The Legislature of Virginia assembled at Richmond on the lat Monday in December. In the Senate E. P. Scott was chosen Speaker; Mr. Wm. O. Goode was unanimously elected Speaker of the Hause. Governor Stath's measure was sent in the next day. It is about as long as the President's message and about as interesting. The Governor seems to regret that he was unable to stretch it even beyond its present gigantic dissensions, for he expresses serows as not being as full as psecise as he would like to be.

The finances of Virginia ase in a satisfactory condition, and there is a surplus in the treasury. Nevertheless increased taxation is advised. The message urges Legislative attention to the subject of popular education and to a reform the unde of conducting the Penitemiery.

One of the most extraordinary passages in the message is a recommendation that the people of every cossity should expel the free aegroes inhabiting therein—a proposition which seems to us utlerly beartless and uniquatifiable. No provision is suggested for their support, or retief, and nothing said of the spot to which the free negroes are to be driven. They are simply to be hunted out of the State and left to shift for themselvas. We are glad to perceive that the Virginia press is almost mannimously opposed to the proposition.

The message suggests various suforms in the toograph of the Gourta, ands for the proposition.

The message are guggests various suforms in the treatment of the form of th

MR. CALMOUN'S DEMOCRACY,-The Richmond Maig very pithily and foreibly numarks:

In the leaver lately addressed to the people of South Carolina by Mr. Calhoun, in opposition to the proposed law transferring from the Legislature to the people of that State the right of choose ng Electors of President and Vice-Presiden ing Electors of President and Vice-President, that gamtiemen lays down the following axiom: "That the majority should govern, is an assumption not only totally nofemeded, but of the most deangerous character, and in direct cenflict with the constitution of this State South Carelines) and that of the Union."

As it is manifest that either a Majority or a minority state govern, it follows that Mr. Carloun prefers the government of a misterity. Mr. JEFFERSON seed to say that "the will of the disjority is the vital principle of Republis." The Democracy" inset decide between the Aposte and his Disciple!
