TYPAPER, PUBLICATION TO THE WARREN OF A CONTRACT OF

POR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, HENRY CLAY.

(Subject to the decision of the American People.)

NEW-ORLEANS:
WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCT. 19, 1842.

The accounts from Trass brought by the schooner Henricita, are of strong and stirring interest. The long delayed and often menaced invasion of the Trass hereiton by an organized fotos, has been at length accomplished, and the border lips of the young republic has been traversed by maraviling herdes of Merican myrmidons. Santa Ana, it appears, describe his boastful threats, has productly abstained from Season at Nashville. All the science in extra sension at Nashville. All the science is this boastful threats, has productly abstained from Season of Sana Jacinto is yet uneffaced, and though his vinding and the member from Henderson. It is additionable to seek retribution in person. He despatches his said that appears that the Member from Henderson and the science of the afterceless village, said exercise their savage propensities for murdirectand pillage, upon every unarmed rean who may fall into their hands.

From the most authentic statements we can gather, it appears that the Mexican forces now in Texas or within the vicinity of the Rio Grande, do not exceed a few thousand men. They are under the command of the ablest and most experienced of the distance of stroy and desolate wherever they are unoposed, is reported to the stroy and desolate wherever they are unoposed, is reported to the stroy and desolate wherever they are unoposed, is reported to the whige, during the preparation of reconquering Texas is altogether improbable. Such an enterprise, we truly believe, would prove fruitiess, even though backed with quadruple the number of troops now in Texas, and we give Savra Ana credit fir sufficient sagacity to be away applied. A majority of the shige adopted the poinful sanguinary impulses, he determines to carry into excution his promises of molesting Texas as long as he possibly can. The war he now wages will be ones, and rapine and terror, not of conquest; and Texas may rapine and terror, not of conquest; and Texas may rapine and terror, not of conquest; and Texas may rapine and terror, not of conquest; and Texas may repert and should prepare for an institious and faithless fow who will disdain the appliances of sea honorable warfare, avoid all open and direct conflicts, and seek to carry devastation and destruction into the bosom of the land. Against an enemy at once convirully and cruel, it behooves the Texane to act with energy and expedition. The troops of our sister republic should never suffer these Mexican bandits to penetrate the interior of the country. They should never suffer these Mexican bandits to penetrate the interior of the country. They should never suffer these Mexican bandits to penetrate the interior of the country. They should never suffer these Mexican bandits to penetrate the interior of the country. They should never suffer these Mexican bandits to penetrate the interior of the country. They should never suffer these Mexican bandits to penetrate the interior of the country. They should never suffer these factors are required to the suffer of th emergy and expedition. The troops of our sister republic should never suffer these Mexican bandits to penetrate the interior of the country. They should be met upon the frontier and driven across, or forced into the field. If President Hournan meets the crisis with the determination and courage, which his admit crea claim for him, there will not remain in one month, a single vestige of those lip valiant warriors whose valor and elemency (3) Gen. Woll so much extole.

The truth is, a man who forces his way into any body's presence deserves to be treated cavalierly, and to be kicked out with all possible expedition.

The above sentiment is worthy to be chronicled. It cannot be kicked out with all possible expedition.

The above sentiment is worthy to be chronicled. It cannot be kicked out with all possible expedition.

The above sentiment is worthy to be chronicled. It cannot be kicked out with all possible expedition.

The above sentiment is worthy to be chronicled. It cannot be forced to be a sent before the edutor of the Philadelphia Evening Express, and illudes—to whom think you, reader? To the venerable occupantian Journals Robestry, who visited the President last spring for the purpose of explaining ommanded by the Executive, and was only admitted to the presence of that august (anctionary, after peated solicitations, and much insolent denial by itrish porter. The Old School Republican—a journal slited by Mr. Tylea's brother-in-law, copies and endorses the humane and courtrous opinion. It really seems as if the adherents of Tylerism are willing to merge every thing like conscience, honor and decapcy in a servile and unquestioning sycophaser, towards their master. They appear to believe that we are living—not in a representative democracy—but under a part despoticing, and that the culture of the Express, or his worthy could that the culture of the Express, or his worthy could that the culture of the Express, or his worthy could that the culture of the Express, or his worthy could that the culture of the Expr
