THE MAIL.-Connot the continued elieration of the Ne Fork mail be prevented? It is really a serious evil, requiring an immediate remedy. The democratic meeting convened to ratify the nomination made by the general convention, was held on Saturday last Mr Bernard Marigny presided, assisted by Messra J H Hol and and William Christy, as vicepresidents; and Meser Martin Gerdon, jr. S. High and Jerome Bayon, as secreendance of our fellow citizens was much greate than could have been expected, considering the severity of the weather, and that a meeting was elsewhere held for prope_ ring to celebrate the 4th of July : but these causes preventing so numerous an auditory as is anticipated and desired, those ciples into the political wheel; and bound to take any ticke present unanimously agreed to adjours the meeting till nexe Saturday, at the same time and place.

The meeting at the Arcade on Saturday was non attended; but the proceed ngs are so long as to preclude the possibility of their being inserted today. A committee was appointed who reported an elaborate address prepared h Randall Hunt, Esq; and various resolutione; one particularly requesting the assistance of the Louisiana legion in the proion and festival on the 4th of July. We expect to give ne official report tomorrow in extenso; and believe that the stiripated celebration will unite all classes and castes of ar fellow citizens, and add another proof of their patriotien nd liberality and enthusiasm in the cause of liberty

CUSTOMHOUSE SQUARE -It is consellatory to learn there ers havel been issued by the general government for the i-motition and removal of the ruins of the Mariners' Church sfore the 1st of September next, yet it is more pleasing secretain that a determination is seriously entertained on the part of the government to throw down the whole of the sent customhouse, and to require an appropriation from Congress for the erection of a new and splendid edifice, suitable to the wants and wealth of New Orleans.

THE BRANCH MINT will immediately be considered Jackson square in the lower part of the city. An appropria tion of 250,000 dollars has been made for the construction of an edifice; and the plan which we formerly advertised indicates that the building will be an ornament to New Orleans.

best in the United States; and there is every reason to believe that not many months shall have elapsed, ere the tends? shares will command a premium.

THE PREMIDENT AND FRANCE, -A gentleman recently ar. rived from Washington, who is on terms of friendly intimacy with the president, had a conversation with General Jackson, when the news of the passage of the law of indemnity by the chamber of deputies had reached Washington. The amendment of General Value having become the topic, the nanimity, and not produce division and perhaps ultimately president said--'France requires an explanation of my meaange. She shall have it; but such an one as will not only be satisfactory to her, but also to the people of the United States."

Noble minds can never wantonly insult; and therefore need never hemitate shout affording an explanation of theil conduct, when mieropresented or misunderstood. Such an explanation can never be considered as an apology; but mercly an eclairciesement

And it is evident from the message itself that the preciden neant not to insult the dignity, nor areal the national honor of France: for he expressly and explicitly asserts (after re sommending reprisals or some other resort)—'such a mea sure ought not be considered by France as a menace. Hepride and power are too well known to expect anything from her fewre; and preclude the necessity of a declaration that nothing partaking of the sharacter of intimidation is intended

This alone is a sufficient explanation; and ought not only to have been satisfactory, but to have precluded the necessity or demand of the declaration sought. But the courteey the president is equal to his firmness and consistency; and not having designed to intimidate nor insult, it will be easy and honorable to state se.

The Bulletin of Saturday has an article under the cap'ion of 'More Mexican outrages,' copying one from the Attakapsa Gazette, entitled 'An outrage upon American citizens, and an insult to the U. wothirds majority? Policy therefore might urge our fellow civizens of Virginia to adopt both candidates named. But they contend for principles. The correspondent of the Enquirer (whom w elieve to be Mr Holleman) states—and we trust it will afford the best answer to all ribaldists who assert the convenion was a 'packed' assembly—'The Virginia delegation conceived that they went to that convention, and unpledged to the support of any individual, either for the first or second place upon a ticket : but boun. by the reso utions of the people who sent them, to accept no man who (in the administration of the general government) would no in their opinion adopt and carry out the principles of the republican party: and who was in all respects qualified to de so. They did not feel themselves authorized to throw prin that might come uppermost. What were those principles?-Opposition to a bank of the United States abstractly and practically ;-opposition to a system of taxation for the proection of manufactures; and opposition to the exercise by Congress of a general legislative power over internal im rovement for the general welfare. In connection with this, the senior editor of the E says 4 We would yield men-but we cannot yield principles. Be this then the issue; and let it be adjusted amicably between the republicans throughout the union -measures not men; yet certainly the men who have long promoted, and can best promote those measures.

Has not Colonel Johnson been always opportunity f the United States? for although some of the Virginia d legates in their chagrin at the convention asserted the reverse as 'a weak invention of the enemy;' yet is it a matte record that he openly and etrenue practically' from the period of first mooting its charter in 1811-even opposing the chiefs of his own party when the charter was granted. See his speech republished in full in the Globe of the 30th ult.

And of the other grand questions avawedly the eccentin's of the republican party, to which of them has Colonel Johns son not given Lis decided support during his long congres sional career? On all subjects regarding a strict construc tion of the constitution : a national tariff : a national system of internal improvement; and (as Virginia seems particularly o require, in consonance to her own prominent and proper doctrines) on the right of instruction to representatives—has turday, at which period about 10,000 shares more than the he not been found faithful at his post? > We carnestly trust that the opposition of Virginia will hav terminated, when the feelings of disappointment are appear ed; and that the respectable democracy of that state will fend its powerful assistance in support of the men and measures adopted by the republicans of the other states. They have agreed to yield men; let them now display their magdefeat. It cannot now be supposed that the democratic party will forego the candidates already named by the convention -particularly when nominated by so large a majority; an (as acknowledged by the Virginia delegates themselves) no ninated after mature deliberation by those who went to the convention, 4 uncommitted and empladged to the support of any individual.*

He has already had constructed a bridge across the Savannah river; and built the town of Hamburg ever a quagmire, now on a solid foundation,-together with a durable wharf, and has affected an inland navigation thence to Charleston. He is armed with energy and wealth and with letters of quedit to the continent from Governor McDuffie; and other respectable individuals in that state. In his letter Mr McDuffie states what we have often en

In France preparations on a magnificent scale had been made for celebrating the hirthday of Louis Philip, on the 1st ult; and also for having a full attendance in the chamber of peers for the pending trials. Paris was filled with troops, ostensibly to give ectat to the former fête; but really to give effect to the latter feat. Many of the peers have refused to sit on the trials,—such as Talleyrand, Soult, Gerard, Preissac, Penteccoulsud, Dubouchage, etc; hut the king has ordered the attendance of most of the ambassadors. Extract of a letter dated E LIVERPOOL, May 2nd. Although the consumption of cotton appears sufficiently extensive to warrant at least present prices; yet they have arrived to that point which causes the market to be sensibly affected by apparently trivial causes; for instance, the election of this week in Manchester—which only interrupted the demand for two days—produced a decline of 1-4 to 3-8 of a penny. Now it is steady; but prices have not recovered. Speculators are acting upon an idea of a crop not exceeding 1,200,000 bales, or at least 2,22),000: if it be over that amount, they may take alarm.
