If, before ... is discouraged by taking 60 Post Notes, ... possessed of a description of paper which ... will bring the money when every thing else fails. We have before suggested such a method, and are gratified to see it adopted. The plan must work well. The time of private depositis in the banks has seldom been as great as at present. This is owing to the want of confidence in Stocks or Notes. The Bonds of the U. S. Bank will no doubt bring this description of Funds into use.

The day has not closed without bringing down some very large houses, and among them the respectable firms of T. R. St. John, brokers in Wall street This house was like the Josephs, engaged extensively in receiving Southern paper of the merchants, to whom they gave their own notes, the result of which is, that the engagements are of an enormous character. The stoppage of such a house must necessarily affect many others

The firm of H. M. Andrews & Co. brokers and commission merchants, on Wall street, give public notice that they shall pay their own debts, but that their acceptances for Southern houses, will go back unless they are provided with the promised means to pay the same.

PHILADELPHIA, April 8.

Coffee—The sales have been pretty extensive, embracing 1000 bags Rio at 11a 13c; 3 to 600 Havana 11¾ a 12¾; 123 Maracaibo, price unk; and some St Domingo at 10½c per lb. By public sale, 350 bags of Rio, slightly damaged at 8¾ a 11¼c.

Flour and Meal—The tendency of flour is downward, and the demand is very limited. Sales in small parcels at $10, since $9 75, but to-day that price may be considered entirely nominal as less would be accepted. Rye Flour—sold at $6, we are not aware of more.

Leather is coming in quite freely and prices are unsettled and rather drooping

Molasses—Transactions quite extensive, but the prices have not transpired for part of the sales. Two cargoes of Havana sold, terms unk. A cargo of 224 hhds Trinidad, price not ascertained. 100 hhds Matanzas 32c 3 mos. Near 200 bbls N Orleans 37½c cash and 4 mos.

Provisions—Demand limited for Beef and Pork. We refer to Boston for some extensive sales. Prime round and 10c assorted; good western Lard—a sale at 11½c. For Butter there is still a very limited demand.

Rice—sales only in small lots at 3¾ a 4c per lb.

Sugars—Prime Muscovado is in request. Sales of about 1100 bbls and bags new crop white Brazil at 10c; 356 boxes brown Havana 7¼ a 7½c; 200 bags do. private terms not named. About 100 bbls Porto Rico and N Orleans, the former 8f for common quality, the latter at 7¼ a 7½c. By public sale 70 hhds N Orleans at 7 1-16 a 7 50 per 100 lbs, 25 hhds Auskapas 7½c 4 mos. 4 a 6.

Exchange—Very large of U S Bank Bonds at 7 per cent. premium on England. The sales of private bills have been quite small, and some of the prominent houses decline drawing at present. Some sales were made at 11 per cent. premium.

BALTIMORE, April 8.

Money—The market continues much as last week Money is scarce, but matters generally appear in a sound condition.

Exchange—Foreign—We quote Sterling Bills at 112a 112½ per cent with very moderate transaction. Domestic Exchange is rather difficult to negotiate at par, 3 per cent, on Charleston and Savannah. On new Orleans 6 a ½ per cent discount.

American Cotton Goods—The business of the week has been quiet. The jobbers, however, have been ... and a much larger portion of their sales has been for cash than at almost any former ...

Coffee—At auction yesterday the cargo of the Cal mill, consisting of 2800 bags fair quality Rio, was sold, at an average 11¾ cents, 6 months. Sales of St Domingo at 10¾ a 10¾c.

Cotton—Our supply in market but no sales of moment are making.

Howard street Flour—We find the market to day in an unsettled state. Some few sales have been made from store by the day but f. 9,50, but no transactions have taken place by which a positive wholesale price can be established. The prevailing wagon price throughout the week has been $, but dealers are generally unwilling to pay that price to day, anticipating a further decline.

Sugars—Attention on Tuesday last 140 hhds and 25 tierces of Dutch Reg. sold at 8c 6 months. May was sold at 8.50 a 10.00. On Thursday 100 hhds New Orleans to be sent to sold at auction at 6,30 a 8,10, and 9 do 157 hhds N. O. Orleans were sold at 7.60 a 7,75.—Sales of Brazil white, inferior to ordinary.

Tobacco—The receipts continue light for the season. Ground in fair good Maryland crop Tobacco are selling very slowly at rates not materially changed. Inferior qualities are entirely neglected. Ohio is not much inquired for. The receipts of the week comprise 329 hhds Maryland, 4 hhds, Ohio; and 17 hhds Kentucky—total 350 hhds.

Whiskey—The receipt of further supplies from the Susquehanna, and the resulting cheapness of spirit, have caused a corresponding decrease in prices. Limited sales of hhds can be made at 43½ cents, and of bbls at 44¼ a 45c. The wagon price of bbls is 46c exclusive of the barrel. The receipts continue heavy, comprising 1500 bbls, of which 641 hhds and 1038 bbls were received from the Susquehanna.

AUGUSTA, April 12.

Cotton—The Market dull and declining—6 to 12 ... We think a sale of a fair export can be good last, ... to cents. Not much offered, not much wanted.

CHARLESTON, April 8.

The past has been a very inactive week in commercial transactions in our city, and business is a most nearly at a stand. The panic that has prevailed other parts of the country for some months past, has a length extended its influence among ours freezing and has produced a state of things without a parallel among our business men. There are, we are happy to believe, however, that the liberal course taken by our monied institutions, will have the effect of restoring confidence in a very short time.

Cotton—The sales of Upland Cotton since our last weekly report, have been small A few purchases have been made to complete orders for the export trade, at the moment at a slight reduction on the rates of the previous week. We have understood that several holders have shipped on their own account, believing that the market has declined as low a point. In South Carolina they have no inquiry, and we report the sales of no bales 55 cents. The operations of the week in Uplands, amount to 927 bales, at the following prices: 2 at 10, 13 at 11, 102 at 12, 103 at 13; 165 at 13½; 26 at 13¾; 273 at 14; and 5 at 14¼.

Rice—There was nothing done in the Rice mark the past week, and it closed yesterday dull. Holders are storing the article as it arrives. About 80 tierces complete the operations of the week, at the following prices—10 at 3 and 37 at 3¼

MOBILE, April 13.

REMARKS.

There is no business, which may be called business transacted in market. There is a little trade to ... ... going on here and there, but it is mournful ... to look upon that, as it leads to comparisons When one contemplates the situation of a city, which has recently flourished and prospered to the pitch that all other ... population have suspended payment, it is enough ... stupefy the strongest hearts. But there is one gleam of consolation after all. We can get money at worse times for money, and if we are fairly at the bottom of the well, it may turn and we may go up. But our friends abroad may rely upon it we have tugh times here

Cotton.—The article is almost too flat to be write about. The same highest price as we may quote, is down at 13c. We report the sale of 79 bales to day, ... was the best quality cotton in market, and brought ... a 12½c. Yesterday, we reported the sale of 300 bale at 5 a 10½c. There is no inquiry, no interest accrued since the receipt of the last news from Liverpool.—There is considerable Cotton now on hand and while ... had better run for some purchaser, we apprehend ... it should be sold for the highest price ... now given. The amount is in the following pars ... gough.

NEW ORLEANS:
MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 17, 1837.

The Semisolons.

The last accounts from this quarter are given to day under the Savannah head, from which it appears that Micanopy and the other chiefs, with the famous Powell or Osceola, started from Fort Dade on the 3d for Tampa Bay on their way to the West, through New Orleans. Our fellow citizens therefore will shortly be gratified with a sight of these red cutable warriors. Osceola, in particular, is a remarkable man and will excite great attention and respect; for though he fought like a hero in the field, like a hero was an ... ious soul active to save the lives of his white captives, and on this account incurred the resentment of his more savage countrymen.

The news from Europe.

The ship Steiglitz has arrived at Boston from Liverpool, whence she sailed the 12th March. She is said to bring the following news: the truth of which we doubt as it is not mentioned in the papers brought by an arrival at Philadelphia, with dates of the 13th, the details of which we give below.

The intelligence by the vessel first named states that the English Ambassador at St Petersburg had demanded his passports, in consequence of the affair of the Vixen on the Black Sea. It also states that 12000 bales cotton had been destroyed by fire at Liverpool.

Some of the other items of intelligence brought by this vessel are ridiculous and incredible.

The Money Crisis.

We have not been able to place our profane feet sufficiently near the penetralia of the temple of Mammon to know with minuteness the secrets that have transpired, and are transpiring within. We have seen enough, however, to induce us to believe that so far as the city of New Orleans is concerned, the worst is over. What ever may happen hereafter, will be the result of what has already taken place: No new event of principal and engrossing importance can occur to create a large train of disastrous consequences. The worst is over: the greatest failures have been witnessed—there will be no more suspensions of payment for millions—there may be a few desperate cases in which hundreds of thousands are involved. But even of these last kind there are few which cannot at once be arranged. Of these institutions will act with prudence, with wisdom, with decision, above all with promptitude and unanimity—and without unanimity nothing can be done. We say the banks can avert many disasters if they choose, which without their aid, will inevitably occur—and we say further, they can do it with without risk to themselves: nay, their omission to act, would bring down heavy losses upon themselves, and upon the community of the city. But to afford effectual relief and avert otherwise inevitable calamity, there must be promptitude and perfect concert of action.—Among eastern banks and one hundred and fifty directors, unanimity is difficult, but not impossible to be attained. Among such a multitude there will be some who have not one peculiar to themselves, which their arrangements, having the air of originality, makes them more tenacious of—there are others wh see situations and forces them to express opinions on the mode of proceeding, which if carried into effect, may be beneficial to themselves, but highly injurious to the public Who would suppose, but highly ingenious as the public ... ers are, that the Bank of the U. States has ... ...
