General Manager J. D. Clarkson follows: "Sun is shining in Musko-Cars in perfect condition. Everyone will be happy after two tough days of mud. Great reception yesterday at Joplin. Repeated at Vinnita last night. Fine banquet by Greater Muskogee Association."

Daily more requests are being received by Chairman P. M. Milner, in charge of the New Orleans escort to meet the Canadian party at Baton Rouge. Mr. Milner urges every one of the owners of pleasure automobiles to make the trip from New Orleans to Baton Rouge, and if pos-

A tentative program for the entertainment of the visitors during their five days' visit to New Orleans has already been arranged. It consists of an official ceremony upon the arrival at the southern terminus of the Jefferson highway by local and state officials; luncheons and dinners: harbor inspection: sightseeing of New Orleans' residential and commercial facilities; lake trip, and a banquet at the Southern Yacht club.

A court of honor will be established at the southern terminus; the streets through which the party passes will be decorated with American and Canadian flags, and a large electric sign of "Welcome" will greet the visitors on Canal street.

Merchants along St. Charles and Canal streets have been requested to decorate their stores with American and Canadian flags and leave these decorations up during the five days the Canadian delegation is in the woman's screams. the city.

LOVE OF THE SEA

By IZOLA FORESTER.

When the captain met with his accident and they bore him up to the little red cottage on the main street along the bluff, Ben advised strongly against admitting any feminine influence into the quiet domicile.

"You and me, cap'n, has lived on and off here for years between cruises, and we ain't never felt the need of women thing, same as I did when you was a slip of a lad shipping with me on the Lucy Lee."
