

Figure 11.1 The summation of speed principle illustrated for a throwing example. Each successively distal segment begins accelerating when the contiguous, proximal one reaches its maximum.