THE DAILY BEE,
PUBLISHED BY
C. F. WEISS & CO.,
C. F. WEISS, S. HARDY,
C. DUVERGER, N. DUPUIS.
TERMS, (cash in advance) ... $
PAPER, semi-weekly, (one year in advance) ... $ 0
Country subscribers must give one week's notice of stop before they can be allowed to discontinue.

The New Orleans Bee.

OFFICE, 83 CHARTRES ST. NEW ORLEANS, TUESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 11, 1856. VOL. XVII—NEW SERIES. VOL. XXX—WHOLE NO 10,178.

THE DAILY BEE.

NEW ORLEANS, TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 11, 1856.

Subscriptions By the Week.

... are of the list are authorized to ... subscriptions by the week, at the ... Rooms.

... No. 1 ... Chartres ... person authorized ... available in the city for the ... Bee.

... Mail came through yesterday ... dates.

OPEN QUESTIONS.

... to find interesting ... Politics ... Even the victors in the ... be nearly surfeited, and ... mbed, the very mention of ... exhaustion of nausea. The ... particularly deficient in sub... concern. The Eastern ... though there are points ... struggle which ... rise to ... hereafter, peace ... Even the atrocities ... merely a languid sen... we know in ad... of the British and ... at the deeds of this ... will not impel them to do ... in courtly expostulation. ... whatever to be placed in ... difficulty between En... and Naples ... monarch who, ... sham of Providence, ... impressions and murders ... enable Neapolitans, ... abominable career too ... the presumption ... against him. ... permit to the politi... history of the Western ... preservation of peace be... importance. Neither ... at this moment ... so insignificant ... King of Naples, because ... begin, it would be im... their limit or dura... this Naples imbroglio, ... questions of the day, will ... state quo, despite the ... London Times, ... publications of Lord Pal... of foreign diplo... we hardly think ... absolute rupture. ... with Mexico which ... a long, through the ... diplomatic proceed... to be appeased by ... that the sole reason ... the plentiful lack ... to the treasury ... with which ... and she will ... Mexico, unless ... arrogant and in ... other alternative, ... her trouble ... a threatened fight ... speaking in Concert Hall, Surrey Gar... dens, when thieves raised the cry of fire, and the audience rushing towards the doors, several persons were trampled to death.

Many of the English Ministers had arrived in London.

Rupture with Naples.

England and France had suspended diplomatic intercourse with Naples, but no hostilities had occurred.

The Monsteur's announcement is as follows:

Peace having been concluded, the first care of the Congress of Paris was to insure its duration from it. With this object, the Plenipotentiaries investigated the limits of the turbance that existed in Europe, and they especially directed their attention to the condition of Italy, Greece and Belgium. The Court of Naples alone has unjustly rejected the advice of France and England, though offered in the most friendly manner. The measures of repression and coercion adopted for a long time past, as the means of administration, by the government of the Two Sicilies, continue to excite and maintain the continuance of good order in Europe. Under a conviction of the danger of such a state of things, France and England had hoped to obtain, by their advice, a ... reception accorded to our legitimate observations, the insulting doubt thrown over the purity of our intentions, the offensive language opposed to our salutary counsels, and, finally, an obstinate refusal, could not allow the longer continuance of such a state of hostility, nevertheless, for the security of the subjects, and the two governments being possibly compromised—the latter, to provide against such a contingency, have combined their squadrons, but have not sent their ships into Neapolitan waters. In order not to give room for erroneous interpretation, this simple measure of eventual protection, which has no character or menace, cannot, moreover, be considered as an act of support or encouragement to those who seek to shake the throne of the King of the Two Sicilies.

The Gazette Autrichienne says that the King of Naples has urged the Cabinets of St. Petersburg, Vienna and Berlin to conclude in favor of the integrity of the Kingdom of the Two Sicilies, a treaty analogous to that which France, England and Austria signed on the 15th of April, in favor of the integrity of the Ottoman Empire.

The latest advices from Naples, (Oct. 13th) state that the preparations for defence are redoubled. The King was expected there. No modification of the Ministry had taken place. The public funds had experienced more fluctuation, and remained at 107½. Two shocks of earthquake were felt on the 12th.

All eyes are fixed upon the fleet of the Western Powers. The Toulon Sentinelle, of Oct. 15, announces that the squadron of Admiral Necklemark is still in the Roads, where it awaits orders.

A dispatch from Marseilles, Oct. 16, says: "It is believed that the English squadron has gone to Malta. The French squadron is ready to go. Four Sardinian ships are also ready at Genoa."

The Semaphore, of Marseilles, Oct. 17, confirms the transmission of sailing orders to the English squadron. It says: "We have received letters from Ajaccio of the 13th. They inform us that an English steamer arrived on the previous evening from Marseilles, bringing dispatches for the Governor of Bastia, and that the Admiral issued orders to sail on the morning of the 13th. Two steam-frigates put to sea at 10 o'clock in the morning, and the rest of the squadron sailed in the evening. The direction taken by the squadron is unknown."

The Question of the Principalities.

Considerable doubts are expressed as to the truth of the statement that the Austrians had commenced, on the summons of France, to evacuate the Danubian Principalities.

Prussian papers announce, but it wants confirmation, that the Boundary Commission to settle the frontier line between Russia and Moldavia is dissolved without accomplishing its mission.

From Spain the intelligence is that the sequestration has been raised from Queen Christina's papers.

The Crisis in Spain.

The Gaz tte de Madrid publishes the decree relative to the retirement of the late Ministry, and the installation of the new. The resignation of the former members and the nomination of the new President of the Council are countersigned by M. Collario, Minister of Public Works. The decrees which appoint the other members are countersigned by Marshal Narvaez. The Queen declares, as is usual on such occasions in Spain, that she is well assisted with the distinguished and extraordinary services, the zeal, the intelligence and the devotion of Marshal O'Donnell."

General Dulce returns to Santander under present circumstances.

Re-Establishment of the Second Empire.

The Cologne Gazette says all the Powers, excepting the United States, have assented, or will assent, to the original protocol, of May 9, of the present year, respecting the Danish Sound Dues.

Miscellaneous News.

A Ministerial crisis and increasing financial difficulties existed at Constantinople.

A Austrian influence was on the increase in Turkish councils. The sending of troops against Montenegro has been discontinued.

Sir Minister Bulwer has actually proposed in the reinstallation of the old Ministry.

The French commercial crisis presented a slightly more favorable aspect, but anxiety still continued to be manifested.

Persia admits the mediation of France in her difficulty with Great Britain.

Hon. Thomas G. Benton will lecture in Boston before the Mercantile Library Association the coming winter. The subject is the Union, and as Mr. Benton is said to have copyrighted his production, it is believed he will deliver it in other cities besides Boston and Newburyport, where announced. In his letter acquiescing in the invitation he says:

"I believe there is a danger of dissolution, and that the first step towards averting that danger is to face it and fathom it. Aware of the depth and nature of the disease it knows, the remedy can be considered, which, with me, must be conciliation, not coercion; an application to all the feelings of patriotism, national pride, and material interest, which certainly animate the great majority in both halves of the Union, and an attempt to unite them in a course of conduct, which should have harmony and conciliation for its object."

Noah's Grave.—A mosque has been erected over the grave of the great patriarch Noah. A writer, remarking upon the fact, says: "I do not remember the exact measurement of the grave; but if this is the true sepulchre, Noah must have been a very tall man, for it certainly seemed to me, at a random guess, to be about one hundred feet in length. The old man also showed it to us and told me that this was his length as far as his knees, the rest being bent downwards. Over the grave is placed a green cloth—the favorite color of the Mohammedans—and it is visited not only by Mussulmans but by Christians."

By Telegraph.

Transmitted to the New Orleans Bee.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

Arrival of the steamer Baltic at New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The United States mail steamship Baltic, from Liverpool on the afternoon of the 29th, has arrived at this port. The Africa arrived out on the morning of the COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

COTTON.—The Africa's news caused less firmness, and the market favors the buyer, though prices are generally unchanged.

The sales of three days amounted to 31,000 bales, of which 5500 were taken on speculation, and 3000 for export.

Middling Mobile 6¾; Middling Uplands 6¾.

BREADSTUFFS.—The market closed quiet without much change. In wheat there is a better feeling, and the qualities have advanced 1d.

Richardson, Spence & Co. quote red wheat 8s. 9d. a 9s. 3d.; white wheat 9s. 9d. a 10s. 4d. Flour is quiet, Balt. and Phila. 31s. 9d. a 33s. 6d.; Ohio 35s.

Corn is generally dull—Yellow and mixed is quoted at 33s. 6d.; white 34s. a 35s. 6d. Lard is very dull at 74s.; quotations being nominal. North American tallow is steady at 57s. 6d. Common rosin 4s. 6d. Queretitron bark (Phila.) 13s. 9d. a 14s; Quercitron bark (Balt.) 12s. 6d. a 13s.

LONDON MARKET.

SUGAR.—The market is active and firm. Coffee closed firm. Linseed oil is steady at 40s. a 41s. 6d.

MONEY MARKET.

Consols for money closed at 92 a 92¼.

GENERAL NEWS.

The French Ambassador has left Naples, and it is supposed the English Minister will follow his example. The French fleet remains at Toulon, and the English at Malta. The Turkish Cabinet has resigned.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

Illinois—Chicago, Nov. 10.—Returns in full from 75 counties show Fremont 7,500 ahead. The remaining 24 counties will probably give Buchanan 10,000 majority. The Republican State ticket is 12,000 ahead.

IOWA.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Returns from Iowa show the closest and most equal contest, when compared with the vote of last August, when the State gave the Republican State ticket a handsome majority.

LOUISIANA ELECTION.

Vicksburg, Nov. 10th.—Semmes's district gives Buchanan 3500 majority.

Vicksburg, Nov. 10.—The Fanny Bullitt passed down at 8, the Magnolia at 9, P. M., the T. C. Twichell at 10, A. M., Frank Lyon at 5, J. C. Swan at 6, P. M.

MARKETS.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 10.—Flour closed dull at $5 12½ a $5 55. Whisky 26c. Groceries are active and unchanged.

RIVER INTELLIGENCE.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 10.—The river has risen four inches since yesterday noon.

ARRIVAL OF THE CANADIAN AT QUEBEC.

QUEBEC, Monday, Nov. 3.

The screw steamship Canadian arrived here this morning, bringing Liverpool dates to the 22d ult.

The steamship Canada arrived out at noon on the 19th ult.

The news, commercially speaking, is of considerable importance.

It was reported that Lord Palmerston was preparing a new Reform bill, and that Lord John Russell also threatens a similar measure.

A terrible accident had occured in London. The Rev. Mr. Sturgeon, a Baptist preacher, was speaking in Concert Hall, Surrey Gardens, when thieves raised the cry of fire, and the audience rushing towards the doors, several persons were trampled to death.

Many of the English Ministers had arrived in London.

Rupture with Naples.

England and France had suspended diplomatic intercourse with Naples, but no hostilities had occurred.

The Monsteur's announcement is as follows:

Peace having been concluded, the first care of the Congress of Paris was to insure its duration from it. With this object, the Plenipotentiaries investigated the limits of the disturbance that existed in Europe, and they especially directed their attention to the condition of Italy, Greece and Belgium. The Court of Naples alone has unjustly rejected the advice of France and England, though offered in the most friendly manner. The measures of repression and coercion adopted for a long time past, as the means of administration, by the government of the Two Sicilies, continue to excite and maintain the continuance of good order in Europe. Under a conviction of the danger of such a state of things, France and England had hoped to obtain, by their advice, a ... reception accorded to our legitimate observations, the insulting doubt thrown over the purity of our intentions, the offensive language opposed to our salutary counsels, and, finally, an obstinate refusal, could not allow the longer continuance of such a state of hostility, nevertheless, for the security of the subjects, and the two governments being possibly compromised—the latter, to provide against such a contingency, have combined their squadrons, but have not sent their ships into Neapolitan waters. In order not to give room for erroneous interpretation, this simple measure of eventual protection, which has no character or menace, cannot, moreover, be considered as an act of support or encouragement to those who seek to shake the throne of the King of the Two Sicilies.

The Gazette Autrichienne says that the King of Naples has urged the Cabinets of St. Petersburg, Vienna and Berlin to conclude in favor of the integrity of the Kingdom of the Two Sicilies, a treaty analogous to that which France, England and Austria signed on the 15th of April, in favor of the integrity of the Ottoman Empire.

The latest advices from Naples, (Oct. 13th) state that the preparations for defence are redoubled. The King was expected there. No modification of the Ministry had taken place. The public funds had experienced more fluctuation, and remained at 107½. Two shocks of earthquake were felt on the 12th.

All eyes are fixed upon the fleet of the Western Powers. The Toulon Sentinelle, of Oct. 15, announces that the squadron of Admiral Necklemark is still in the Roads, where it awaits orders.

A dispatch from Marseilles, Oct. 16, says: "It is believed that the English squadron has gone to Malta. The French squadron is ready to go. Four Sardinian ships are also ready at Genoa."

The Semaphore, of Marseilles, Oct. 17, confirms the transmission of sailing orders to the English squadron. It says: "We have received letters from Ajaccio of the 13th. They inform us that an English steamer arrived on the previous evening from Marseilles, bringing dispatches for the Governor of Bastia, and that the Admiral issued orders to sail on the morning of the 13th. Two steam-frigates put to sea at 10 o'clock in the morning, and the rest of the squadron sailed in the evening. The direction taken by the squadron is unknown."

The Question of the Principalities.

Considerable doubts are expressed as to the truth of the statement that the Austrians had commenced, on the summons of France, to evacuate the Danubian Principalities.

Prussian papers announce, but it wants confirmation, that the Boundary Commission to settle the frontier line between Russia and Moldavia is dissolved without accomplishing its mission.

From Spain the intelligence is that the sequestration has been raised from Queen Christina's papers.

The Crisis in Spain.

The Gaz tte de Madrid publishes the decree relative to the retirement of the late Ministry, and the installation of the new. The resignation of the former members and the nomination of the new President of the Council are countersigned by M. Collario, Minister of Public Works. The decrees which appoint the other members are countersigned by Marshal Narvaez. The Queen declares, as is usual on such occasions in Spain, that she is well assisted with the distinguished and extraordinary services, the zeal, the intelligence and the devotion of Marshal O'Donnell."

General Dulce returns to Santander under present circumstances.

Re-Establishment of the Second Empire.

The Cologne Gazette says all the Powers, excepting the United States, have assented, or will assent, to the original protocol, of May 9, of the present year, respecting the Danish Sound Dues.

Miscellaneous News.

A Ministerial crisis and increasing financial difficulties existed at Constantinople.

A Austrian influence was on the increase in Turkish councils. The sending of troops against Montenegro has been discontinued.

Sir Minister Bulwer has actually proposed in the reinstallation of the old Ministry.

The French commercial crisis presented a slightly more favorable aspect, but anxiety still continued to be manifested.

Persia admits the mediation of France in her difficulty with Great Britain.

Hon. Thomas G. Benton will lecture in Boston before the Mercantile Library Association the coming winter. The subject is the Union, and as Mr. Benton is said to have copyrighted his production, it is believed he will deliver it in other cities besides Boston and Newburyport, where announced. In his letter acquiescing in the invitation he says:

"I believe there is a danger of dissolution, and that the first step towards averting that danger is to face it and fathom it. Aware of the depth and nature of the disease it knows, the remedy can be considered, which, with me, must be conciliation, not coercion; an application to all the feelings of patriotism, national pride, and material interest, which certainly animate the great majority in both halves of the Union, and an attempt to unite them in a course of conduct, which should have harmony and conciliation for its object."

Noah's Grave.—A mosque has been erected over the grave of the great patriarch Noah. A writer, remarking upon the fact, says: "I do not remember the exact measurement of the grave; but if this is the true sepulchre, Noah must have been a very tall man, for it certainly seemed to me, at a random guess, to be about one hundred feet in length. The old man also showed it to us and told me that this was his length as far as his knees, the rest being bent downwards. Over the grave is placed a green cloth—the favorite color of the Mohammedans—and it is visited not only by Mussulmans but by Christians."

Telegraphic Items.

POLITICAL SPIRIT IN PHILADELPHIA.—Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—The congregation of the Church of the Epiphany (Protestant Episcopal) held an election to decide the question whether the vestry should be sustained in the rebuke given to the Pastor, Rev. Dudley A. Tyng, for preaching a political sermon some time ago. The vote stood for the vestry 57, against 44.

This involves the resignation of the Pastor, agreeably to his declarations previously announced, that if not sustained by the congregation he would resign. Many of those who voted against him, mostly did so out of attachment to the Pastor, while they disapproved of the course he had seen fit to pursue.

ELECTION RETURNS IN NEW YORK.—New York, Nov. 4, 3 o'clock P. M.—Reports are in circulation of serious riots in the down-town wards, and in one or two of the up-town districts.

The parties in the collision are the friends of Messrs. Wood and Libby, the opposing Democratic candidates for Mayor. Several persons have been injured by pistol shots.

In some districts the polling places have been destroyed. Warrants are out for the ringleaders.

FRAUDULENT NATURALIZATION PAPERS.—New York, Nov. 4.—A number of indictments have been found in the United States District Court for this city for forging naturalization papers. The names of the guilty parties are not disclosed, from prudential considerations, but the proofs are said to be such as indicate that stupendous frauds on the right of suffrage have been in contemplation.

FROM KANSAS.—New York, Nov. 4.—The Times's special Kansas correspondent states that the Free State Convention met at Big Springs on the 26th ult., and nominated Ex-Gov. Reeder for a delegate to Congress. A resolution censuring Gov. Geary was postponed.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Cincinnati, Nov. 4.—A derrick used in the direction of the Covington bridge on this side of the river fell yesterday, killing one man and wounding three others.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—Cincinnati, O., Nov. 3.—There was a large fire at Bellefontaine, Ohio, on Saturday night, which destroyed from fifteen to twenty buildings. Including the entire business part of the town. Among those destroyed were the Postoffice and Exchange Bank. The loss is variously estimated at from fifty to one hundred thousand dollars. There were no engines in town.

NOVEL BALLOON ASCENSION.—Philadelphia, Nov. 3, 1856.—Messrs. Samuel Jacobs, Albert Rogers and Samuel Strother ascended in a balloon with Monsieur Godard, at one o'clock in the afternoon, on a private excursion, designing to reach New York, the wind being favorable.

DEATH OF AN EMINENT MAN.—Boston, Nov. 3.—Hon. Samuel Hoar died yesterday at Concord, in this State.

FRAUDULENT NATURALIZATION PAPERS.—Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—Theodore Derringer was held to bail this afternoon on a charge of issuing fraudulent naturalization papers to parties that had never declared their intention to become citizens. It was first exhibited Derringer's signature and the seal of the court.

An Extraordinary Duel.

We learn by a letter from Memphis, of the 16th inst., that a duel was fought in the vicinity of that city on the day previous. It seems that on the late trip of the steamer North Star from New Orleans to this place, two of the passengers, Col. Charles Burgthas, from Philadelphia, and Major Biegler, of Boston, who had been both on an electioneering tour, and were old friends, having both served in the European armies, got into a very warm discussion, the one defending Democracy and the other Republicanism, which resulted in offensive language of a personal character against Col. Burgthas. In the presence of many passengers the latter felt it incumbent on him to demand a retraction of the insulting matter, which being denied, a challenge and acceptance to fight was soon settled upon. Two Hungarian officers named S. Szaby and T. Shultez, lately in the service of Walker at Nicaragua, who were passengers on the boat, volunteered as seconds. Pistols and fifteen paces were the terms proposed, but strange to say, the seconds, the master of the boat, and all the passengers, including many ladies, opposed the proposition, and contended that the fight should be had with swords. The Hungarians ordered their sabres, and the next day, on reaching Memphis, the parties landed, and procuring the attendance of Dr. Hill, also a passenger on the boat, proceeded to some grounds adjoining the city, accompanied by many of the lady and gentleman passengers. The duel was then fought with great fierceness, and resulted in the defeat of Major Beigler, who, by the superior skill of his adversary, received two terrible cuts, one on his cheek and the other on his chb, causing him to drop on the field. Returning to the boat, the wounds of the Major were dressed, and the gratification of the parties was complete, being satisfied.

Col. Burgthas shortly ... speech to the passengers ... coerse, and defending ... for the disabled condition of his chin.

Both gentlemen displayed great gallantry in the field, and were consequently escorted back to the boat by the spectators.

We suspect the above to be a hoax. At all events, it is the first time we have heard of it, and the St. Louis Democrat is the only paper which has the news.

THE SEA SERPENT EXPLAINED.—Mr. Metcalf, the pleasant author of "Yankee Ingenuity in Norway," relates how he met with the sea serpent in this manner: "Casting my eyes lazily from this noble sight along the base of the stupendous barrier of rocks that girdled that side of the Fiord, which was in deep shadow, and just as a mile-post, I became aware that something was slowly moving along in the water close to the rocks, at the distance of some quarter of a mile from where I was. What the object, seemingly about sixty feet long, as well as I could judge. I could not see its whole shape at once, for the head and tail it kept partially appearing and disappearing as it glided along. It could not be a fish, for no fish would move in that manner; nothing but a serpent would thus advance, contracting and expanding the muscles of its back. A few days after, as I stood on the shore, to my great delight I saw him again. He was not far out at sea, and was proceeding in the same leisurely manner, though the pace was decidedly improved. This time I fortunately had my telescope with me, which I lost no time in adjusting, being determined to send a description of the beast to the Linnæan, or some other society. On examination, I found that it was half a dozen porpoises following close to each other, whose resplendent backs, as they went up and down, I had mistaken for the connected whole of one tremendous snake."

THE NEW METAL ALCHEMIX.—It will be interesting to both commercial and scientific men to learn that, in Yale last, Messrs. Rand and Rahr, a Danish house, sent out their brig Scandinavian, Captain Brockdorf, to Arktek Fiord, in latitude 78° degrees 20 min. on the West coast of Greenland, for the purpose of bringing back minerals, and especially cryolite, for the purpose of Messrs. Rand and Rahr, as they have peculiar privileges had at different times been granted by the King of Denmark to individual and associated business men; and that Messrs. Rand and Co. have received information from Messrs. C. F. Pintgen and Co., to whom the brig was consigned at Copenhagen, at her safe arrival in that city on the 21st of September, after a voyage of only twelve days, (the shortest on record) with a full load of cryolite. This is the first cargo of cryolite received from Greenland, which is the only country where, as yet, it has been found. It is a mineral compound, we believe, of sodium, aluminum, and fluorine; but the results of analyses are given in "Ure's System of Mineralogy." M. de Lille, of Paris, has discovered a process by which alumina may be obtained from it cheaply, and so as to afford it at as low a price per ounce as a penny per ounce. The further use of it is