The Election on the 19th.

On reference to our columns it will be seen that Judge MAURIAN has published his nominations of inspectors at the ensuing election, and has thus far complied with the opinion of the Attorney General, that he has ordered a poll to be opened in each of the 13 wards into which the city is divided. This is but just and proper, and will, in some measure, tend to facilitate the reception of the largely increased vote that may be expected to be polled on that occasion.

But the Notice of Election does not provide for a very important difficulty indicated by Mr. PRESTON, and for which that gentleman suggested a simple and efficacious remedy. We allude to the fact that several wards constitute parts of more than one representative district, and as but one box is allowed to each ward, it must necessarily contain votes for candidates in as many districts as the ward may happen to assist in forming. For the purpose of avoiding alike embarrassment and fraud, Mr. PRESTON proposed that the tickets should be stamped, and if elected off correctly on the register kept by the Clerk, there could be no possible doubt of the fairness and legality with which the election would be conducted. Judge MAURIAN's notice is altogether silent on this point. Now, it is evident that unless this plan be resorted to, gross frauds may be perpetrated with impunity. For example—a voter in the third ward, Second Municipality presents himself. He may be entitled to vote for the candidates in the Third District, but thinking that his friends there stand no chance, he may very quietly step in his suffrage for the candidate in the Second District, of which he it remembered, the second ward also forms a part. How is such a fraud to be detected. The voter cannot be compelled to open his ticket and exhibit it to the Inspectors. The only feasible means of counteracting the possibility of fraud is the adoption of the plan of stamping the ticket suggested by the Attorney General. We hope the inspectors, in all cases where a ward is divided, so as to participate in a part of two districts, will put in practice Mr. P's very sensible project. It cannot possibly meet with distraction from those who are anxious to see he election regularly and fairly conducted.

Negotiations with England.

The rumor that negotiations have been resumed at Washington for the amicable adjustment of the Oregon controversy, continues to be spread in every circle and appears to obtain almost universal credence. One of the first journals in the country to start the report was Bennett's HERALD—a paper mordinately given to propagating every description of political gossips and on dits, and extracting them in cases they should prove false, with astonishing coldness and facility. Out of such a superabundance of materials the Herald must needs occasionally stumble upon the truth, and this appears to be the case in regard to the story of the renewal of negotiations. In answer to the Herald, it must be observed that in this particular instance, it has clung very tenaciously to its original sentiment, never varying from the first account, and reiterating its correctness from day to day, with increased emphasis. In the last number of the paper—that of the 29th ult., we find the following:

"In spite of contradictions in several of the newspapers, that negotiations with England have been suspended, we reiterate our conviction that such is the fact.

"We have no reasonable doubt of the statement but the two governments are now in the most cordial attitude to each other—and that if the negotiations are not favorably begun, they are in a state of preparation, both in London and Washington, so to be considered in the most favorable position for early security and eventual settlement, if no unforeseen difficulty interferes.

"We have reasons to believe, also, that these negotiations will embrace the settlement of the Oregon boundary, as well as some new commercial regulation for increased commercial intercourse between the two nations, in the circle of breadstuffs. This last point may be a topic of negotiation, as well as of mutual legislation on both sides of the water.

"In the accuracy of these views we have not the slightest doubt. No authentic denial can be made by the representatives or organs of either government. All the points of difference may be settled in less than three months—yet they may be protracted for years, under certain contingencies."

There is plausibility in these outgivings, first because they have simultaneously appeared in three-fourths of the leading journals in the Union and secondly because the official organ of the Government at Washington has thus far, abstained from contradicting them, for indeed from noticing them in any shape or form. It seems strange enough in a matter of such moment, that the Union should pass it by in utter and profound silence—especially when it is remembered that the editor has a perfect mania for catching up every trivial piece of gossip that emanates from Washington, and denying its truth with a ludicrious assumption of extreme gravity. Perhaps the Union has received a hint from the Executive to treat the rumor with unwonted discretion.

It may well be to add in corroboration of the report, that letters have been received in this city from gentlemen of the North, who state that the Hon. DANIEL WEBSTER had written to his friends, that negotiations had been renewed, and that a fair prospect existed of a peaceful and satisfactory adjustment of the Oregon question.

Mr. Calhoun.

As the public—especially in the South—exhibit great anxiety to learn the probable course which this distinguished statesman will pursue upon the Oregon question, we extract a passage from a late letter of the temperate and well-informed correspondent of the Baltimore American, which indicates in some measure the presumed policy of Mr. CALHOUN. The writer says: "The few remarks made by Mr. CALHOUN in the Senate to-day, upon the subject of the resolutions of inquiry relative to the civil and military possession of Oregon, together with other indications of a more important character, make it certain that the Senator from South Carolina will not be influenced by any of the considerations which induced others to jump blindfold into preliminary measures of hostility. Mr. C's. opinions are now precisely what they were in 1840; that is, he is in favor of that 'wise and masterly inactivity' which, if practised, will probably place the country in possession of all that is desirable in the territory west of the Rocky Mountains. In the Senate the tone of his remarks, rather than the few words he has uttered, make it certain that he will not only not be hasty to act himself, but that he will wisely control those who are disposed to extreme action. Even the one year's notice, it is thought, he will oppose at present, regarding it as an ill-advised movement on the part of Congress."

Congress.

In the SENATE, on the 29th ult., Mr. Sevier took the Chair in the absence of the Vice President.

Mr. Ashley, of Mo., reported a bill granting preemptive rights to actual settlers on the Public Lands.

Mr. Levy asked leave, out of respect for the opinion of his friends, to withdraw his resolution proposing that the President of the United States open negotiations with Spain for the purchase of Cuba. Mr L. said he asked this leave to withdraw, not because he thought it was right, but because he deffered his own judgment to that of others, for whom he had respect. He had not designed to press his resolution to a vote before the close of the session. Leave was granted, and the resolution was withdrawn.

Mr. Atchison's Oregon resolutions, inquiring into the expediency of establishing a Territorial government over Oregon, for a civil and military jurisdiction over the same, organizing militia, erecting military posts, &c., were taken up and read a second time, when

Mr. Calhoun suggested that these resolutions contained matter of too grave a character to be acted upon immediately. He wished to postpone them to some future day, after the holidays, and desired they might be taken up in connection with a resolution introduced by Mr. Allen, giving the one year's notice of the cessation of joint occupancy, and that they should be acted upon together. He regarded them as of great importance, and worthy the careful consideration of the Senate.

Mr. Atchison was willing to acquiesce. Mr. Allen thought the subject had better be referred to the committee which had charge of other resolutions bearing upon the matter. Mr. Calhoun agreeing to this course, the resolutions were thus referred.

The Senate then went into Executive Session, and after some time spent therein, adjourned.

In the HOUSE a tedious and unprofitable debate arose on the question of electing a Superintendent of the Folding Room, which was kept up for several hours, although the whole matter involved was an expense of $2,50c a day, during the session. It was at length interrupted by the reception, from the Senate, of the bill for the extension of the laws of the United States over the State of Texas.

Mr. Rathbun moved that the bill be referred to the Judiciary Committee. Upon this motion a debate sprung, several members commending for the reference, in order to insert a clause relative to the collection of the revenue, the establishment of judicial districts, &c., and others maintaining that this could be very well accomplished by means of a supplementary bill. The motion to refer was lost, and the bill was read a third time and passed.

The discussion respecting the motion to elect a Superintendent of the Folding Room was then resumed and continued till the House was left without a quorum; when an adjournment took place.

Strange Rumor.

We find the following in the Pensacola Gazette of the 3d. The statement is directly in conflict with information received here, to the effect that Mr SLIDELL had been welcomed with demonstrated and flattering respect at Vera Cruz, and had proceeded forthwith on his way to the Capital:—

MEXICAN NEWS.—The U. S. ship St. Mary's arrived here yesterday from the Mexican coast, and as we learn, brings intelligence to the effect that our Minister, Mr. SLIDELL, on his arrival there, was notified that he could not be received as such, but would not returned, nor did we undertake to vouch for the correctness of the news, but we are disposed to credit it on account of our present relations with Great Britain, a circumstance of which Mexico would not hesitate to take advantage.
