

THE UNION.
PRINTED AND PUBLISHED DAILY.
FROM NEW-YORK.
STATE PAPER.
THE UNION—IT NEEDS NO PRESERVATION."

TUESDAY MORNING, FEB. 4, 1834.

FOR GOVERNOR.
J. B. DAWSON.
MAYOR
JOHN H. HOLLAND.

CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS.

FIFTH DISTRICT.

CHARLES GAYARRE.

SIXTH DISTRICT.

JAMES BRADFORD.

SEVENTH DISTRICT.

ALICE ANDERSON PENN.

"The mail office is little of interest. However, the mail has arrived, and that is something nice."

"Some good commercial intelligence from several of the European ports, received via Charleston, will be found under the proper head, to which we call the attention of our mercantile patrons."

"We are gratified to understand that our article on the subject of removing the slaves recently introduced, from their present location, will be followed up at the session of the council this evening by a attempt to create an ordinance for the purpose of finding a more suitable harbor for them.—Undoubtedly, our Abolitionists will see the necessity of such a measure, and sanction it without any serious opposition."

"We have nothing of interest from Washington. Mr. Rivers of Virginia, and Mr. Cambreleng of New-York, the former in the Senate and the latter in the house, have concluded their speech on the subject of the removal of the deposites.—Their addresses, it is said, fully sustain the high reputation which they enjoy as statesmen and legislators. Both, we trust, will shortly be made public."

"It is removed in some of the eastern journals that a committee is about to be made in Congress on the deposites question.—N. Y. paper."

"We do not believe one word of it! The president is not a man to compromise and make bargains upon what he considers to be right. He leaves such things with "coalitions," "bribes" and corruption, entirely to his adversaries."

"The only remark which we copy from the Bulletin, is just as poor. It said the provision consented upon, not being expunged from the bill, it must prove fatal to it, for on legislators as a body, so far forgotten of duty, as to give any measure accompanied by such an injudicious privilege."

THE PROPOSED RAH. ROAD.

"This bill, intended to incorporate the Louisiana and Mississippi Rail-Road Company, contains a provision—one which ought to be fitted to the whole project rather than one of its incorporated sections—and which we hope has not escaped the attention of our legislators.—For forty years—for more than half a century! it cuts off entirely all right to facilitate intercourse between the two sections, and is to be carried out by any other route than that designated in the bill. Are we prepared to do this? It is acknowledged that this is by no means the shortest route—routed to Chef Mentre—hence a steamboat a few miles to Burlington on the east side of Pearl River—and thence by land on a fine old road all the way, according to its course, to the city of New Orleans."

"On Saturday, the 2d inst., at Galveston, 4th Sept., in 112 days from Boston, with a cargo of less every little of which was said to have been staled."

NEW-YORK, Jan. 20.

"Accurately—the upper part of the interior of a large new three-story building stands opposite the residence of Mr. Wm. C. Bradford, in the 10th street, all done up in a very neat and substantial manner. A number of men were employed on the upper part of the building, and were precipitated to the ground on the night of the 16th inst."

"The following is a list of the persons injured:

George Shelly, a journeyman mason, thigh and three ribs broken.

John McTern, badly bruised.

Stiley and Henry Jackson, much bruised, all masons; also a boy, an apprentice to Mr. Wm. Simonsen.

The height of the fall was about fifty or sixty feet. No damage was done to the outer walls of the building. They remained standing.

On Saturday evening, the Brooklyn road connected with Conklin Sargent's rope-walk in Brooklyn, was destroyed. The loss of property was small.

On Sunday evening, a fire broke out in the third story of the store of SIXTY-FIVE CHAMBERS, from the passage of this act, situated in a room above the second floor, belonging to a cabinet and picture dealer, and occupied by a druggist, and a grocer on Saturday morning. A number of men were employed on the upper part of the building, and were precipitated to the ground on the night of the 16th inst."

"The following is a list of the persons injured:

George Shelly, a journeyman mason, thigh and three ribs broken.

John McTern, badly bruised.

Stiley and Henry Jackson, much bruised, all masons; also a boy, an apprentice to Mr. Wm. Simonsen.

The height of the fall was about fifty or sixty feet. No damage was done to the outer walls of the building. They remained standing.

On Saturday evening, the Brooklyn road connected with Conklin Sargent's rope-walk in Brooklyn, was destroyed. The loss of property was small.

On Sunday evening, a fire broke out in the third story of the store of SIXTY-FIVE CHAMBERS, from the passage of this act, situated in a room above the second floor, belonging to a cabinet and picture dealer, and occupied by a druggist, and a grocer on Saturday morning. A number of men were employed on the upper part of the building, and were precipitated to the ground on the night of the 16th inst."

"The following is a list of the persons injured:

George Shelly, a journeyman mason, thigh and three ribs broken.

John McTern, badly bruised.

Stiley and Henry Jackson, much bruised, all masons; also a boy, an apprentice to Mr. Wm. Simonsen.

The height of the fall was about fifty or sixty feet. No damage was done to the outer walls of the building. They remained standing.

On Saturday evening, the Brooklyn road connected with Conklin Sargent's rope-walk in Brooklyn, was destroyed. The loss of property was small.

On Sunday evening, a fire broke out in the third story of the store of SIXTY-FIVE CHAMBERS, from the passage of this act, situated in a room above the second floor, belonging to a cabinet and picture dealer, and occupied by a druggist, and a grocer on Saturday morning. A number of men were employed on the upper part of the building, and were precipitated to the ground on the night of the 16th inst."

"The following is a list of the persons injured:

George Shelly, a journeyman mason, thigh and three ribs broken.

John McTern, badly bruised.

Stiley and Henry Jackson, much bruised, all masons; also a boy, an apprentice to Mr. Wm. Simonsen.

The height of the fall was about fifty or sixty feet. No damage was done to the outer walls of the building. They remained standing.

On Saturday evening, the Brooklyn road connected with Conklin Sargent's rope-walk in Brooklyn, was destroyed. The loss of property was small.

On Sunday evening, a fire broke out in the third story of the store of SIXTY-FIVE CHAMBERS, from the passage of this act, situated in a room above the second floor, belonging to a cabinet and picture dealer, and occupied by a druggist, and a grocer on Saturday morning. A number of men were employed on the upper part of the building, and were precipitated to the ground on the night of the 16th inst."

"The following is a list of the persons injured:

George Shelly, a journeyman mason, thigh and three ribs broken.

John McTern, badly bruised.

Stiley and Henry Jackson, much bruised, all masons; also a boy, an apprentice to Mr. Wm. Simonsen.

The height of the fall was about fifty or sixty feet. No damage was done to the outer walls of the building. They remained standing.

On Saturday evening, the Brooklyn road connected with Conklin Sargent's rope-walk in Brooklyn, was destroyed. The loss of property was small.

On Sunday evening, a fire broke out in the third story of the store of SIXTY-FIVE CHAMBERS, from the passage of this act, situated in a room above the second floor, belonging to a cabinet and picture dealer, and occupied by a druggist, and a grocer on Saturday morning. A number of men were employed on the upper part of the building, and were precipitated to the ground on the night of the 16th inst."

"The following is a list of the persons injured:

George Shelly, a journeyman mason, thigh and three ribs broken.

John McTern, badly bruised.

Stiley and Henry Jackson, much bruised, all masons; also a boy, an apprentice to Mr. Wm. Simonsen.

The height of the fall was about fifty or sixty feet. No damage was done to the outer walls of the building. They remained standing.

On Saturday evening, the Brooklyn road connected with Conklin Sargent's rope-walk in Brooklyn, was destroyed. The loss of property was small.

On Sunday evening, a fire broke out in the third story of the store of SIXTY-FIVE CHAMBERS, from the passage of this act, situated in a room above the second floor, belonging to a cabinet and picture dealer, and occupied by a druggist, and a grocer on Saturday morning. A number of men were employed on the upper part of the building, and were precipitated to the ground on the night of the 16th inst."

"The following is a list of the persons injured:

George Shelly, a journeyman mason, thigh and three ribs broken.

John McTern, badly bruised.

Stiley and Henry Jackson, much bruised, all masons; also a boy, an apprentice to Mr. Wm. Simonsen.

The height of the fall was about fifty or sixty feet. No damage was done to the outer walls of the building. They remained standing.

On Saturday evening, the Brooklyn road connected with Conklin Sargent's rope-walk in Brooklyn, was destroyed. The loss of property was small.

On Sunday evening, a fire broke out in the third story of the store of SIXTY-FIVE CHAMBERS, from the passage of this act, situated in a room above the second floor, belonging to a cabinet and picture dealer, and occupied by a druggist, and a grocer on Saturday morning. A number of men were employed on the upper part of the building, and were precipitated to the ground on the night of the 16th inst."

"The following is a list of the persons injured:

George Shelly, a journeyman mason, thigh and three ribs broken.

John McTern, badly bruised.

Stiley and Henry Jackson, much bruised, all masons; also a boy, an apprentice to Mr. Wm. Simonsen.

The height of the fall was about fifty or sixty feet. No damage was done to the outer walls of the building. They remained standing.

On Saturday evening, the Brooklyn road connected with Conklin Sargent's rope-walk in Brooklyn, was destroyed. The loss of property was small.

On Sunday evening, a fire broke out in the third story of the store of SIXTY-FIVE CHAMBERS, from the passage of this act, situated in a room above the second floor, belonging to a cabinet and picture dealer, and occupied by a druggist, and a grocer on Saturday morning. A number of men were employed on the upper part of the building, and were precipitated to the ground on the night of the 16th inst."

"The following is a list of the persons injured:

George Shelly, a journeyman mason, thigh and three ribs broken.

John McTern, badly bruised.

Stiley and Henry Jackson, much bruised, all masons; also a boy, an apprentice to Mr. Wm. Simonsen.

The height of the fall was about fifty or sixty feet. No damage was done to the outer walls of the building. They remained standing.

On Saturday evening, the Brooklyn road connected with Conklin Sargent's rope-walk in Brooklyn, was destroyed. The loss of property was small.

On Sunday evening, a fire broke out in the third story of the store of SIXTY-FIVE CHAMBERS, from the passage of this act, situated in a room above the second floor, belonging to a cabinet and picture dealer, and occupied by a druggist, and a grocer on Saturday morning. A number of men were employed on the upper part of the building, and were precipitated to the ground on the night of the 16th inst."

"The following is a list of the persons injured:

George Shelly, a journeyman mason, thigh and three ribs broken.

John McTern, badly bruised.

Stiley and Henry Jackson, much bruised, all masons; also a boy, an apprentice to Mr. Wm. Simonsen.

The height of the fall was about fifty or sixty feet. No damage was done to the outer walls of the building. They remained standing.

On Saturday evening, the Brooklyn road connected with Conklin Sargent's rope-walk in Brooklyn, was destroyed. The loss of property was small.

On Sunday evening, a fire broke out in the third story of the store of SIXTY-FIVE CHAMBERS, from the passage of this act, situated in a room above the second floor, belonging to a cabinet and picture dealer, and occupied by a druggist, and a grocer on Saturday morning. A number of men were employed on the upper part of the building, and were precipitated to the ground on the night of the 16th inst."

"The following is a list of the persons injured:

George Shelly, a journeyman mason, thigh and three ribs broken.

John McTern, badly bruised.

Stiley and Henry Jackson, much bruised, all masons; also a boy, an apprentice to Mr. Wm. Simonsen.

The height of the fall was about fifty or sixty feet. No damage was done to the outer walls of the building. They remained standing.

On Saturday evening, the Brooklyn road connected with Conklin Sargent's rope-walk in Brooklyn, was destroyed. The loss of property was small.

On Sunday evening, a fire broke out in the third story of the store of SIXTY-FIVE CHAMBERS, from the passage of this act, situated in a room above the second floor, belonging to a cabinet and picture dealer, and occupied by a druggist, and a grocer on Saturday morning. A number of men were employed on the upper part of the building, and were precipitated to the ground on the night of the 16th inst."

"The following is a list of the persons injured:

George Shelly, a journeyman mason, thigh and three ribs broken.

John McTern, badly bruised.

Stiley and Henry Jackson, much bruised, all masons; also a boy, an apprentice to Mr. Wm. Simonsen.

The height of the fall was about fifty or sixty feet. No damage was done to the outer walls of the building. They remained standing.

On Saturday evening, the Brooklyn road connected with Conklin Sargent's rope-walk in Brooklyn, was destroyed. The loss of property was small.

On Sunday evening, a fire broke out in the third story of the store of SIXTY-FIVE CHAMBERS, from the passage of this act, situated in a room above the second floor, belonging to a cabinet and picture dealer, and occupied by a druggist, and a grocer on Saturday morning. A number of men were employed on the upper part of the building, and were precipitated to the ground on the night of the 16th inst."

"The following is a list of the persons injured:

George Shelly, a journeyman mason, thigh and three ribs broken.

John McTern, badly bruised.

Stiley and Henry Jackson, much bruised, all masons; also a boy, an apprentice to Mr. Wm. Simonsen.

The height of the fall was about fifty or sixty feet. No damage was done to the outer walls of the building. They remained standing.

On Saturday evening, the Brooklyn road connected with Conklin Sargent's rope-walk in Brooklyn, was destroyed. The loss of property was small.

On Sunday evening, a fire broke out in the third story of the store of SIXTY-FIVE CHAMBERS, from the passage of this act, situated in a room above the second floor, belonging to a cabinet and picture dealer, and occupied by a druggist, and a grocer on Saturday morning. A number of men were employed on the upper part of the building, and were precipitated to the ground on the night of the 16th inst."

"The following is a list of the persons injured:

George Shelly, a journeyman mason, thigh and three ribs broken.

John McTern, badly bruised.

Stiley and Henry Jackson, much bruised, all masons; also a boy, an apprentice to Mr. Wm. Simonsen.

The height of the fall was about fifty or sixty feet. No damage was done to the outer walls of the building. They remained standing.

On Saturday evening, the Brooklyn road connected with Conklin Sargent's rope-walk in Brooklyn, was destroyed. The loss of property was small.

On Sunday evening, a fire broke out in the third story of the store of SIXTY-FIVE CHAMBERS, from the passage of this act, situated in a room above the second floor, belonging to a cabinet and picture dealer, and occupied by a druggist, and a grocer on Saturday morning. A number of men were employed on the