Carroll, Pre-sident Lindsley and others, alighted, and, in the spacious apartments of Mr. Decker, a free, hearty and familiar offerchange of civilities and minual congrain. lations took place. As the president had expressly de-clined the tendered civility of a public dinner, a collation only was provided, and the most unceremonious remblican, and social enjoyment of the refreshment ensued. All however will perfectly decorous, respectful and orderly. Every one present appeared to feel entire satisfaction and to be disposed to contribute to the satisfaction of others. We were pleased to see that this mark of attention and respect to the chief magist are of the property of the contribute to the chief magist are of the the nation, as well as a distinguished citizen of Tenuessee, and, in regard to may, an old neighbor and intimate acquaintance, was not confined to the limits of

The whole 2d section, it is expressly declared, shall go duties, go into operation at that time. Above all this very afticle of syrup is provided for in the 16th paragraph of the 2d sec. which says, "On brown sugar and syrup, of sugar cane in casks, two and a half cents a pound," the whole 2d section, it is expressly declared, shall go into operation on the 3d of March. This 18th paragraph occupies its appropriate place in the bill. It does to not seem to us a sound construction—when one paragraph fixes the duty and the time, and a subsequent paragraph fixes the duty and the time, and a subsequent paragraph fixes the duty and the time, and a subsequent paragraph fixes the duty and the time, and a subsequent paragraph. graph fixes the duty and the time, and a subsequent paragraph repeats the duty, saying nothing of the time, that the omission is to be taken as repealing the posttive declaration which precedes it.

Provisions attached to an important bill, in the fati-gue and hurry of winding up a long discussion, are almost of course critics and very generally produce of fects, perhaps intended by the mover, but not intended by the legislature. We shall see by the manner in which this pumpraph is treated beganing, whither it was introduced by trick or by blunder.
