The house met pursusition adjournment. The rolling called therry-three members answered to their being called thirty-three members answered to their nature.

The Clerk informed the House that a court martial had been held in the Hall of Representatives the pre-ceding evening. He had objected to the proceedings, and wished to know whether it could be done without the special permission of the House. A continuance of these sittings in the Hall or the Clerk's rooms, might seriously retard the progress of business. Mr Brewer stated that the court martial had received permission from the Governor to hold their sittings here. This he offered as an explanation he had been requested to make.
