Another letter of the 23d of August, states that there is rea m to believe that Mexico is making efforts to asser be an army on the frontier of Texas, for the purpose of entering its territory and holding forcible possession of it. The department trusts that efficient steps have been aken to meet and repel any hostile incursion. Or

Letters follow at brief intervals in reference to the probable hostility of Mexico, until the 13th January last, when General Taylor was instructed to occupy a position on or near the east bank of the Rio Grande, and Point leabel is indicated as an eligible spot. In a ubsequent despatch, dated March 2d, we find the fol owing :- "You cannot tail to have unely notice of authority with which you are clothed to call to yo uch auxiliany forces as you may need."

The remaining and by far the larger portion of the locuments is made up of General Taylog's communications to the war department. They narrate the articulars of his movements from the time of his de rture for Corous Christi, his arrangements there, his march for the Rio Grande, the approach of the Mexicans, the interview with their chiefs, the proclamation of Ampudia and the wholescries of events which have recently and progressively transpired, and which are too familiar to our readers to need recapita attor Up to a period within a few days of the commence ment of hostilities, General Taylor's information n regard to the movements of the Mexicans, was engue and contradictory as to induce that gallant of cer to place but little rehance in the run rmation as to the number of regular troops in Maamoros, but I am quite confident that it does not reach 2,000, and they of a very bad description, and misers by armed." The Hibernia has been due for one or two days and her intelligence will probably be received this norming by the regular mail. It was whispered about yesterday, that the news had arrived by Express, that Sir Rosest Pax, had resigned, Parliament was dis-solved, and Cotton had fallen. It is quite probable the advices were received yesterday by Express, and if so, the Piragune of this morning will, is likely, contain the accounts, as that journal habither to been exclusively, favored with foreign intell
