ARRIVAL OF THE BRUNSWICK FROM BATON ROUGE.—A Confederate Prisoner Dis-ed.—The U. S. transport steamer New Brunswick, Captain Winchester, arrived this morning from Baton Rouge. The New Brunswick left there at 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon and at the Confederate prisoners on board, the purpose of putting them on board of the splendid steamer Empire, which boat she passed about midday yesterday, five miles above Baton Rouge, with all were on board of the steamer Empire they made a rush to one side of the boat for the purpose of giving three cheers to Col. Clark and officers of the New Brunswick, which caused the Empire to careen over, throwing them all into the water, by which six of the prisoners were drowned. We could not learn their names.

NORTHERN INTELLIGENCE.

The Chicago Times Suppressed by Grant's Department.

FROM THE YAZOO PASS.

We have received a batch of Southern papers, which embrace to later dates than those already published, but we find some interesting particulars which have not yet been given to the public. Our dates go as far back as the 9th, and complete our advices to the 18th inst.

A Fredericksburg dispatch of the 14th announcing the receipt of the New York Herald of the 13th, in which reference is made to the movement in West Tennessee to settle present difficulties, gives that following particulars of the appointment of a Committee of Conference:

The Legislature appointed a committee to confer with those of Indiana, Kentucky and other States, at Louisville in March. Governor Johnson, the committee to Nashville in advance of Louisville, and accepted the invitation. Republicans, the legal gentlemen in question, urged all the friends to vote the Democratic ticket in November last, to save the country from imminent Republican rule on the same issue. The message was opposed by the Abolitionists.

The Chicago Times Suppressed by Grant's Department.

(Special to the Appeal.)

Grenada, February 1.—Two Memphis papers of the 11th contain an order prohibiting the circulation of the Chicago Times in General Grant's department.

From the Yazoo Pass.

Grenada, February 1.—Later advices from the Yazoo Pass say the Federals have made some progress. The latest reliable information is to the effect that they have reached Greenwood, but think they will be Cedarwood and Greenwood while citizens from below regard the obstructions impassable.

Competent engineers with a large force of laborers are to remove the obstructions, and the enemy will be checked to enable the Commanding General to penetrate or check the progress of the expedition before it reaches a point where it can be seriously troublesome.

IMPORTANT FROM PORT HUDSON.

Capture of the Federal Steamer Queen of the West by the Confederates.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF CAPTAIN KELLY.

THE CONFEDERATE FLEET WORK IN PURSUIT OF THE FEDERAL STEAMER DE SOTO.

HER CAPTURE PROBABLE.

We have just received the Port Hudson News of the 17th and 20th inst., in which we find the following particulars of the capture by the Confederates of the Federal steamer Queen of the West, which recently run the batteries of Vicksburg.

The News of the 17th has the following:

LATER

Official Report of Captain Kelso

[Special to the Port Hudson News.]

CAPTURE OF THE QUEEN OF THE WEST.

Natchez, February 16.—General Dodgen informs us that he just conversed with a boy who was captured at this city by the Queen of the West, and who has just returned. The boy says the De Soto was took, and the Queen of the West captured on Saturday last, at Bolt Taylor, on Red river.

The information is credible. The boy also says the other gunboat the Oscioula has gone to endeavor to recapture the Queen of the West, as she now lies aground.

Headquarters Red River Forces, } January 19, 1863.

Major E. Surget A. A. G.

MAJOR—I have the honor to report that two Federal gunboats made their appearance in front of this position at 5 o'clock, last evening. I had previously assigned every officer to his post. Fire was therefore instantly opened on the enemy. After a brief cannonade the leading gunboat, the Queen of the West, struck her colors and immediately ordered Capt. Kelson, of the Confederate States Artillery and 1st lieut. DeLahunty to go on board and demand the unconditional surrender of the boat, officers and crew. These officers report that the 13 Boers and crew were found on board, the others having escaped under cover of the night.

The visible results of the capture consists in one 32 pound and one Parrott gun, one 24 lb. howitzer, two 12 pound Rodman brass pieces, one 10 do., slightly damaged.

I pass the expression of the senior commanding officer: "A treasurous supply of ordnance stores, a large supply of quinine, one fine case amputating instruments, one equally fine case dental instruments, and other very superior cases of surgical instruments, clothing, bacon, flour, beef, pork, hard bread, and other stores in proportion."

The list of prisoners I endose. Allow me, Major, to mention that for coolness and efficiency the officers and privates of the command are entitled to eminent credit. To satisfy you of the precision and accuracy of the fire thirteen out of thirty one shots from our batteries took effect on the enemy's boats.

Lieut. James DeLahunty performed efficient service: he suggested and volunteered to fire a warehouse, which would give us the enemy's range and position, in case of the darkness, and he accomplished the important and difficult undertaking with perfect success and signal gallantry.

All my officers discharged their duties with promptness and exemplary coolness.

I omitted to mention that the boat was loaded with bales of cotton.

I have the honor to remain,

Major, your obedient servant,

J. KELSO, Capt. Commanding Post.

A boat has been dispatched to the Forks to tow the Queen of the West to this place.

The News of the 17th also has the following:

Woodville, February 16.—A gentleman from the Atchafalaya gives an account of the depredations of a Federal gunboat crew in the Atchafalaya. He states they burned many residences, pillaging and sowing destruction broadcast through the country they have traversed.

At a point near Simmesport they were fired on by the Confederates, and one of a party of nine was killed. He was, it is stated, the second officer in command.

We learn from a gentleman just from the other side that the Federals, about 2,500 in number, have gone up the bayou Pacanniere with a gunboat, and are fortifying Indian Village. It was expected that they would next march on Rosedale, and give our troops there, under Colonel Scheller, a fight. Gen. Shelby's troops have left there and gone to Red river.

We are informed also that the Queen of the West had gone up the Atchafalaya, and on her

THE CONFEDERATES ON THE KENTUCKY BORDERS.—A correspondent of the Louisville Journal furnishes us with the following letter from the Kentucky borders:

Rebels on Our Borders.—We are informed that the rebels continue to commit great outrages in Butts, Rowan, Morgan, Magoffin, Breathitt, and Johnson counties, Kentucky. The rebel cavalry from the neighborhood of Cumberland Gap are visiting these counties, robbing the people of what small stores of provisions they have, driving off their stock, stealing horses, and carrying away whatever suits them. Many families have been reduced of all the provisions they possessed in the world, and are left entirely destitute, and much suffering must presently ensue. A good many recruits have left that section to join the rebel army at Cumberland Gap. The rebels at the Gap, and in its vicinity, are reported to be very destitute of provisions and clothing, and these raids are made to accumulate stores for the troops. There is also a considerable rebel force at Pikeville, in Pike county, and rebel raids from that point are of frequent occurrence.

CORP. DOUGLAS AS DESCRIBED BY A CHICAGO JOURNALIST.—The Chicago Post has the following description of Camp Douglas, as seen by its local editor:

The sudden arrival of thirteen hundred prisoners at Camp Douglas has had that place in anything like a comfortable condition to receive more than so many men. If the camp is a place for the country which in itself would be a punishment to Southern prisoners, it is the bleak spot except by the biting winds from the lakes which we call Camp Douglas. The pictures presented by these men huddling over the fires or crowding into the cozy nooks of the barracks not yet heated, is more dismal than pleasant. There is, however, a strong absence of complaint. The men are generally silent, and look at you with an expression confirmed of comparative comfort and frozen resignation. They have evidently endured too much to be cast down by the wintry imprisonment which, after all, brings with it an assurance of regular and substantial rations, which to many of them is undoubtedly a novelty.

JOHN MORGAN AGAIN IN CENTRAL KENTUCKY.—Passengers arriving by the Central Kentucky Railroad last night report that in Lexington the most intense excitement existed when the train left, at the announcement that John Morgan, at the head of a heavy force of cavalry, infantry and artillery, had passed South-ward, near Mill Spring, making for Lexington. A messenger arrived in Lexington on Thursday morning, stating that Morgan was encamped south of Lexington. He is expected at Lexington to-day. There are but few Federal troops in Kentucky, and it is apprehended that Morgan will again destroy the Kentucky Central Railroad, and make an advance on Cincinnati.—Cincinnati Enquirer of 20th.

THE SALE OF COTTON GOODS IN NEW YORK.—The New York Sun of the 19th publishes the following:

We have it upon the authority of Burleigh, the New York correspondent of the Boston Journal, that Mr. A. T. Stewart, of this city, has refused to sell cotton goods at any price, and that he has been engaged in having some of the goods he can purchase. Our entire stores have been taken, warehouses rented, and filled to the rafters with goods, and it is said that he has closed sales, and waits for a rising event. It is well known all the way through that Mr. Stewart has been a constant purchaser of goods for some months past, and that he has every confidence in the future. He has taken these steps without consulting any one, and the signs of the times are with him. He has had the monopoly of one kind of goods, for which the sale has been great, and the past year has been to him positively the most successful year he has ever known. Over fifteen millions dollars worth of goods he has sold within the year 1862, and with the breaking up of the Southern trade, a new open begin to open their eyes. If we have a battle and do not win, cotton goods will go up like gold.
