OFFICE 83 CHARTRES ST.

THE DAILY BEE. THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 29.

Democratic party seems at this pa ticular juncture to be almost exclusively en-gaged in one of the idlest and least profitable of occupations, to-wit: the discussion of of occupations, to-wit: the discussion of STATHEM A. DOUGLAS, his claims to be considered a Democrat, and the orthodoxy of the doutrines esponsed by him. If any appoint good could possibly result from the investigation of these most points; if the harmony of the party could be premoted, or its sections of the control of the party could be premoted, or its sections of the concurring instead of censuring the membranas. But we believe that nother than the comparison of the control of the comparison of the control sincined to encourage instead of consuring the combatants. But we believe that nothing the combatants and the believe that nothing but bitterness, aorimony, division and discord can grow ut the dispute. One more and the beam present of the Democratic party affirm that Mr. Dividuals preaches pure and andedied Democratic party affirm that Mr. Dividuals preaches pure and andedied Democratic that he is a Democratin the most agenume patriot, a wise and honeat states, man, a hearty well wisher to the party, and inable deserves the lottiest honors which that party can bestow. The other motiety occupy dametrically opposite ground—declaring that Docusa is the expounder of a herest which the party loathes and repudiates; that he is the proposed traitor and implace the fore to Democracy; that he is a blight to the last degree, looks solely to his individual advancement, and merit demonciation and desertion by every sincers and true hearted Pemocrat. Between two sets of opinions so much in conflict with each other there is no middle ground of safety—and accordingly and interminable warfare, characterized by an interm man be permitted to divide and thus injure the only national party in the land? Is Mr.

because so thoroughly and completely th embodiment of Democracy, that without him it can have no life? Does the future of this great organization depend entirely and as lasively upon his continued allegiance personally must be reduced to most in Democracy must be reduced to most in-sembnant proportions, and must have for-feiled a large amount of its pristine vigor and vitality, if its very existence can be in the slightest degree influenced by the adhe-sion or defection of one man. We may be to ditted in Borons as prominent candi-date for the Presidential momination. Well, son or defection of one man. We may be to dithat Mr. Douglas as a prominent candidate for the Presidential nomination. Well, suppose he is. Be to Mr. Buckuskings, so is Mr. Ducksoo, so are Wass and Herkers. Is the party so indissolubly linked with any one of these suptraints that his individual appropriate sections? We perceive no evidence (this. Mry, then, should become a rand of dissort amongst them? Let him should be demonstrated in due season: if they are not they will be assuredly discarded.

We think that a vast deal more of comequence is attached to the sentiments of the season special to the sentiments of the season is parry the party that chiefly discarded.
