MEMORANDUM OF CONVERSATION

PARTICIPANTS: The President
 Archbishop Jean Jadot
 Monsignor Powers

DATE & TIME: ? Friday - December 14, 1973
 12:15 p.m.

PLACE: ?

Jadot: The Monsignor speaks of you and of your people who work for
_____.

President: You have _____ your _____ cause and now Washington.

Jadot: Yes.

President: Now you can bring all that experience to your position here.

Jadot: I have been very fortunate and it is a wonderful opportunity to serve here.

President: Of course, we can't neglect our local boys.

Jadot: He [Powers] is a great help.

President: But with your English you don't need a translator.

Jadot: You are very kind.

President: Actually his holiness understands English, and can speak it some also.

Powers: He is better in English privately than speaking publicly.

President: Yes, he is more relaxed about it. It is marvelous the number of languages he speaks.

Jadot: When I was in the Philippines we came there in 1970 and for the first time spoke English -- now I speak it 5 times in one day.

[The President presents cuff links to his guests.]

President: This is for Christmas _____. Even though you have no cuffs. You can put them on the wall.

Jadot & Powers: Many thanks.

President: Merry Christmas.
