en el estado de las lamentosas, por una guerra civil entre los Católicos y los Orangistas, y que muchos habitantes fueron muertos por los dos partidos.

Se dice también que el Sr. Peel va a suceder a Lord Wellington en el primer ministerio, y que este último está de mala humor.

Se habla mucho en Londres de un tratado de comercio que se debe hacer entre Inglaterra y la Francia; prueba de la inteligencia que existe entre los gobiernos de estos dos naciones.

ESPAÑA. Londres, 21 de Julio.

Las cartas de Madrid, fecha 4 de Julio, dicen que el conde de Oñate estaba la víspera de marcharse para París, y que el estado del tesoro público parecía de peor en peor. Se afirma que los ministros Ballesteros y Burgos no pueden satisfacer a las urgencias de las necesidades del Estado.

VERACRUZ.

Hoy insertamos una noticia de las fuerzas militares que existen en la actualidad en el Estado de Yucatan, cuya totalidad asciende a 19,291 hombres correspondientes a los batallones de la milicia activa y local, debiéndose agregar a esta suma 1748 plazas de los batallones 6º y 13 de línea que se hallan en dicho Estado de guarnición.

Table with 2 columns: Military rank and number of personnel. Includes Coronels (16), Captains (152), Sergeants (203), etc.

Total 19,291.

Hemos sabido que el batallón activo de Tres-Villas ha llegado a las órdenes del teniente coronel D. Pedro Lemaus con cuatrocientas plazas, y que en dicha villa recibirá ochocientos reemplazos que ya están listos del contingente de fuerza perteneciente al Estado. Como los mas de dichos reemplazos han sido cívicos y están instruidos en el manejo del fusil, tendremos en muy breves dias al batallón de Tres-Villas con 1,200 soldados, tan valientes como han probado toda vez los hijos del territorio veracruzano. Asi mismo se nos asegura que el núm. 5 de caballería estará a esta fecha en San Andres Chalchicomula con 600 hombres al mando de su coronel D. Juan Andrade. Sea en hora buena, mientras que el gobierno se mueve a tomar las demas providencias que exigen imperiosamente la crítica situación de la república.

El Café.—Nos ha parecido curioso un aviso que se halla en un periódico antiquísimo de Londres, por cuanto manifiesta que este artículo no era conocido en Europa hasta mediados del siglo diez y siete: "En Bartholomew lane, detras de la antigua bolza, se halla de venta la bebida llamada Café, (muy sana y medicinal) que tiene excelentes virtudes: cierra el orificio del estómago, fortifica el calor interior, facilita la digestión, anima los espíritus, alegra el corazón, cura las úlceras, los catarros, la tos, el reumatismo, la lepra, la jaqueca, la hidropesía, la gata, el escorbuto, los lamparones &c. &c. Se vende por la mañana y a las tres de la tarde."

PARA LA HAVANA. La muy bella fragata española TRES AMIGOS, sus capitán W. Barjan, teniendo la mayor parte de su cargamento de vela en pocas dias: admite flete y pasajeros, teniendo buenas comodidades para ellos, acudir en casa de JOSE PRATS. Calle de Anna No. 52. 10 de Sept.

FREE PORT AT MARTINICO.—Capt. Knapp, arrived at Newburyport on Monday, reports (as we learn from the Newb. Herald.) that the port of Marand Bay, between Port Royal and Trinity, was opened, by orders from the French government, on the 6th July, for the free admission of all descriptions of imports. Ev. Post, Aug. 22.

New-York, August 21. From Sisal.—A letter from Sisal dated the 22d of July, to a respectable mercantile house in this city, states that all was confusion there in consequence of the expectation of a visit from the Spanish fleet, of whose movements they had been advised. The troops were all under arms, and preparations making to give them a warm reception, if they should make that place the point of debarkation.—Gaz.

We learn by the Columbus (Georgia) Enquirer, that the Creeks have sent deputations to the Cherokees, Choctaws & Seminoles, to form a confederacy against the whites. They propose murdering every white west of Flint River. If this rash policy is persisted in, their total extermination must be the consequence.

From the Essex County Ship, Bloom, Aug. 15. Hurricane.—On Sunday the 9th inst. there was one of the most destructive gales ever known in this vicinity. It passed over Split Rock Mountain (in the south part of this town,) and across the Lake into Vermont.—It blew down houses, tore up trees, and stripped vessels not only of their loads, but of their spars, booms, gaffs and rigging. A small girl named Malvina, daughter of Mr. Luther Stought, about 12 years old, had been down to the lake, and while returning, a board was blown from the house and struck her on the neck, which almost severed her head from her body, and killed her instantly. The house was blown down, and the roof carried entirely into the lake. A h-m-ck tree 18 inches through was twisted off and taken from the bank and carried completely over a vessel that lay moored near the shore, into the lake. A hay stack was taken up entire, and carried almost wholly across the lake, a distance of a mile and a half. Considerable other damage was done, but how much, has not yet been ascertained.

New-York, August 22. Still later from Europe.—The Boston papers of yesterday, received by this morning's mail, bring advices from Liverpool to the 24th, and from London to the 22d of July inclusive, received there by the packet ship Liverpool, Capt. Howes. All the information of importance relative to the war in the east has been anticipated by the late arrivals here. Francis B. Ogden, Esq. Consul of the United States at Liverpool, arrived at that port on the 21st of July. Considerable disturbances had taken place in the north of Ireland on the 12th of July, in consequence of quarrels between the Orangemen and Catholics. Twenty persons were killed in Ulster, and a part of the country of Donnegal was in a state of fearful commotion. The streets of Belfast were crowded with a mob which intercepted the coaches. The Orangemen paraded through Lorne, and, arriving at the Roman Catholic Chapel, fired several volleys of musketry over it, reviling the Catholics, their religion, and priesthood. The Catholics, however, suffered the insult to pass without notice. On 14th a quarrel, in which the Orangemen are said to have been the aggressors, took place near Enniskillen. It was on the anniversary of the battle of Aughrim. The Protestants were armed with muskets; the Catholics seized upon scythes and pitchforks. The Catholics having been fired upon, and several of their number wounded, made a furious charge upon their antagonists, killed four, and wounded several others mortally. They afterwards formed an encampment on the summit of Benaughlin. The London Times of July 22d contains a notice of an interview which took place the day previous between His Grace the Duke of Wellington, and Mr. Secretary Peel, and which, it was conjectured, related to some new arrangements in the Ministry. An intimation is thrown out that the Duke is less popular than formerly; and it is suggested that it might be in contemplation that Mr. Peel should be made Premier. It was said that the Bishop of London would probably be appointed Archbishop of Canterbury.

The Emperor Nicholas has addressed a letter to General Diebitsch, congratulating him on the skill and valour displayed by him in the late defeat of the Grand Visier, conferring on him the order of St. George, and making a present of six of the cannon taken in the battle. Advices from Egypt state that the Pacha had resolved not to send any troops to the Turks in Asia, alleging the lateness of the season, and the unhealthy state of the country, as his excuse.

London, July 19. A report has been spread, that Mr. Huskisson has been invited to return to the Ministry, and that if he should return, a treaty of commerce with France will be one of his first measures. It may be stated from good authority, that something of this kind has been attempted by the present Board of Trade, but the French Ministry refuse to negotiate at all, except upon the assurance that France shall, as to its wines, be put upon the same footing as Portugal, and that at least one half of the duty shall be taken off French brandies.

Stipendious Understaking.—The long contemplated junction of the Rhine and the Danube is announced as about to be undertaken by a company in Paris, on a patent for ninety-nine years. The plan is, to enlarge and clear the channel of the Danube from Ulm to Tullingen, and thus into the grand duchy of Baden; to carry the navigation by a canal through the Black Forest, in the direction of the valley of the Kinzing; and, navigable to where it falls into the Rhine, near Kelb. The chief difficulty is expected in the Black Forest, where a tunnel will be necessary.

London, July 22. Despatches were received at the Foreign Office this morning from Lord Heytesbury, our Ambassador from St. Petersburg. The Wellington Administration is as firm as ever was Lord Liverpool's in the days of its greatest popularity. True, it has been beset with difficulties, true, it had prejudices to remove, animosities to soften, long-cherished opinions to grapple with and controvert—but it has performed its task manfully, has put forth all its Herculean energies, and is now in full enjoyment of its triumph. Where it even otherwise were it risky—and untraced—beset with treacherous friends and factious opponents, still, with the country in its favor, with the opinions of every honest man in the three kingdoms to second it, it could scarcely fail in time to gain strength, substance, and the materials of durability. But it is the very conviction of its strength that has so boldly arrayed our ultra contemporaries against the Wellington administration—This it is that they can neither forget nor forgive.—Sun.

By an order of the King in Council, dated July 16th, 1829, the port of St. John's Newfoundland, is declared a free warehousing port, for the purposes mentioned in act of Parliament passed in the 6th year of the present King's reign.

The writ for the Clare election was issued on the 16th of July. The next arrival will probably bring intelligence of Mr. O'Connell's election. Letters from Madrid to the 4th July, state that the Count D'Oñate was about to set out for Paris. The financial state of Spain seems to get worse and worse, and the Ministers, M. de Ballesteros and M. Burgos, are asserted to be much embarrassed for sufficient monies to meet the exigencies of the State. The revenue was extremely deficient, and the government of the "Beloved" evidently bankrupt.

Lisbon and Oporto papers have been received to the 9th of July. Their contents merely relate to the captures of the blockading squadron off the Island of Terceira. The whole number detained was three English and two Portuguese vessels. The London Gazette of the 17th July, contains an Order in Council, dated the 16th July, for suspending to the 16th July, 1830, the ballot for, and enrolment of, the Local Militia. This is in accordance with the reduction introduced by Mr. Peel during the Session.

The Paris Moniteur contradicts the statement which appeared a few days ago about the capture of a French schooner by the squadron of Don Miguel off Terceira. The Quotidienne has discovered a plot now forming by the Freemasons, and Knight Templars, for placing the son of Napoleon on the throne of Spain, that he may the more easily and conveniently reach that of France, and that the Throne of his father is now preparing to receive him at the Tuilleries!

Vienna, July 9. Letters from Odessa are full of reports of negotiations for peace, and it is believed there that hostilities will soon cease. In consequence of these letters our funds have risen considerably.

Frontiers of Italy, July 5. According to the latest accounts from Athens has capitulated to the Greeks. It is believed in Greece that the meeting of the National Assembly is deferred till the negotiations of the Three Powers with Porte respecting the future destinies of Greece shall be terminated. There is no doubt that if the choice of a head for the New State should be left to the Greek nation, it will fall on Count Capo D'Istria.

FRENCH NAVY.—On the 30th June in the Chamber of Deputies, Mr. Hyde de Neuville, the Minister of Marine, brought forward the navy estimates. The expenses of the French navy are this year fixed at 63,212,252fr., or about 12,000,000 dollars; and the number of armed vessels afloat is (stated at 127, among which there are only one ship of the line and 14 frigates. In comparing the naval resources of France with those of England, M. de Neuville stated that the latter possessed 338 steam-vessels, which, in case of emergency, could be seized by the Government and employed in towing ships of war. After detailing the stations of the different vessels which compose the 128 ships constituting the navy in actual service, the Minister entered into a history of the French marine, and its numerical strength at different epochs. In 1814, France had, employed in dock, 73 ships of the line; in 1816, 82; in 1817, 68; in 1819, 65; in 1824, 61; in 1825, 58; in 1828, 56; and the number afloat, and constructing in 1830, will be 52. In 1814, France had in frigates, 42; in 1823, 45; in 1824, 47; in 1828, 52; and in 1829, 55. On the first of January next the number will amount to 63. Thus, between 1814, and 1830, there will be a difference of 21 ships of the line and 21 frigates in favor of the latter period.

A letter from Cadiz, of June 28, received in this City, says, it was estimated that about 12,000 persons had emigrated to that place from Gibraltar, since the opening of the port. Merchandise of every description was pouring in from all quarters, and prices were, in consequence, greatly depressed. A gentleman who was adjudged to quarantine on Staten Island, having come up to this city without permission, was on Saturday arrested by the Health officers, and remanded to the Island. The fine for this offence is one thousand dollars.—[N.Y. Jour. of Com.]

New Publication.—"Cebel Teir," or Mountain of Birds: a curious production, in which all the pretty birds are made to talk politics, in common council assembled, on the top of Cebel Teir, a mountain in Egypt, 24 miles from Euseneh, which has its name from a conceit of the Arabs that all the birds of the Universe hold a council there annually. The United States, Spain, Turkey, Greece, England, France the Elysian Fields, &c. &c. each have their representatives there, and we need not say that each endeavour to do honor to his country.

Anecdote of an English Sailor.—The following anecdote appears in a recent French paper.—While the French troops were encamped at Boulogne, public attention was much excited by the daring attempt at escape made by an English sailor. This person, having escaped from the depot, and gained the borders of the sea, the woods on which served him for concealment, constructed, with no other instrument than a knife, a boat entirely of the bark of trees. When the weather was fair, he mounted a tree and looked out for the English flag; and having at last observed a British cruiser, he ran to the shore with his boat on his back, and when he was about to trust himself to the mercy of the waves, he was pursued, arrested, and loaded with chains. Every body in the army was anxious to see the boat, and Napoleon, having at length heard of the affair, sent for the sailor and interrogated him. "You must, said Napoleon, have had a great desire to see your country again, since you could resolve to trust yourself on the open sea in so frail a bark. I suppose you have left a sweetheart there." "No," said the sailor, but a poor and infirm mother, whom I was anxious to see." "And you shall see her," said Napoleon, giving, at the same time, orders to set him at liberty and bestow upon him a considerable sum of money for his mother observing that she must be a good mother who had so good a son.
