

A SCALY CENTENARIAN. An Aged One-Eyed Carp in England Which is Said to Have a Long Record. Stories, more or less vouched for, of fish which have attained extreme old age are common.

THE TAMPA CARMEN. Generally She Is Old, Black and Wrinkled-The Reader's Cl-gammakers. If the original Carmen had been employed in a Tampa cigar factory she would not have been a cigarmaker, but a stripper of tobacco leaves.

LADY SMOKERS AT COURT. Protest of Russian Women at the Czarina's Edict Against Cigarettes. I learn from St. Petersburg that many of the ladies of the czar's household are fearfully upset by a request—equivalent, of course, to an order—made by their exalted and charming mistress, to the effect that they should discontinue the practice of smoking cigarettes in her presence.

TO PUMP OUT MINES. Comstock Mining Company Takes Action Looking to a Resumption of Operations. The Comstock Mining company has taken action regarding the project of pumping out the mines and resuming operations.

DEFINITELY LOCATED. Learned Declaration Regarding the Exact Spot Where Christ Was Crucified. The Palestine Exploration Society, the greatest authority in the world on Jerusalem and its holy places, where it has been conducting excavations and researches for over a score of years, has just decided a question of profound importance to all Christendom.

ANOTHER FIND OF GOLD. Rich Diggings Discovered in Northern British Columbia—Stamped for the Place. News has reached Victoria, B. C., of a placer find on Pike creek, in northern British Columbia, which, from reports received, must be as rich as El Dorado creek in the Klondike.

THE SHERMAN STATUE. Only the Rudimentary Steps Have Been Taken Toward its Completion. The "Sherman" statue, over the award of which there was more intense feeling than, perhaps, has ever been aroused by any other government contract, still remains a mystery, so far as anything can be learned, as to its progress.

There Are Mines and Mines. There are mines and mines. Successful headlines in a Philadelphia paper the other day read: "Santiago mines to resume." "Delaware river mines to be removed."

LESSONS IN NAVAL BATTLES. English Commendation for the Good Marksmanship of American Gunners. The lessons to be drawn from the Spanish-American sea fights are not clear, satisfactory and conclusive. With the barely possible exception of the sinking of the Merrimac, as suggested by Lieut. Hobson, the torpedo has played no part in the naval engagements, and of ramming there has not been any.

A COMRADE'S PART. Jim Nesbit by Superhuman Effort Lifts a Fallen Tree from His Partner's Crushed Form. While Thomas Gentle, a mining machinery expert of Green Lake, Wis., was prospecting with Jim Nesbit near Jovins inlet, 60 miles from the nearest camp, a log rolled down the hill on them.

CURTIN'S ILLIMITABLE CHECK. He Is the Originator of the "Hello" Method of Reaching Military Results. The absolute, real, undoubted hero of this war is not Admiral Dewey sinking of the Spanish fleet at Manila, nor Hobson, sinking a portion of the American fleet at Santiago, nor Shafter capturing of the fleet of Cervera and diverting an army double that of his own, nor Sampson and his subordinates sending Cervera to destruction, nor twenty others we could name, but it is Ensign Curtin, landing at the port of Ponce, and with inimitable cheek sending his ultimatum to the commander of the Spanish forces at Ponce by telephone!

Instincts of a Woman. A little girl who had for some time wanted a dog was taken very ill. One day when much better she told her mother of her desire and begged her to ask her grandpa to buy her one. The mother answered that "grandpa" did not like dogs and probably would not be willing to buy one. Then, seeing the little invalid look sadly disappointed, she said: "Wait till you get well, my dear; then we will see."
