THE DAILY BEE

FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 27.

THE KANSAS CONSTITUTION.

The present press still continue to clamor valently against the alleged injustice of the Constitution of Kansas, and the part they have taken up in the opposition to it. But as the evidence is conclusive that these journals have greatly exaggerated, or wholly misrepresented the intentions of the members of the Constitutional Convention, their obloquies are to be received as mere malice and malice. Thus, for example, they visited a man's residence at Topeka, and there found a copy of the proposed government had been placed in the hands of the people. But as the evidence is conclusive that these journals have greatly exaggerated, or wholly misrepresented the intentions of the members of the Constitutional Convention, their obloquies are to be received as mere malice and malice.

STEAMBOATS COMING.
Vicksburg, Miss., Nov. 26.—Franklin has sent word to us that the steamer "Mississippi" will be here at 2, and the "Banshee" at 3, this morning.

NO NEWS.

This day has been a day of thanksgiving to the Northern and Southern States, and the day of thanksgiving to God.

Nothing of the kind has been attempted.

The only measure adopted by the Convention was to postpone the election of delegates to the national convention until the 1st of December.
