JACKSON EAVOR,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

THE UNION—IT SHOULD PREVAIL."

MONDAY MORNING, DEC. 22, 1834.

The city council did not sit on Saturday evening, there being no quorum.

It is perfect folly to attempt to throw the fault upon the president and Mr. Rives for the non-fulfilment of the treaty of indemnity with France. The allegation that the grounds taken by the chamber of deputies, have been in consequence of certain boastful representations made by the latter gentlemen in which he found a ready echo in the president, even if true, and we know it to be directly the reverse, can form no justification for the extraordinary pertinance of that body in refusing us satisfaction. Therefore but one question, let American politicians twist or evade the matter as much as they please, the debt is due, the government of France have acknowledged it, they have stipulated solemnly to pay it, and their continued denial of payment, while it cannot but reflect upon their good faith, and lower them in the estimation of civilized nations, would justify us, without a doubt, in the adoption of any measures we might think proper for the maintenance of our national honor, which has been put at issue by a course at once so repugnant to every principle of justice. The point is then settled: it is in vain that partizan ingenuity may be taxed to give it another shape. We have but one of two courses to pursue, either to endorse our claim or to withdraw it. Who will have the cringing cowardice to recommend the latter course?—Will any one of the apologists for the meek sovereignty of Louis Phillippe, and disclaimers against their own country's honor, do it? For twenty-five years have we been in close negotiation to obtain a settlement of the claim, and at length when it is acknowledged at a sum far below the original amount, chicane and diplomatic flummery are resorted to, to postpone the payment. There is no nation in the world whom we have greater respect and esteem than for France: we regard her people with admiration, but nevertheless we consider the course of the government unworthy of her, foolish and dishonorable in the extreme. Besides, as we have before observed, the maintenance and preservation of our national honor, is all sufficient to recommend the adoption of retaliatory measures. But what measures does the president recommend? Does the president recommend war? No, he advises a pacific, although a determined remedy. He tells congress that if they wish to await the issue of the next session of the French legislature, there will be no necessity for their acting now—or if they wish to do the country immediate justice, they can seize upon French property sufficient to meet our acknowledged demand. Would this measure be an act of hostility within the law of national Nations, it is clearly sanctioned by Vattel and other writers upon inter-national law. (See the B. 2d. C. 18th of Vattel: title, reprisals.) The text of the message on this head, is guarded and amicable: its spirit is not, as it is most falsely insinuated by certain writers, that of menace or anger. It is in a word, as temperate as was consistent with our position towards France.

☞ The general committee of the democratic party, in pursuance of previous notice, held an adjourned meeting at the Marine Hotel on Saturday evening last.

On motion, John H. Holland was called to the chair, and W. F. C. Duplessis and John McHenry were appointed secretaries.

On motion of John Wilcox, resolved, That a committee be named to attend the firing on the day of celebration.

The following gentlemen were named to compose said committee:

Gen. Planché,	John Wilcox,
R. K. Cannage,	Capt. Brush,
F. Durrive,	J. H. Caldwell,
S. S. Hall,	Capt. St. Cyr.

James H. Caldwell made a report.

Upon motion of S. High, resolved unanimously, that thanks be tendered to James H. Caldwell.

On motion, Capt. Wm. H. Chase was added to the list of the general committee.

On motion, the same gentleman was added to the list of vice presidents.

Upon motion, resolved, That a carving-knife and fork of a superior workmanship made by Mr Wm Butcher of England, be purchased.

Upon motion, resolved, That the same after having been [illegible] with the following inscription, "Presented to General Jackson by the democratic citizens of New Orleans in remembrance of their commemoration of the triumph of democratic principles throughout the Union."

Upon motion of R. K. Cannage, thanks were tendered to Mr Crawford.

On motion of Mr Conas the meeting was adjourned to Monday evening next.

☞ The general committee of the democratic party are requested to meet this evening at half past 6 o'clock at the Marine Hotel. This being the last meeting prior to the celebration, a general attendance is solicited.

☞ The Committee of Invitation of the Democratic Party respectfully invite the members of the Legislature, who participate with them in political feeling, to attend the Celebration in New-Orleans, on the 23d, in honor of the triumph of Democratic Principles throughout the Union, but more especially in New-York.

They take this method of communicating upon this occasion, inasmuch as they are in many instances, unacquainted with the names of the post offices nearest the residence of members and are therefore unable to extend invitations by letter.

DEMOCRATIC FESTIVAL.

Tickets for the Democratic celebration on the 23d inst. at three dollars each, may be had of any one of the following gentlemen:

John Wilcox,	J. S. McFarlane,
R. Canonge,	S. High,
F. Durrive,	P. Summers,

Or at the bookstores of Gaston Brasil, Wm. McCoy, and R. Johns & co, or at the houses of Philip Power, and Charles Dimond, the Planter's Hotel in Canal street, or Richardson's house, in Canal street.

The report of the secretary of the navy, shows that most important branch of the public service to be in a most prosperous condition.

Hill, the commedian, who is now on a professional visit to our city, has recently adapted S. M. Hugo's Lucrezia Borgia, to the American stage with great effect. We have seen the piece played at the Orleans, and should like to see it produced in its new dress at the Camp-street theatre.—Will the managers bring it out?

Never was there a party in any country which assumed to be more actuated by principle than the whig, and never was there a party which showed a greater deflection to it. We can all remember when an outcry was raised against General Jackson for proscription. The following exhibits in bold relief the practice of a portion of the party in New-York:

From the Mobile Commercial.

"The Corporation of the City of New-York, in joint meeting, on the evening of the 5th instant proceeded to make Memorials from offices of the friends of the administration, and adjourned at 1 A. M., after having removed by party votes, not far from sixty messengers of wood, lumber and coal, fifteen inspectors, engineers, weighmasters, clerks of the market, &c. &c. There was [illegible] and one of the "working" party, Alderman [illegible] of the Board of Aldermen, protested with [illegible] against the "proscriptions" of his friends.

The people show an indomitable spirit in maintaining the true principles of democracy. From the following it will be seen that Alabama is at her post, vindicating her character in the U. States Senate, which has been most wickedly committed by one of her Senators.

(From the Mobile Commercial Advertiser:)

The "Resolutions" finally passed in the House of Representatives of this State on the 15th inst. by a vote of more than two to one. Our readers will remember that their purport is to request Senator Hunter to resign his seat in the Senate, because he "openly avows himself has been hostile to the known wishes of a large majority of his constituents. The vote will not require comment—the Union votes with a decided majority—the Calhoun, Everett, Gilmanth, Hollis, King, Lewis and Poinsett. The Sting of the Union says, that if all had been present the vote would probably have been [illegible]

From the Mobile Commercial.

Lane, most triumphantly elected, there being SEVENTY-FIVE votes for him, and NINETEEN scattering. The Federal Bank Whigs wonderfully deafened, and now all their trumpets to divide and conquer laughed to scorn by our true Democracy. They could not find a single "honest" Jackson man for their candidate. What makes the triumph complete is, that a set of questions had been put to the [illegible] on all the topics now before the public, such as Texas, and a Bank, internal improvement, tariff, Clay's [illegible] bill, etc. etc. The whole of which is answered plump and plain, which was read in the General Assembly, and thrown upon the Federal Whigs like hot shot and bomb shells. Will the Bank presses in the Atlantic States now admit that Missouri is true to her old principles? That she is still for Jackson? And that she looked with scorn and contempt upon the panic and the panic-makers of the last session, of many tons weight of whose panic speeches were franked into every nook and corner of our widely extended State."

FOR THE SUN.

We have seen with a great deal of pain, that the American Theatre is to be opened on Sunday evenings. We feel confident that this innovation will not be countenanced by the respectable portion of this community. The Managers say that this will be done only through the holidays. We cannot see why the Sundays in holidays should be exceptions to a general rule dictated by propriety.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.

ONE DAY LATER FROM EUROPE.

Last evening the fast sailing ship Victoria, Capt. Merrill, arrived from Liverpool, was we she sailed on the evening of the 12th of November. By this arrival we have London and Liverpool papers one day later than were received by the Sheffield.

A passenger who left Manchester on the evening of Tuesday Nov. 11th, informs us that the demand for Yarns on that day was very great, and every thing was sold. For cotton goods the demand was hardly as great as it had been. The consumption of Cotton, he says, was full 20,000 bales per week. The sales at Liverpool on the 11th were 3,000 bales at full prices, and on the 12th, the business opened with a good demand, which it was expected would lead to large sales during the day, especially as accounts of the previous day from Manchester were so favorable. The cotton manufacturing interest throughout England is in a condition of unexampled prosperity.

The quotation of American Stocks on the 10th were the same as on the 6th which we gave on Thursday.

ENGLAND.

The intelligence from England by the Sheffield, published on Wednesday, added very little to our previous knowledge of events in that kingdom. The very absence of news from it, is the happiest proof of its tranquil prosperity. The one day, addition, furnished by the Victoria, can hardly be expected to be fruitful of events. The meagre collection of items, which we subjoin, includes, we believe, all that is worth transferring to our columns.

PORTUGAL.

The Duke of Palmella had been nominated as the President of the Council of Ministers. The Committee of Finance has given in its report on the subject of the incomes to be allowed to the Empress and her daughter; that of the former being fixed at about 10,000 per annum—that of the latter at 1,200l. during per minority.

A decree has been forwarded from the Portuguese government to Madeira, annulling a former decree exacting tonnage duty. Vessels can now enter, receive, and discharge, without incurring tonnage duty.

We are glad to perceive that preparations are making for the marriage of Donna Maria with the Duke of Leuchtenburgh. We rejoice at it, because we like to have young ladies save their own way.

PRUSSIA.

Letters from Berlin announce the death, on the 2d of November, of the Minister of Finance, M. Charles George Masson. He had obtained much celebrity in the financial department and his decease is represented as a great national loss.

The Times of the 11th states that the credit of the East India Company obviously stands higher than before the change, the advance in the stock in the interval being nearly 50 per cent, "the cause of which may be perfectly well known, to the initiated, but the monied interest at large professe to be in the dark about the matter and desirous of further information."

LONDON Nov. 11.—The Leeds Trade.—There had not been quite so much business done at the cloth halls this week as had been the case for some weeks previous; the season for winter goods being now so far advanced, the buyers are as usual at this period of the year, very sparing in their purchases. The present state of the money market and the opinion which prevails with some, that wool may yet be a little lower in price, has the effect of preventing speculation for the early spring trade. There continues to be a moderate quantity of business doing in the warehouses.

LONDON, Nov 11.—Neither from the Paris papers nor from our own accounts, had we heard, down to a late hour yesterday, of any certain approach to a settlement of the new French Administration. Had M Pele succeeded in his supposed task of forming a Ministry, of which he was to be himself the head, the most interesting consequence to many persons here would have been the retirement of M de Talleyrand from public—an inveterate enmity having long subsisted between these well-worn politicians. It is said, indeed, that the Prince's health is so broken, that under any circumstances he must immediately withdraw, in which case, M. de Broglie is generally talked of for the embassy to London.

The woollen trade, especially at Leeds, is represented to be less prosperous than usual. The buyers are timid and few. Much of this declension however, is attributed to the money market.

Rhubarb flannel sales were brisk, and the demand was greater than the power to supply. The wool market was [illegible] although an appreciation of price was ex-

NEW-YORK MARKET.

SATURDAY, Dec. 6.

COFFEE.—The principal transactions have been in Brazil, 1600 bags of which were sold at 12 to 12 1-2 cents; between 200 and 300 bags St. Domingo were taken at 12 to 10 1-4; about 100 Sumatra at 10 1-4, and some Cuba at 12 to 12 1-2 cents.

COTTON.—Prices have declined 1-4 to 1-2 cent. The sales extend to about 2300 bales, of which 2000 were Upland at 15 to 17 1-2; 150 do New-Orleans 15 3-4 to 18 1-2; some Mobile 17 to 18, and 100 bales Florida 17 to 19 cents. We quote Upland at 15 to 17 1-2; New-Orleans 15 3-4 to 18 1-4, and Florida 15 3-4 to 17 3-4 cents.

DOMESTIC GOODS.—Prices are firmly maintained, but the transactions have been limited. Export of Cotton Goods, during the month of November, 1237 packages.

FLOUR.—Western has been sold at 85 to 85 6 1-4; 1500 bbls. Ohio, via New-Orleans sold at 84 81 to 84 87 1-2, and 500 bbls. sold yesterday at 84 87 1-2. Southern remains without change. 1000 bbls. Richmond City Mills have been sold—price not known.

LEAD.—A sale of 1000 pigs New-Orleans was made at 6 cents 6 months. There is very little in market.

MOLASSES.—The transactions have been small, reaching only about 200 hhds. of the different qualities at former prices.

SUGAR.—The stock of box Sugars, including the arrival yesterday, is not over 700 boxes, and of other descriptions the stock is not much reduced. Sales were made of Cuba brown, at 8 1-2 to 9 cents; about 100 boxes do. white at 11 cents, and 50 hhds. ordinary Muscovado, 6 to 7 cents.—About 100 hhds. and bbls. New Orleans, old crop, the same price.

TOBACCO—By auction, 23 hhds. Kentucky brought 6 1-2 to 8 3-4 cents, average, 97 44.

FREIGHTS.—The rates to Liverpool are without change. To Havre, 1[illegible]

New-Orleans, Dec. 20.

REMARKS.

The weather continues mild and pleasant for the season. The Mississippi is on the rise, and is now within 10 feet of high water mark. But few changes have occurred in the market during the week. Western produce has commenced arriving pretty freely.

COTTON.—Arrivals since the 12th instant: of Louisiana and Mississippi, 16791 bales; Tennessee and North Alabama, 4974; Mobile 744; Lake, 338; Texas, 279, Florida. 12—together, 23159 bales. Cleared in the same time: for Liverpool, 4650; Havre, 1347; Nantz, 1527; New-York, 4013; Boston, 283; Philadelphia, 80; Baltimore, 50—together, 12451 bales;—making an addition to stock of 10707, and leaving on hand, inclusive of all on ship-board not cleared on the 19th inst., a stock of 74276 bales. In the absence of intelligence from abroad of a character calculated to sustain prices here, at the height to which they had attained, a re-action (to which we alluded in our last) took place in the market; first, by an almost total suspension of operations, and, subsequently, by a very considerable decline in prices; to which holders, though reluctantly, were finally compelled to submit. The sales, during the week past, have not been very extensive; the most important are embraced in the following, viz: 3000 bales at 14 3-4; 1000 at 16, 700 at 14 7-8, 2120 at 14 7-8, 400 at 15, 100 at 15 1-2. 1600 at 16 7-8, of Louisiana and Mississippi—and 1100 bales Tennessee, at 14 1-2 cents per lb, which is about the average price of round sales for that description of Cotton. The quotations for Louisiana and Mississippi have been reduced, but we still attach the word "nominal," for, although there is a good demand existing, it is with some difficulty, under the present aspect of affairs, that buyers and sellers can be brought to agree upon a price. Nothing [illegible] November, has been received; and as it is [illegible] from New-York, based upon these advices, that the market will resume its former activity; we have not been able to ascertain what advices, so far, it has had upon the market, further than to render holders more firm.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 12.

The sales of Cotton on Monday and yesterday, were 6,500 bales—about 1,200 on speculation, with a steady market, and no change in prices.
