MONDAY MORNING, REPT. 14. THE HOMESTERN MAIL CAME through yests

The mails by the steamship Trans were brought up on Saturday evening. Our dates are from Yera Cruz to the Tth inst, and from the city of Mexico to the lat. The leading item of intelligence by this arrival is the full and final settlement of the Tehunatopeo, question. The papers do little mere than afinouse the fact, but private letters state that the arrangement was concluded early in Anguert—that all other grants are annulted and ignored, and that the present concession to the Louisiana Company is on a new and independent basis, with a charter of sixty years' duration, and a concession of as much territory as may be needed for the construction of the road—and no more.

A project has been recently started for a railroad from Vera Cruz to Acapuloe, or a some other port on the Pacific, to pass by Puebla, Queretare and Guadalajars. The privilege has been conceded to Senor Escandon, and the journals speak of the enterprise in terms of high favor. Mexico gives signs of waking up.

Political troubles, however, still distract The political canvam in Louisiana is anom-alous in its absence of excitement. Our people are fund of a biennial contest, and usually contrive to get up a pretty strong head of steam. We do not remember a single State election, within the last twenty years, which was not marked by great and general animation, by strong exertions on both sides, and by sufficient uncertainty to impart to it
