ANOTHER IMPROVEMENT. PROSPECTUS.

IN announcing a new curative method for ulcers, king a swil, cancers, de, we do not conceal from us how incredible this new improvement must appear to Chartes and St Louis streets, in this city, on Saturday how incredible this new improvement must appear to the public. This is a cure of diseases that to effect the she had of November next, at one o'clock p m.

The mulatto women slave named Milly, alias Mildrid, forts, down to this day, have been limited to the presentation of some insignificant pulliatives for according. and of a cruel operation for cancers, that scarcely one out of twenty patients would consent to submit to; after what was known of the want of power of medicine in the above cases, one could well be supposed to imagine that farther progresses were impossible in that way.

But improvements by time become general; if on ciple, on the other, arts following more or less closely the progresses of governments, are also ising to a higher standard, sometimes favored by chance, others by well directed. shour; and what was heretoffice repried impossible, turns out to be a fact of the greatest

This is just happened to us in our curnive method hat we do not hexitate to publish under the patronage that we happily receive from our repeated successes, and from the hope, or, to speak more correctly, the certainty of being useful to the public. Yes, we do say it, our first ambition is to he useful. Why should we be refused to be credited on our word? A n wapmper mentioning our advertisement concluded with these expressions: "Try our new method, you unhappy patients who suffer from sores incurable by mediculart, and whose only prospect is a Parriah life, or no horrible premature death that must happen long before the term probably appointed to you by nature; try it, what risk deyou run? of the loss of your gold? None we ask from you, successful er unsuccessful, we do not tell you take this and pay, happen what will. Would you lear for your health! It cannot be worse; and you would have ne least taken the last chance that is offered to you, a chance which if we may depend on what is reported of our labours, and what we know ourselvely personal experience, will be successful." We will add nothing to these words.

ILT NEW healing method for ringworms, cancers ulcere, the king's evil, and oll sorts of sures old and new, r reported incurable. No retribution is expected but after Consultation and dressing every day from 10 o'clock a. m, to 1 o'clock p. m, and from 4 to 6 o'clock p. m, in the house of Mr A. CREBASSOL, St PLEippe street, No. 113, between Baurbon and Dauphin streets.

OTICE to person desirous of acquiring in a short ine, and at a triffing expense, the indispensable art of a beautiful hand writing of the NAY, professor of Mr. DUCHESNE DUVERNAY, professor of Colligraphy, lately arrived from Paris, begg feave to inform his friends, and the public, that he will engage to correct five dollars in cash, and the balance in six months. The more have finishing a note satisfactority endorsed and in 25 er 30 lessons, the most bad hand writing, provided the pupil will second his efforts.

The great superiority of his method, over the ancient manner of writing consists in the continual more with of the wrist-with the arm, this joint labour ingeniously ma-naged accelerates the progress of the pupil. A more correct idea of the easy and beauty of his system may be formed idea of the easy and beauty of his system may, be formed by calling at his room.

In the e days a fine band writing, is indispensable to every man, from which he often derives a living, this manner of sequiring in a short time a fise hand is not to, be neglected. In this there is no surprise to be feared of a fallacious quackery, no vain promises, nothing but what is punctually executed. The professor, strong by his numerous experiences, guarantees a full success.

He has two classes, one from 10 in the morning unfil 2 in the evening; the second from 5 till 8 in the evening, the first will be devoted for ladies the second for gentlemen. He will attend private lessons, and at horseling men. He will attend private leasons, and at bounding
