THE DAILY BEE. MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 14. A QUESTION TO BE SETTLED.

During the recent troubles in our effy the magnetic telegraph played a highly important role. It seemed specificially designated by those charged with the transmission of intelligence to create false impressions and desembles absolute subtribute. Some of the mendacir splendide that were carried to all parts of the country upon the wings of the telegraph were amongst the releast specimens of the inventive faculty that have been witnessed since the days of Baron Misseau. witnessed since the days of Baron Museuman-sms. We might call ad libitum from our exa the home government, or to the changes in illustration of our remarks, but 'tis hardly necessary. Not even at Mebile.
