The body of the resolutions contains a kind of sermion to Congress on the inexpediency of any further modification of the system of imports. The governor is requested to transmit copies of the resolutions and report to each of the senators and representatives in Congress, and to the executive of every state in the union. grose, and to the executive of every state in the union.

The merchants of Quebec have addressed a petition to the Parliament of Lower Canada, setting forth that under the present rates of duty leviable in the Provinces on the articles of tes, sugar, coffee, salt and molarses, they cannot act in competition with the illegal traffic that will be carried on with the United States when, the new lariff goes into operation. To counteract the effects of that tariff, they therefore pray that the duties on ten may be taken off that the provincial duty on sugar may be reduced; and that the provincial duties on coffee, molasses and salt may be wholly taken off.

A French writer, with something like accuracy, has said that ours was essentially a romanue people. This assertion, what though not absolutely correct, is not without foundation; the spirit of migration is strongly characteristic of the habits of one portion at least of our vastly extended territaries. We learn from the northern papers, that a new expedition is fitting out for the Oregon, made up of a num ber of hardy and adventurous young men, intended to form a permanent settlement some eighty miles up the Columbia river. A pamplifet, containing full information on those drear possessions of ours in the north Pacific, represents the country as fertile, booky and irriguous-the streams aboun with fish, among which are the trout, the salmon, the cod, the sardine and the herring. The sea fisheries afford the whale, seal, sea etter, and the pearl muscle; the pearls, however, are said to be of an inferior quality. Among the quadrapeds, are the horse, moore, sik, deer, antelope, bear, welf, fox, beaver, and many other animals common to this country. The list of fowl includes the prairie hen, the coot, brant, goose, swan, phoasant, together with an unteld va-riety of ducks. The territory of Oregon, although within the 46th degree of latitude, is inilder than the state of New

Miss Grasser's recent marriage has led some persons to suppose that the School could no longer be maintained, and has prevented several from sending their children to it.—

This fear, however, is so much the more groundless, as Miss Granet has never been entrusted but with the teaching of Piano, Singing and Drassing, which she has promised to continue to attend to, as before.
