GREAT SALE OF TOWN PROPERTY.

ON Monday, the 2d day of October next will commence at Columbus, Hickman Co Ky, one of the greatest sales of town property which has perhaps ever taken place, at least in the West. It will consist of about seven hundred acres in town lots in Columbus, of various sizes, from half acre and smaller lots to upwards of forty acres, of every size and situation to suit purchasers, comprising one of the best landings not only in the town of Columbus, but on the Mississippi River. The value of this property is perhaps no to be equalled by any similar unimproved property on the Mississippi River; and an opportunity is now about to be offered for one of the most valuable investments of the kind which can probably be ever made.

Columbus is the nearest eligible point for a town to the head of navigation on the main Mississippi River, being but about 20 miles below the mouth of Ohio It is universally admitted by all who have visited it to occupy one of the finest and handsomest sites in the world for a large town or city. Its landings in extent and accessibility are unrivalled by those of any place in the world. It has fine situations a so for ship, boat and dock yards. It is surrounded by a country which can compare with any in the west, or in the world for its fertility, its richness, its healthy; & is covered with the unchainable qualities of the finest timber for ship and boat building and for nearly all other purposes.

Added to all this, this place is not only by far the best and most general crossing place on the Mississippi River, below the mouth of the Ohio, having only about nine miles of bottom, easily rendered passable the year round, but it is the nearest eligible point to the centre of the Union for the future seat of general government, and must at some day become the grand intermediate port between and with the Atlantic and other ports on the waters of the Mississippi River.—Much more could be said about this place, but we deem it unnecessary. We invite those who now wish to make a profitable investment of their property to call and examine for themselves, confident that they will find what we have said about it to be true.
