FRANCE.

The latest news from France attest the triumph of Louis Napoleon, who has now assumed the title of Emperor. His victory, celebration, and popular adoption of principles of order and justice, and his desire to have an audience with each needs only the recognition of an Imperial crown. While we applaud the man who has shown such undaunted power while we pity and deplore the fall of the gallant nation which we have so long admired.

It is now evident that the French will not repeat a similar course at the rapid reception of their master, execution of the plan of the Emperor of France.

In this bold and wise move there is something that appeals to our sense of justice and tenderness and which we hope will limit the power of the Emperor. He has imposed, however, such severe penalties upon his subjects as have been heard of before.

He has, however, shown that he is not a tyrant, and that he respects the rights of men.

will not repeat a similar course at the rapid reception
of the Emperor of France.
