DUCONGE'S
PECTORAL BALSAMIC SYRUP.

THE virtues of this purely vegetable syrup have been acknowledged for so many years that it is useless to praise its merits in the cure of pulmonary and bowel complaints. Its success has long since been admitted in cases of inveterate cough and asthma, bronchitis, inflammation of the throat, the stomach and the bowels, the spitting of blood and whooping cough.

In inflammatory diseases, such as rheumatism, diarrhœa and dysentery the above syrup has been of immense benefit, especially in cases of cholerine, which, when not too remediable to be forgotten.

In diseases of the lungs the most favorable result has been obtained wherever taken in time.

The Pectoral Balsamic syrup has, over others of the same kind, a precious advantage, for, as it is pleasant to the taste and smell, children take it with out the least difficulty, and is use requires no particular diet.

Prepared and for sale at the proprietor's manufactory, No 59 Aarstre street
