THE UNION-IT MUST BE PRESERVED. TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 15, 1824.

The city council, in their aiting of last evening, decreed asthumous honours to the memory of Lafayette. The na mre and order of the coremony are spread out at length in the programme which appears in our columns. We felt coninced that the city authorities would not neglect giving this ast memorial of respect and gratitude to one, who generously stood by our struggling liberties, at a time when men's sails looked out of their faces - John J. Mercier and Charles onrad, Esqs. have been requested by the committee to dever funeral orations on the day of comme noration.

So Mr. Stevenson has long been honored by the highest trusts of his native State, and has been elected by five successive Congresses, by the immediate Representatives of the People, as the head of the representative body of the Union, and yet the Senate has declared that such a man is not fit to represent the Government abroad! If neither Mr. Van Buren nor Mr. Stevenson are qualified for the station to which tren nor Mr. Stevenson are qualified for the station to which they were nominated, where was the President to look for one that was? Having presented to the Senate the two persons most distinguished by the favor of the American People, and by the immediate ropresentatives of the People, and the two persons in his own indgment, best qualified, we presume that the country will be satisfied that the President declined further effort to find a person better suited to the station.

we have before mentioned, that Mr. Stevenson had a recommendation, in addition to that of his general standing and high qualifications, which should have formed a special reason for the confirmation of the Scance. He was recommended by the republican delegation of Maine, (with the expension of Mr. Jarvis.) This State, it is known, has a peculiar interest in one of the most important subjects which could have demanded the attention of a Minister at the Court of London.—Globe, Enrolled,

Exchange,
Sixty-six lots of ground, situated in Chinchuba, or Lewisburgh, on the other side of Lake Pontchartrain; 2 miles from Mandeville, four miles from Madisonville, and 8 miles from Covington. One can go to all these places by excellent roads. The steamboat Delta, making the trips from Mandeville and Lewisburg, offers great advantages to the property of the p o those persons who would make this place their sun residence.

Baths are there very wholesome, and fish very abundant, as well as deer and game of all sorts. At a distance of about 20 acres from the lake there is a source of freeh and wholesdine water, that at all times may suffice five or six persons. The soil is very fertile. The whole forest us made up of oak, wall it and chestnut trees. It is believed that this land will yield whatever is produced on the banks of the Mississippi.

On one of the fots in erected a wooden store shout 50 feet long and 25 broad; with some repair, a family might spend there agreeably the summits season.
