ROBBERY OF THE CITY BANK. One of the most extensive bank robberies that has fallen to our lot to record, has taken place since the closing of the City Bank, on Saturday last. At the usual hour this morning Mr. Lancaster S. Burling, the first teller, unlocked the vault, to take out the necessary money for the business of the day. On his entering he found that since he deposited the money on Saturday afternoon, the vault had been entered; and it was noon ascertained that in team'

FRANCE. The great tranquility with which the offer of the Crown to the Duke de Nemours, and the refusal of it, were received at Paris, proves the etrong desire which exists of preserving good order and peace with all countries. Military ardour is not extinct here; but love of industry and tranquillity has succeeded to dreams of disesterous ambition. In a short time, by the re- 50 hhds. at 71, and several parcels at 7 port of the War department, we shall have 900 cents. pieces of field artillery ready for defence, but they will rust before they are loaded in aggres-nive war. About the refusal of the young Duke, questions will undoubtedly arise in the chamber. I know that members will press upon the ministers to explain why they acted with such haste; for the courier who was sent with the rejection left the Palais Royal last night at 9 o'clock. It appears that the possibility of 1-ny charge of unfairness being brought against our or collect king. whose long consideration of the or qualities would have led some sus arreas persons to suppose that our cabinet deliberated on necepting now what it had long dedicted a weather reject. this possibility, it appears, was the monve decided an instant declaration. The circumstance, too, of the Archduke Charles getting 35 votes on the first division on the question in congress, is considered with great reason as having had no small influence on the resolution of our government. The circumetance that three votes are Orange votes is of no importance.

The statements adduced by the different gentlemen in support of their respective motions were mos conclusive, and proved, in the clearest possible manner, the injustice and impolicy of continuing the present monopoly to the East India company, and also the unspeakable advantage which, in every point of view, a free and unrestricted intercourse with China and India would confer on the inhabitants of this country. The mean ares adopted, and the arguments brought forward, by the hon. company, in order to perpetuate their monopoly, were freely canvassed and condemned; and it was regretted that the duty of petitioning for a removal of the existing re strictions should have been altogether left to the merchant, when it was notorious and unques-

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC. CHANCE has thrown together, in this city, a company of Spanish actors, who, upon encouragements held forth by a number of ains. teurs, have resolved to enter into an engagemen with the administration of the Orleans stree Theatre. Ever ready to combilete to the incre e of public amusement, the manager of tha institution has consented to give them an oppor tunity of exhibiting a specimen of their talents and of the system of Spanish declamation. Ma ny of the company have performed with uncours ocal success on the different European and A. merican Stages. One of them is advantageously kn wn, by several persons now in Orleans as ai actor of distinguished merit; another, the rival of the celebrated Marques, the Talma of Spain, in his long theatrical career, has acquired deserved cotton and a deck load, apply to celebrity. These artists and their fellowactors desirous of meeting the wishes of their friends and those of the lovers of scenic representation, but tranciled by the small number of their company, propose to perform four in hts only, during which they will enact several of the choisest such as Boleros, Fandangos, Fandangos with nimicts, executed by two renowned dancers. Orestes, translated from the Italian of Alfieri. performed with the utmost care. The part of ORESTAS to be sustained by BERNARDO ARECHt.v. who has performed on the Theatre Royal, and on the provincial boards of Spain, with in the first line of the profession, on the several Spanish and American Theatres, will by Soles, the Sevillian poet, will be got up, and Manques. Dirao M. GARAY, who has played personate Pylades; the parts of Cytemaestre and Elected by Mrs. Garcia and Marsinez. For the second night will be performed F. N. Gall go's Tragedy entitled Oscar, a poet known by his many lyrical compositions, and various translations of "Ossian's poems.

The comedy of the "Certain for the uncertain"

(El cierto por el dudoso) of the old Spanish school, written by Lopez de Vega, the rival and cotemporary of the immortal. Shakespeare, and reviled by Trigeures, will offer a model of purity of style and harmony of language, while it gives an idea of the amatory phrase of those days. THE WEATHERCOCK, (El Veleia) a comedy ranscated from the French by Mr Trueray Colli o, is a model of the successful manner of rendering with natural precision the ideas and style of a foreign language.

Mr. Tiburcio and Mrs. Marlinez will give an idea of the graceful Bolero and lively Fandago The company dure presume that they have a claim on the indulgence & patronage, of the N Orleans public, especially as they never with-hold them from the deserving, who devote themselves to their amusement, and are ever ready to view with a lenient eye the imperfections which more or less accompany the pursuits of every artist.
