Aries (21st March - 20th April)

Don't let confused thoughts and negativity block you from focusing on the options you have, think wisely before taking a decision. You're also repressing your emotions as factors happening now leaves you dithering so don't abandon a potential plan. Amongst all this misunderstanding and frustrations you're able to compromise and are open to criticism. A sense of dissatisfaction in your finances makes you save more. Although you're sociable and considerate of others, you command respect, one who both loves and fears. You may fear the future of your love life however the prospects are still good. The urge to change or take a fresh look at things minimises your fears.

Taurus (21st April - 20th May)

You feel like being extravagant even though you wonder whether you can handle two things at once, you are aware of which one you have to give up. Watch out for few offers heading your way, the waiting time is over soon. In love it seems your wishes have come true and you have much hope for the future. There are too many options to take in your career path, don't hold a decision up too long. You try to rebalance and maintain peace into all areas of your life.

Gemini (21st May - 21st June)

You try hard to control your emotions from going into several directions. The hard times are passing soon and there will be plenty of celebrations too. Your finances may not look as you expected but more are in store. Your challenge is to put more action and planning together and move in and out in speed. There's a lack of communication and honesty in your love life, you need to be true to your feelings. You may hear back from an ex lover. There's a slight lack in cooperation with co-workers this month but it's just a phase. You enjoy the good things and pleasures in life this month, to live life in luxury for a time, even though at times closest relationships makes you feel restricted.

Cancer (22nd June - 23rd July)

You may be holding onto old ways of doing things which may not give the required results, don't repress your emotions or feel self-pity. There's a potential for liberation. You have a good bond with your finance so soon you'll see this grow even more. Rifts are being healed and you'll get news, alliances and hope returning. There's a chance for a new relationship or intensifying a current one. Watch out for misunderstanding in your work place.

Leo (23rd July - 22nd August)

You are breaking down any outworn sense of values. Freedom from old and any self-imposed restrictions as there's an active pursuit of an adventure with determination to succeed in your goal. The factors in your life are presenting you to have a balanced mind through logic, to fairness and equality, overall achieving a sense of balance and harmony. You may have spent too much and feel the pinch. Challenge a failed plan or think more objectively before acting to finish an already started project. A temporary position in your career and plans delayed advices you against taking anything for granted. You can work on issues that have been creating difficulties within your closest relationships.

Virgo (23rd August - 22nd September)

You can anticipate decisions and success involving money. Circumstances improve that you create a balance in what you do. There's a new beginning where you are enthusiastic to put plans into action. Your faith and confidence are growing even though memory of a difficult time still lingers. Your financial status leaves you hoarding but you are able to be more careful while handling money towards the opportunities that comes by. New beginnings are also offered in your career and overall you acknowledge the reasons behind problems and are now ready to face life.

Libra (23rd September - 23rd October)

Confused thoughts will result in scattered energy, despite all this you're a strong person able to lead and dominate circumstances. The factors happening now are consolidating the plans made and pursued to be fixed to the ground for monetary success to come. For now though your finances may still face temporary problems. You will challenge setbacks by creating something new and more realistic. Stability and familiarity are missing in your love life, you're stuck to release yourself from the past and thus ignore current opportunities. You're very cautious and unlikely to take risks this month. Too many demands are made from your family it seems so because you are going through a break through.
