web development consulting

What does this mean for your business?

Our web consulting services give you plans and recommendations for making your online venture a success. Our recommendations and plans are 'result oriented' not for the need of any fancy award.

How we work?

Way web solution Web Consulting can be part of your development team or be the development team.

Our web consultants can help you across the complete stack required to build an entire web solution.

Our key area include

The following:

- Defining business requirements
- Strategy, Information Architecture, Wireframes
- Mobile Integration
- Documenting the web development
- Interface Design And Markup Programming
- Extension and Performance
- Change Analysis and Ongoing support
- Code Programming

Contract developers

“Leading to a more effective model of business cooperation”

The central point of interest here appears to be the alignment of IT and business processes within the company in general and in obtaining a particular model. “Contract Developers” provides a wide array of services at lower labor & infrastructure costs with equally skilled workers (from low to high skill levels) who have the ability to communicate well in English.

An easier way to get the work done.

Now you can procure staff at competitive prices and more importantly as and when needed, rather than hiring full-time employees. You will be free from HR, Payroll and IT infrastructure issues.

The hassles related to payroll and HR

- up-to-date with HR legislation
- Recruitment
- Maintaining personnel records
- Tracking employee development
- Training
- Monitoring sickness
- Managing change
- skilled people
- Business Confidential data security

The IT infrastructure cost

- per In-House Employee
- Furniture and electricity work
- Networking solutions
- Computers, Servers
- Testing Device Hardwar
- Software License
- and Data security
- Term investment capacity

Evaluate business and define entry point.

Every organization has different business requirements, a different set up of IT departments and diverse day to day operations. Hence an organization needs to select appropriate methods. Each of our modules enables any organization to have full control on team/projects and lower their dependency on others.
